PREFACE

THE present work is based on my abridgement, with additions (1886), of Max Müller's Sanskrit Grammar (2nd ed., 1870). It is practically a new book. The old matter has been entirely recast, having been shortened and extended, arranged and formulated anew. Little has remained unaltered except those paradigms for which, in my opinion, no better ones could have been substituted.

The main additions embrace those parts of the grammar which I considered I had previously not treated in sufficient detail. Thus I have added a full paradigm of the passive (p. 127) and seven new paradigms of the reduplicated perfect (pp. 110–112). The largest additions, amounting altogether to about eighteen pages, have been made in the section on particles and the chapters on compounds and syntax. These portions of the book have at the same time, I think, been greatly improved in lucidity.

The omissions are also considerable. My guiding principle has been to leave out all matter that is to be found exclusively in Vedic literature or in the Hindu grammarians. For it has been my aim to describe only those grammatical forms which are to be met with in the actual literature of post-Vedic Sanskrit. This has sometimes led to considerable simplification; for instance, the account of the unchangeable bases in declension here occupies only five and a half pages, as compared with nine in my former grammar. The student is thus not burdened with rules which can never be of any use to him. I have refrained from employing, even in a paradigm, any word which cannot be quoted from the literature; but, for the sake of completeness, individual forms have often had to be given which are represented only by other words of the same type.

Long experience in teaching has further enabled me to formulate rules with greater exactness as well as to group them with greater clearness; as, for instance, in my account of the strong and weak bases of the reduplicated perfect and their irregularities (pp. 107–109, 112).

By these means I hope to have smoothed the path, hitherto unnecessarily thorny, of the beginner of Sanskrit, while providing him with the full grammatical equipment necessary for reading and understanding any Sanskrit text.

As an introduction to the subject, I prefix a short sketch of the history of Sanskrit grammar down to the present time. From this it will appear that the Hindu grammatical system is by no means adapted to European methods of teaching and learning. The native system is a study by itself, involving great labour, and hardly to be mastered by European scholars without devoting themselves to it for some years in India itself. It cannot be doubted that European Sanskrit grammars are still too much under the influence of that system. Even the present work will probably not be entirely exempt from this criticism. I have, for instance, followed the native grammarians in quoting certain roots with a long instead of a short ṛ vowel. This distinction, though scientifically worthless, seemed, however, to be of sufficient practical value to deserve retention.

The late Prof. Benfey used to say that he often thought it would be preferable to begin the study of the ancient language of India with its oldest phase. It seems to me, however, that the exuberance of Vedic forms would be too bewildering at the outset, and that the simpler and more regulated grammar of the later language is better adapted for the beginner. When that has been fully acquired, the additional forms of Vedic grammar can easily be learnt. As a help in this direction I have in Appendix III summarized the main differences between Vedic and classical Sanskrit.

As regards transliteration, I have abandoned the late Prof. Max Müller's system, following that adopted by the Oriental Congress held at Geneva in 1894, by the German Oriental Society, by the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland, by the late Prof. Bühler in his Encyclopaedia of Indo-Aryan research, and by many individual Sanskrit scholars in their own works. This system includes the use of ṛ (pronounced with a syllabic value, as the r in French chambre) to represent the weak grade of the syllables ar and ra. The transliteration ṛi misrepresents the original value of this vowel. The grammar is transliterated throughout, excepting the list of verbs (Appendix I) and the syntactical examples at the end of the book. This exception is due to the experience that beginners are apt to become too dependent on transliteration. But even here when the Sandhi is difficult, I have given help by separating the words as far as possible and by adding the transliteration of single words here and there. Besides, by the time the student reaches the end of the grammar, he ought to be able to read the Devanāgarī character with some ease.

Though the accent is never marked in post-Vedic Sanskrit, I have indicated it, owing to its philological importance, in all transliterated words, as far as it can be ascertained from Vedic texts. A short account of the Vedic accent is given in Appendix III.

The works to which I am indebted in preparing this new form of my grammar, are Wackernagel's Altindische Grammatik, vol. I (phonology), Whitney's Sanskrit Grammar, and Speijer's Sanskrit Syntax.

In a work which, like the present, is primarily meant for beginners, freedom even from small errors, misprints, and inconsistencies, becomes a matter of great importance. If the grammar should prove to be specially accurate in this respect, a considerable share of the credit will be due to Mr. R. C. S. Keith, B.A., of Trinity College, and Mr. A. B. Keith, B.A., of Balliol College, who though preparing for or engaged in stiff Civil Service examinations while the book was passing through the press, were unselfish enough to read carefully at least one proof of each sheet. They discovered several mistakes which had escaped my notice, besides making some useful suggestions which I have adopted. The final gleaning of error was reserved for Mr. J. C. Pembrey, the Oriental Reader of the Clarendon Press. His keen eye has detected many additional misprints and inconsistencies, which could have been found only by one who has had the unique experience (extending over fifty-four years) of reading in proof the Sanskrit grammars written by each of the three successive occupants of the Boden chair at Oxford. He began with the second edition of Prof. H. H. Wilson's Grammar, which he corrected together with his father in 1847.

INTRODUCTION

BRIEF HISTORY OF SANSKRIT GRAMMAR

THE first impulse to the study of grammar in India was given by the religious motive of preserving intact the sacred Vedic texts, the efficacy of which was believed to require attention to every letter. Thus, aided by the great transparency of the Sanskrit language, the ancient Indian grammarians had by the fifth century B. C. arrived at scientific results unequalled by any other nation of antiquity. It is, for instance, their distinctive achievement to have recognized that words for the most part consist on the one hand of roots, and on the other of affixes, which, when compounded with the former, modify the radical sense in various ways.

The oldest grammar which has been preserved is that of Pāṇini. It already represents a fully developed system, and its author stands at the end of a long line of predecessors, of whom no fewer than sixty-four are mentioned, and the purely grammatical works of all of whom, owing to the excellence and comprehensiveness of his work, have entirely perished.

Pāṇini is considerably later than Yāska (probably about 500 B. C.), whom he mentions, and between whom and himself a good number of important grammarians intervene. On the other hand, Pāṇini is much older than his interpreter Patañjali, who probably dates from the latter half of the second century B. C., the two being separated by another eminent grammarian, Kātyāyana. Pāṇini himself uses the word yavanānī, which Kātyāyana explains as 'writing of the Yavanas' (i. e. Iāones or Greeks). Now it is not at all likely that the Indians should have become acquainted with Greek writing before the invasion of Alexander in 327 B. C. But the natives of the extreme north-west, of whom Pāṇini in all probability was one, would naturally have become acquainted with it soon after that date. They must, however, have grown familiar with it before a grammarian would make a rule as to how to form from Yavana, 'Greek,' a derivative form meaning 'Greek writing.' It seems therefore hardly possible to place Pāṇini earlier than about 300 B. C.

Pāṇini's grammar consists of nearly 4000 rules divided into eight chapters. Being composed with the utmost imaginable brevity, each Sūtra or aphorism usually consists of only two or three words, and the whole work, if printed continuously in medium-sized Devanāgarī type, would not occupy more than about thirty-five pages of the present volume. And yet this grammar describes the entire Sanskrit language in all the details of its structure, with a completeness which has never been equalled elsewhere. It is at once the shortest and fullest grammar in the world.

In his endeavour to give an exhaustive survey of the bhāṣā or classical Sanskrit with a view to correct usage, Pāṇini went on to include within the scope of his grammar the language of the sacred texts, which was no longer quite intelligible. He accordingly gives hundreds of rules about the Veda, but without completeness. His account of the Vedic language, taken as a whole, contains many gaps, trifles often being noticed, while important matters are omitted. In this part of his work Pāṇini shows a decided incapacity to master his subject-matter, attributing to the Veda the most unbounded grammatical license, especially in interchanging or dropping inflexions.

The grammar of Pāṇini is a śabdānuśāsana, or 'Treatise on Words,' the fundamental principle of which is, that all nouns are derived from verbs. Starting with the simplest elements into which words can be analyzed, root, affix and termination, Pāṇini shows how nominal and verbal stems are formed from roots and complete words from stems. He at the same time indicates the functions which words acquire by the addition of formative elements and by being compounded with other words. It is a peculiarity of Pāṇini's word-formation, that he recognizes derivation by suffixes only. Thus when a verbal root like bhid, 'to pierce,' is used in the nominal sense of 'piercer,' he has recourse to the highly artificial expedient of assuming an imaginary suffix, for which a blank is substituted!

Yāska records that the universality of Śākaṭāyana's principle of nouns being derived from verbs was contested by Gārgya, who objected to the forced etymologies to which a general application of this principle led. Gārgya maintained that if aśva, 'horse,' for instance, were derived from aś, 'to travel,' not only would everything that travels be called aśva, and everything would be called after all its activities, but states of being (bhāva) would be antecedent to things.

Pāṇini makes a concession to Gārgya's objection by excluding all words the derivation of which is difficult owing to their form or meaning, as is the case in aśva, 'horse,' go, 'cow,' and puruṣa, 'man.' Primary nouns of this kind had been collected before Pāṇini's time in a special list, in which they were often forcibly derived from verbal roots by means of a number of special suffixes. The first of these suffixes being u, technically called uṇ, the whole list of these formations received the name of uṇādis ('beginning with uṇ'). Pāṇini refers to all such words as ready-made stems, the formation of which does not concern him.

The uṇādi list which Pāṇini had before him survives, in a somewhat modified form, as the Uṇādi Sūtra with the commentary (dating probably from the thirteenth century) of Ujjvaladatta. In its extant shape this Sūtra contains some late words, such as dīnāra (Lat. denarius), a noun which cannot have come into use in India much before 200 A.D.

The proper object of Pāṇini's grammar being derivation, he does not deal with phonetics as such, but only incidentally as affecting word-formation or the combination of words in a sentence. He therefore does not give general rules of phonetic change, but as his analyses, unlike those of the Uṇādi Sūtra, move within the bounds of probability and are generally correct, being in many cases confirmed by comparative philology, he actually did discover several phonetic laws. The most important of these was the interchange of vowels with their strong grades guṇa and vṛddhi (cp. § 17), which Grimm called ablaut, and which comparative grammar proves to go back to the original Indo-European language. The other great phonetic discoveries of the Indians had already been made by Pāṇini's predecessors, the authors of the original Prātiśākhyas, the phonetic treatises of the Vedic schools.

Pāṇini also treats of the accents of words in derivation and in the sentence, but with syntax in our sense he does not deal, perhaps owing to the simplicity of the sentence in Sanskrit.

The general plan of Pāṇini's work is as follows:—Book i. contains the technical terms of the grammar and its rules of interpretation; ii. deals with nouns in composition and case relations; iii. teaches how suffixes are to be attached to verbal roots; iv. and v. the same with regard to nominal bases; vi. and vii. describe the accent and phonetic changes in the formation of words, while viii. treats of words in a sentence. This general plan is, however, constantly interrupted by single rules or by a series of rules, which were added by the author as a result of progressive grammatical studies, or transferred from their natural context to their present position in order to save words.

In formulating his rules, Pāṇini makes it his aim to express them in as abstract and general a way as possible. In this he occasionally goes so far as to state a general rule for a single case; while, on the other hand, he sometimes fails to bring a number of related phenomena under a single head.

In carrying out the principle of extreme conciseness which dominates his grammar, Pāṇini resorts to various devices, such as ellipse of the verb, the use of the cases in a special technical sense, and the employment of heading rules (adhikāra) which must be supplied with a number of subordinate rules that follow. By such means a whole rule can often be expressed by a single word. Thus the ablative dhātoḥ, literally 'after a root,' not only means 'to a root the following suffixes are attached,' but is also an adhikāra which extends its influence (anuvṛtti) over some 540 subsequent aphorisms.

The principle of brevity is, moreover, notably applied in the invention of technical terms. Those of his terms which are full words, whether they describe the phenomenon, as sam-āsa, 'compound,' or express a category by an example, as dvi-gu ('two-cow'), 'numeral compound,' are probably all borrowed from predecessors. But most of his technical terms are arbitrary groups of letters resembling algebraic symbols. Only a few of these are abbreviations of actual words, as it, 'indicatory letter,' from iti, 'thus.' Most of them are made up with great deliberation, chiefly with letters of rare occurrence in the language. Thus the letter l was taken as a symbol of the personal endings of the verb; combined with a cerebral ṭ it refers to a primary tense or mood, combined with a guttural ṅ to a secondary tense or mood. Thus laṭ, liṭ, luṭ, leṭ, mean present, perfect, future, and subjunctive respectively; laṅ, luṅ, liṅ, imperfect, aorist, and potential.

Pāṇini's grammar begins with the alphabet arranged on scientific principles. To several of its letters is attached an it or anubandha (indicatory letter), by means of which can be formed convenient contractions (called pratyāhāra) designating different groups of letters. The vowels are arranged thus: a i u-ṇ, ṛ ḷ-k, e o-ṅ, ai au-c. All the simple vowels can be expressed by ak, the simple vowels together with the diphthongs by ac. As the last letter in Sanskrit is h, written ha-l, the entire alphabet is expressed by the symbol al (much as if we were to do so by az). Indicatory letters are also attached to suffixes, roots, and words to indicate certain rules applicable to them, thus aiding the memory as well as promoting brevity.

There are two appendices to Pāṇini's work, to which it refers. One of these is the Dhātu-pāṭha, or 'List of Verbal Roots,' arranged according to conjugational classes, the mode of inflexion being expressed by accents and indicatory letters. It is a striking fact about this collection, that out of the 2000 roots it contains, only about 800 have been found in Sanskrit literature, while it omits about fifty Vedic verbs. The second appendix is the Gaṇa-pāṭha, or 'List of Word-groups.' Pāṇini gives rules applicable to the whole of a group by referring to its first word. This collection, which contains many words occurring in Vedic works only, has been less well preserved than the Dhātu-pāṭha. The Gaṇas were metrically arranged in the Gaṇa-ratna-mahodadhi, a work composed by Vardhamāna in 1140 A. D.

Pāṇini's work very early acquired a canonical value, and has continued, for at least 2000 years, to be the standard of usage and the foundation of grammatical studies in Sanskrit. On account of the frequent obscurity of a work which sacrifices every consideration to brevity, attempts soon began to be made to explain it, and, with the advance of grammatical knowledge, to correct and supplement its rules. Among the earliest attempts of this kind was the formulation, by unknown authors, of rules of interpretation (paribhāṣā), which Pāṇini was supposed to have followed in his grammar, and which are mentioned by his successor Kātyāyana. A collection of such rules was made in the eighteenth century by Nāgoji-bhaṭṭa in his Paribhāṣendu-śekhara.

Next we have the Vārttikas, or 'notes' (from vṛtti, 'explanation'), of Kātyāyana, on 1245, or nearly one-third, of Pāṇini's aphorisms. That grammarian belonged to the Deccan, and probably lived in the third century B. C. When Kātyāyana's criticism shows him to differ from Pāṇini, an oversight on the part of the latter is usually to be assumed; but in estimating the extent of such oversights, the fact should not be left out of account that Kātyāyana lived both later and in a part of India which was far removed from that of Pāṇini. Other grammarians made similar notes on Pāṇini both before and after Kātyāyana; subsequent to the latter's time are the numerous grammatical Kārikās or comments in metrical form.

All this critical work was collected by Patañjali in his extensive Mahābhāṣya, or 'Great Commentary,' with many supplementary notes of his own. His discussions take the form of a kind of dialogue, and deal with 1713 rules of Pāṇini. Patañjali's work probably dates, as has been said, from the latter half of the second century B. C. The Mahābhāṣya in its turn was commented upon in the seventh century by Bhartṛhari in his Vākyapadīya, which is concerned with the philosophy of grammar, and by Kaiyaṭa probably in the thirteenth century.

About 650 A. D. was composed another commentary on Pāṇini, the Kāśikā Vṛtti, or 'Benares Commentary,' the first five books being the work of Jayāditya, the last three of Vāmana. Based on a deteriorated text of Pāṇini, it contains some errors, but has the merit of conciseness and lucidity. Though much shorter than the Mahābhāṣya, it is particularly valuable as the oldest commentary on Pāṇini that explains every Sūtra. The examples which it gives in illustration are, as a rule, derived from older interpreters. To do so was a usual practice; even Patañjali speaks of stock examples as mūrdhābhiṣikta, or 'consecrated' (lit. 'sprinkled on the head').

In the fifteenth century Rāmacandra endeavoured in his Prakriyā-kaumudī, or 'Moonlight of Method,' to make Pāṇini's grammar more intelligible by a more practical arrangement of its matter. The Siddhānta-kaumudī, or 'Moonlight of Settled Conclusions,' in which Bhaṭṭoji in the seventeenth century disposed Pāṇini's Sūtras in a more natural order, had a similar aim. An abridgement of the latter work, entitled Laghu-(siddhānta-)kaumudī by Varadarāja, is commonly employed as a useful introduction to the native system of grammar. A belief in the infallibility of Pāṇini, which still prevails among the Pandits, has often led the above-named interpreters, from Patañjali onwards, to give forced explanations of Pāṇini's rules.

Other later grammarians, not belonging to the school of Pāṇini, are on the whole of little importance. While adducing hardly any new material, they are much less complete than Pāṇini, as they leave out whole sections, such as rules about Vedic forms and the accent. Introducing no new points of view, they aim solely at inventing technical devices, or at presenting their subject in a more lucid and popular form. Among these non-Pāṇinian grammars may be mentioned the names of Candra, who flourished about 480 A.D.; the pseudo-Śākaṭāyana, who was posterior to the Kāśikā Vṛtti; and the most important of them, Hemacandra, who belongs to the twelfth century. The Kātantra of Śarvavarman, whose terminology has striking affinities with older works, especially the Prātiśākhyas, seems to have been the most influential of these later grammars. It served as a model for the standard Pāli grammar of Kaccāyana, and the native grammars of the Dravidians and Tibetans. Vopadeva's Mugdha-bodha, or 'Enlightenment of the Ignorant,' a very technical work dating from the thirteenth century, has been, down to the present day, the Sanskrit grammar chiefly used in Bengal. Lastly, we have the Sarasvatī Sūtra, or 'Aphorisms of the Sarasvatī Grammar,' by an unknown author, a work distinguished by lucidity as well as conciseness.

There are, besides, a few works dealing with special departments of the subject, which form contributions of some importance to our knowledge of Sanskrit grammar. The Phiṭ Sūtra of Śāntanava, composed later than the Mahābhāṣya, but at a time when there was still a living knowledge of the ancient accent, gives rules for the accentuation of nouns, not according to the analytical method of Pāṇini, but with reference to the finished word. As Pāṇini does not determine the gender of individual words, though he treats of feminine suffixes and does not ignore differences of gender in general, some value attaches to works dealing with the subject as a whole, especially to Hemacandra's Liṅgānuśāsana, or 'Treatise on Gender.'

The first Sanskrit grammar ever written by a European was composed by the German missionary Heinrich Roth, a native of Augsburg, who died at Agra in 1668, as Superior of the Jesuit College in that city. This work was never published, but the manuscript is still preserved at Rome. There is, however, in Kircher's China Illustrata (Amsterdam, 1667), pp. 162–163, a contribution by Roth, which contains an account of the Sanskrit alphabet with four tables in Devanāgarī characters (undoubtedly the earliest specimens of that script to be found in any printed book)[1].

The first printed European Sanskrit grammar was that of Paulinus a Sancto Bartholomaeo, written in Latin and published at Rome in 1790. This work was based partly on the MS. material left by a German Jesuit missionary named Hanxleden, who died in 1732. The first scientific grammar aiming at completeness was that of Colebrooke, published in 1805. It was followed by that of Carey in 1806. The former work was based on Pāṇini, the latter on Vopadeva. The earliest Sanskrit grammar written on European principles, and therefore of most influence on the study of Sanskrit at the beginning of the last century, was that of Wilkins (1808). The most notable among his successors have been Bopp, Benfey, and Whitney. Bopp's grammar was important owing no less to its lucidity than to its philological method. Benfey was the first to combine with the traditional material of Pāṇini a treatment of the peculiarities of the Vedic and the Epic dialects. He also largely used the aid of comparative philology for the explanation of Sanskrit forms. The American scholar Whitney was the first to attempt an historical grammar of Sanskrit by treating the Vedic language exhaustively, and explaining from it the development of classical Sanskrit. The first grammar treating Sanskrit entirely from the comparative point of view is the excellent work of Prof. J. Wackernagel, of which, however, only the first part, dealing with phonology, has yet appeared.

The best known of the Sanskrit grammars used in this country during the last half-century are those of Monier Williams and Max Müller. Both of these contain much matter derived from the native system which is of no practical utility, but rather an impediment, to the student of literary Sanskrit. All such matter has been rejected in the present work, not from any prejudice against the Hindu grammarians, but solely with the intention of facilitating the study of the subject by supplying only those grammatical data of the actual language which have been noted by scholars down to the present time. If the book should not appear in regard to terminology and method to be sufficiently emancipated from the influence of native tradition, the defect is due to the fear of rejecting, along with what is undoubtedly useless, that which might prove of practical value to the student in acquiring a thorough knowledge of Sanskrit grammar.

CHAPTER I

THE ALPHABET

1. Sanskrit (from saṃ-skṛta, 'elaborated') is that later phase of the literary language of ancient India which is described in the grammar of Pāṇini. In phonology it is practically identical with the earlier Vedic language. In accidence it has become different from the dialect of the Vedas by a process, not of growth, but of decay; a large number of older forms, including the whole subjunctive mood and all the many infinitives save one, having entirely disappeared. The chief modifications are in the vocabulary, which has been greatly extended by the accession of new words and new meanings. The difference, on the whole, between the Vedic and the Sanskrit language may be taken to be much about the same as that between Homeric and Attic Greek.

2. From the Vedic language are descended the popular dialects called Prākrit. The oldest of these is the Pāli, which is preserved in King Aśoka's rock inscriptions of the third century B.C., and which is the sacred language of the Southern Buddhists. From the ancient Prākrits, preserved in inscriptions, entire literary works, and parts of Sanskrit plays, are descended most of the dialects of modern India, Panjābī, Sindhī, Gujarātī, Marāṭhī, Hindī (which, with an admixture of Arabic and Persian, is called Urdū or Hindūstānī), Bihārī, and Bengālī. The Dravidian dialects of Southern India, Telugu, Tamil, Canarese, Malayālam, though non-Aryan, are full of Sanskrit words, and their literature is dominated by Sanskrit models.

3. A form of Semitic writing was introduced into the north-west of India by way of Mesopotamia, probably about 700 B.C. The earliest Indian adaptation of this script, known from coins and inscriptions of the third century B.C., is called Brāhmī or 'writing of Brahmā.' Though written from left to right it bears clear traces of having once been written from right to left. From the Brāhmī are descended all the later Indian scripts. The most important of these is the Nāgarī ('urban' writing) or Deva-nāgarī ('divine city' writing), which assumed its characteristic shape about the eighth century A.D. Sanskrit is most commonly written in Devanāgarī in Northern India, but other modern Indian characters, such as Bengālī, are also employed in their respective provinces; while in the non-Aryan south the Dravidian scripts are regularly used.

4. The Devanāgarī alphabet consists of forty-eight letters, thirteen vowels, and thirty-five consonants (including the pure nasal called Anusvāra, and the spirant called Visarga). These represent every sound of the Sanskrit language. The arrangement of the alphabet in the table on p. 2 is that adopted by the ancient Indian grammarians, and being thoroughly scientific, has been followed by European scholars as the lexicographical order in their Sanskrit dictionaries [1].

[1] As Anusvāra and Visarga cause beginners much difficulty in finding words in a glossary, the following note on their alphabetical order will probably be useful. The unchangeable Anusvāra (before a semivowel, sibilant, or ह h: cp. 42, B 1) has precedence of every other consonant: hence saṃvara, saṃśaya, precede sa-ka. The changeable Anusvāra (10, 42, B 2) occupies

5. The vowels are written differently according as they are initial or follow a consonant. They are—

(a) Simple vowels :

आ (ा) ā, ई (ी) ī, ऊ (ू) ū, ॠ (ॄ) ṝ.

(b) Diphthongs:

ए (े) ē[3], ऐ (ै) ai, ओ (ो) ō[3], औ (ौ) au[4].

the place of the nasal into which it might be changed. Thus saṃ-ga would be found beside saṅga. Similarly the unchangeable Visarga (before a hard guttural or labial) has precedence of every other consonant. Thus antaḥkaraṇa and antaḥpura follow anta and precede anta-ka. But the changeable Visarga (before a sibilant) occupies the place of the sibilant into which it might be changed.

[1] There is no sign for medial (or final) ă, as this vowel is considered to be inherent in every consonant, e. g. क = ka.

[2] Medial or (final) ĭ is written before the consonant after which it is pronounced, e.g. कि ki. Originally both ĭ and ī were written with curves to the left and the right respectively above the consonant; but for the sake of clear distinction were later prolonged with a vertical downward stroke, the one on the left, the other on the right.

[3] Though based, in nearly all cases, on ăi and ău respectively, e and o are at present, and have been since at least 300 B. C., pronounced as simple long vowels.

[4] The medial forms of the vowels are in combination with consonants, e. g. क् k, written as follows: क ka, का kā, कि ki, की kī, कु ku, कू kū, कृ kṛ, कॄ kṝ, कॢ kḷ, के ke, कै kai, को ko, कौ kau. In combination with र् r, ŭ and ū are written at the side instead of below: रु ru, रू rū.

6. The following table contains a complete classification (known to Pāṇini) of all the sounds of the Devanāgarī alphabet according to the organs employed in their articulation.

| | Hard (tenues). | Hard aspirates. | Soft (mediæ). | Soft aspirates. | Nasals. | (Soft) semi-vowels. | Hard spirants. | Vowels. Short, Long. | Diphthongs. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Gutturals | क k | ख k-h | ग g | घ g-h | ङ ṅ | ह h[3] | : ḥ[4] | अ a आ ā | ए e ऐ ai |
| Palatals[1] | च c | छ c-h | ज j | झ j-h | ञ ñ | य y | श ś | इ i ई ī | |
| Cerebrals[2] | ट ṭ | ठ ṭ-h | ड ḍ | ढ ḍ-h | ण ṇ | र r | ष ṣ | ऋ ṛ ॠ ṝ | |
| Dentals | त t | थ t-h | द d | ध d-h | न n | ल l | स s | ऌ ḷ | |
| Labials | प p | फ p-h | ब b | भ b-h | म m | व v | : ḥ[5] | उ u ऊ ū | ओ o औ au |

[1] The palatals produced from original gutturals, under the influence of palatal vowels, were transliterated by Max Müller with italicized gutturals.

[2] This term is a translation of the old native Sanskrit word mūrdhanya, 'produced in the head' (mūrdhan), i.e. on the roof or highest part of the mouth, which is nearest the head. This class of sounds is also often called linguals (since Bopp). They are for the most part derived from original dentals under the influence of a neighbouring cerebral r-sound.

[3] ह h is not a semivowel, but the soft breathing corresponding to the guttural vowel अ a, which, unlike the other simple vowels, has no semivowel of its own. It is identical with the second half of the soft aspirates g-h, &c.

[4] : ḥ (Visarga) the hard breathing, corresponding to the second half of the hard aspirates k-h, &c., is regularly used at the end of a word in pausā for s or r, and before hard gutturals and labials. In the latter case modifications of it called Jihvāmūlīya ('pronounced at the root of the tongue'), a guttural spirant (= Germ. ch), and Upadhmānīya ('pronounced with a breathing

7. Anusvāra ('after-sound'), the unmodified nasal following (or rather accompanying) a vowel and differing from the nasals given in column 5, is written with a dot above the letter which it follows, e.g. कं kaṃ. Before ल l it is sometimes written ँ, e.g. कँ kaँ̃. Its proper place was originally before the sibilants and ह h, whence its use extended. From Anusvāra is sometimes distinguished Anunāsika ('accompanied by a nasal'), the nasalized vowel.

8. In writing the Devanāgarī alphabet, the distinctive portion of each letter is written first, then the perpendicular, and lastly the horizontal line, e.g. ट, त, त ta.

9. Consonants to be pronounced without any vowel after them, are marked below with an oblique stroke, from left to right, called Virāma ('stop'). Thus ak must be written अक्.

The only marks of punctuation are the sign । at the end of a half-verse or sentence, and the sign ॥ at the end of a verse or paragraph.

The elision of अ a at the beginning of a word is marked in European editions with the sign ऽ called Avagraha ('separation'); e.g. तेऽपि te 'pi for ते अपि te api.

An abbreviation is indicated by the sign °: thus गतम् gatam, °तेन (ga)-tena.

10. When the five nasals are followed by consonants of their own class, they are often, to save trouble, incorrectly replaced by the sign for Anusvāra; e. g. अंकित aṃkita for अङ्कित aṅkita; कंपित kaṃpita for कम्पित kampita. In the same way final म् m upon'), the bilabial spirant f, were formerly employed, but have become obsolete. They were both written ऍ.

[5] It is important to note that in the above table only the letters in columns 1, 2, and 7 are hard (surd, voiceless), while all the rest are soft (sonant, voiced).

at the end of a sentence is often wrongly written with Anusvāra: thus अहं aham for अहम् aham. In both cases the pronunciation remains unaffected by the substitution.

11. If a consonant is followed immediately by one or more consonants, they are all written in a group; e.g. अत्क atka; कार्त्स्न्य kārtsnya. The general principle followed in the formation of these conjunct consonants, is to drop the perpendicular and horizontal lines except in the last letter. Most of these combinations, with the exception of those transliterated in thick type in the subjoined list, may be recognized without difficulty.

12. The following are the most noticeable modifications of simple consonants when written in conjunction with others:—

1. The component parts are indistinguishable in ज्ञ jña = ज् + ञ; and in क्ष or क्ष kṣa = क् + ष.
2. A horizontal line is sometimes substituted for the distinctive portion of त t and for the loop of क k; e.g. त्त tta = त् + त; क्त kta = क् + त.
3. श ś is often written श् when followed by a consonant or by the vowels ु or ृ; e.g. श्च śca, श्रु śu, श्ॄ śṝ.
4. र् r following a consonant is written with a short oblique stroke from right to left at the foot of the letter, e.g. क्र kra, द्र dra, ष्ट्र ṣṭra, न्त्र्य ntrya.

   र् r preceding a consonant or the vowel ऋ ṛ is written with ◌ placed at the top of the letter before which it is to be sounded; e.g. अर्क arka, वर्ष्म varṣma; निर्ऋतिः nirṛtiḥ. This sign for र् is placed to the right of any other marks at the top of the same letter; e.g. अर्केंदू arkendū.

14. The numerical figures in Sanskrit are—

| | | | | | | | | | |
| १ | २ | ३ | ४ | ५ | ६ | ७ | ८ | ९ | ० |
| 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | 0 |

Pronunciation.

15. The following rules should be noted:—

1. The vowels are pronounced as in Italian. The short अ a, however, has rather the sound of the so-called neutral vowel in English, like the u in 'but.' It had this sound (in Sanskrit saṃvṛta, 'closed') at least as early as 300 B. C.
2. The aspiration of the consonants should be heard distinctly. Thus ख=k-h in 'ink-horn'; थ=t-h in 'pot-house'; फ=p-h in 'topheavy'; घ=g-h in 'loghouse'; ध=d-h in 'madhouse'; भ=b-h in 'Hobhouse.'
3. The guttural ङ ṅ has the sound of ng in 'king.'
4. The palatals च c and ज j have the sound of ch in 'church,' and of j in 'join.'
5. The cerebrals are pronounced similarly to the so-called dentals t, d, n in English, the tongue being, however, turned rather further back against the roof of the mouth. The dentals in Sanskrit are produced by bringing the tip of the tongue against the very edge of the front teeth. In the days of the ancient Indian phoneticians they were produced at the back of the upper front teeth.

6. The dental स् s sounds like s in 'sin,' the cerebral ष ṣ like sh in 'shun'; while the palatal श् ś is produced midway between the two, being the sibilant pronounced in the same place as the spirant in the German 'ich.'

7. The Visarga, being a final hard breathing, is in India generally pronounced as a hard h, followed by a short echo of the preceding vowel.

8. The Anusvāra, being a pure nasal unmodified by any stop, is sounded like n in the French 'bon.'

9. Since about the beginning of our era Sanskrit has been pronounced with a stress accent (instead of the earlier musical accent) much in the same way as Latin. Thus the stress is laid on a long penultimate (Kālidā́sa), on the antepenultimate when followed by a short syllable (Himā́laya), and on the fourth from the end when two short syllables follow (kā́rayati).

CHAPTER II

RULES OF SANDHI OR THE COMBINATION OF LETTERS

16. In Sanskrit every sentence is treated as one unbroken chain of syllables. The coalescence of final and initial letters is called Sandhi ('putting together'). The rules of Sandhi are based chiefly on the avoidance of hiatus and on assimilation.

The absence of Sandhi is in many cases sufficient to mark the stops which in other languages have to be marked by punctuation.

Though both are based on the same phonetic principles, it is essential, in order to avoid confusion, to distinguish external Sandhi, which determines the changes of final and initial letters of words, from internal Sandhi, which applies to the final letters of verbal roots and nominal bases when followed by certain suffixes or terminations.

a. The rules of external Sandhi apply, with few exceptions (which are survivals of an earlier stage of external Sandhi), to words forming compounds, and to the final letters of nominal bases before the Pada or middle terminations भ्याम् bhyām, भिस् bhis, भ्यस् bhyas, सु su (71), or before secondary suffixes beginning with any consonant except य् y.

External Sandhi.

Classification of Vowels.

17. Vowels are divided into—

A. 1. Simple vowels: अ a, आ ā; इ i, ई ī; उ u, ऊ ū; ऋ ṛ, ॠ ṝ; ऌ ḷ.

2. Guṇa vowels: अ a; ए e; ओ o; अर् ar; अल् al.

3. Vṛddhi vowels: आ ā; ऐ ai; औ au; आर् ār; आल् āl.

a. Guṇa ('secondary form') is the strengthening of the simple vowels by a preceding अ a (which leaves अ a itself unchanged); Vṛddhi ('increase') is the further strengthening of Guṇa vowels by means of another अ a[1].

[1] In this vowel gradation, as Comparative Philology shows, the Guṇa vowel was the starting-point, the simple vowel having been reduced from it by loss of accent, while Vṛddhi is a lengthened variety of Guṇa.

B.1. Vowels which are liable to be changed into semivowels: इ i, ई ī; उ u, ऊ ū; ऋ ṛ, ॠ ṝ, and the diphthongs (the latter half of which is इ i or उ u): liquid vowels.

2. Those which are not: अ a, आ ā.

Combination of Final and Initial Vowels.

18. If the same simple vowel (short or long) occurs at the end and beginning of words, the result is a long vowel; e.g. सा अपि ईक्षते sā api īkṣate becomes सापीक्षते sāpīkṣate; किंतु उदेति kiṃtu udeti becomes किंतूदेति kiṃtūdeti; कर्तृ ऋजु kartṛ ṛju becomes कर्तॄजु kartṝju.

19. अ a and आ ā—

(a) coalesce with a following simple liquid vowel to Guṇa; e.g. तव इन्द्रः tava indraḥ = तवेन्द्रः tavendraḥ; सा उक्ता sā uktvā = सोक्ता soktvā; सा ऋद्धिः sā ṛddhiḥ = सर्द्धिः sarddhiḥ.

(b) coalesce with Guṇa vowels to Vṛddhi; e.g. तव एव tava eva = तवैव tavaiva; सा ओषधिः sā oṣadhiḥ = सौषधिः sauṣadhiḥ.

(c) are absorbed by Vṛddhi vowels; e. g. सा औत्सुक्यवती sā autsukyavatī = सौत्सुक्यवती sautsukyavatī.

20. A simple liquid vowel followed by any other vowel or by a diphthong is changed into its semivowel; e. g. दधि अत्र dadhi atra = दध्यत्र dadhy atra; कर्तृ उत kartṛ uta = कर्त्रुत kartr uta; मधु इव madhu iva = मध्विव madhv iva; नदी अर्थम् nadī artham = नद्यर्थम् nadyartham.

21. The Guṇa vowels ए e and ओ o—

(a) remain unchanged before अ a, which is elided: ते अपि te api = तेऽपि te 'pi; सो अपि so api = सोऽपि so 'pi.

(b) become अ a (through अय् ay and अव् av, which drop the semivowel) before every other vowel (or diphthong); सखे

22. The Vṛddhi vowels ऐ ai and औ au respectively become आ ā (through आय् āy) and आव् āv (the semivowel not being dropped in this case) before every vowel (or diphthong): श्रियै अर्थः śriyai arthaḥ = श्रिया अर्थः śriyā arthaḥ; तौ इति tau iti = ताविति tāv iti.

a. The (secondary) hiatus occasioned by the dropping of य y and व v in the above three cases (21 b and 22) remains.

Irregular Vowel Sandhi.

23. When a preposition ending in अ a or आ ā is followed by a verb beginning with ऋ ṛ, the two vowels coalesce to आर् ār: उप ऋषति upa ṛṣati = उपार्षति upārṣati; आ ऋच्छति ā ṛcchati = आर्च्छति ārcchati.

Absence of Vowel Sandhi.

24. Interjectional particles consisting of or ending in vowels, such as आ ā, इ i, उ u, हे he, अहो aho, are not liable to Sandhi: इ इन्द्र i indra, 'O Indra'; आ एवम् ā evam, 'is it so indeed?' अहो अपेहि aho apehi, 'Oh, go away.'

25. The vowels ई ī, ऊ ū, ए e, when dual terminations, nominal or verbal, remain unchanged before vowels (अ a not being elided after this dual ए e); they are called Pragṛhya ('separate'). The final of अमी amī, a nom. plural (of the pronoun असौ asau, 112), is treated in the same way.

E.g. कवी इमौ kavī imau, 'these two poets'; साधू इमौ sādhū imau, 'these two merchants'; विद्ये इमे vidye ime, 'these two sciences'; याचेते अर्थम् yācete artham, 'they two ask for money'; अमी अश्वाः amī aśvāḥ, 'those horses.'

26. In the Epics, the law books, and other works not strictly conforming to the classical standard, vowel Sandhi is seldom applied between the first and second line (Pāda) of a hemistich.

Combination of Final and Initial Consonants.

27. The rules of Sandhi are only applicable after the final consonant of a word has been reduced to one of the nine consonants which are allowable at the end of a word in pausā, viz.:

क् k, ट् ṭ, त् t, प् p
} and ः (Visarga).

The thirty-four consonants given in the table (6) are reduced to these nine, as follows:

A final must be hard and unaspirated, the palatals (including श् ś) and ह् h are replaced by क् k or ट् ṭ (ञ् ñ by ङ् ṅ), ष् ṣ by ट् ṭ, स् s and र् r by Visarga, while य् y, ल् l, and व् v do not occur. Thus the second, third, and fourth columns, as well as the second line (the palatals), disappear entirely, leaving only four tenues in the first, and the corresponding four nasals in the fifth, while of the rest only Visarga remains.

28. No word may end in more than one consonant, except when र् r precedes a final क् k, ट् ṭ, त् t, प् p, which is radical (or substituted for a radical) and not a suffix. In the case of all other combinations the final letter or letters must be dropped till only one, which is allowable as a final, remains. Thus भवन्त्स् bhavant-s becomes भवन् bhavan, 'being'; अबिभर्त् abibhar-t = अबिभः abibhaḥ, 'he carried' (त् t is a suffix); but ऊर्क् ūrk, 'strength' (क् k substituted for radical ज् j); अमार्ट् amārṭ, 'he wiped,' from मृज् mṛj (ट् ṭ substituted for radical ज् j).

Classification of Consonants.

29. Place or organ of articulation.

1. The throat, the palate, the roof of the mouth, the teeth, the lips, and the nose are called the places or organs of articulation.

2. By contact between the tongue and the four places—throat, palate, roof, teeth—the guttural, palatal, cerebral, and dental consonants are formed. Labial consonants are formed by contact between the lips.

3. In forming the nasals of the five classes, the breath partially passes through the nose while the tongue or the lips are in the position for articulating the corresponding tenuis. The real Anusvāra is formed in the nose only, while the tongue is in the position for forming the particular vowel which the Anusvāra accompanies.

4. The semivowels य y, र r, ल l, व v are palatal, cerebral, dental, and labial respectively. They are described by the old Indian grammarians as produced by partial or imperfect contact of the tongue with the organ of articulation. ल l often interchanges with or is derived from र r.

5. The three sibilants are hard spirants produced by partial contact of the tongue with the palate, roof, and teeth respectively. Sanskrit has not preserved any of the corresponding soft sibilants (English z, French j).

6. ह h and ः ḥ are respectively soft and hard spirants produced without any contact, and articulated in the position of the vowel which precedes or follows. ह h occurs only before soft letters, corresponding to the second half of the soft aspirates (g-h, &c.); Visarga occurs only after vowels and before certain hard consonants, corresponding to the second half of the hard aspirates (k-h, &c.). In India Visarga is usually articulated as a hard h, followed by a very short echo of the preceding vowel; e. g. कः kaḥ = kah$^{a}$, कविः kaviḥ = kavih$^{i}$; ऋतुः ṛtuḥ = ṛtuh$^{u}$.

30. Quality of consonants.

Consonants are—

1. Either hard (surd, voiceless): columns 1, 2, 7 in the table, p. 6;

Or soft (sonant, voiced): all the rest (columns 3, 4, 5, 6) and Anusvāra (besides all the vowels and diphthongs).

2. Either aspirated: columns 2, 4, 7, besides ह् h and ः ḥ;

Or unaspirated: all the rest.

Hence the change of च् c to क् k is a change of place (palatal to guttural), and that of च् c to ज् j is a change of quality (hard to soft); while the change of च् c to ग् g (hard palatal to soft guttural), or of त् t to ज् j (hard dental to soft palatal) is one of both place and quality.

31. It is essential to remember that consonant Sandhi cannot be applied till finals have been reduced to one of the nine allowable letters (27). The latter are then modified without reference to their etymological value (except partially in the case of Visarga). Only six of these finals occur at all frequently, viz. क् k, त् t, न् n, प् p, म् m, and Visarga. The changes which final consonants undergo are most conveniently treated with reference to (I) their quality, (II) their place or organ.

I. Changes of Quality.

32. Final consonants must be soft before soft initials, and hard before hard initials.

a. This rule affects only the five final hard consonants (क् k, ट् ṭ, त् t, प् p, and ः ḥ), the four nasals not being liable to changes of quality (but two of them, न् n, म् m, are liable to changes of place, like the two hard sounds त् t and Visarga : 37).

Hence final क् k, ट् ṭ, त् t, प् p before sonants become ग् g, ड् ḍ, द् d, ब् b respectively; e.g.

त् t: सरित् अत्र = सरिदत्र sarid atra, 'the river here'; महत् धनुः = महद्धनुः mahad-dhanuḥ, 'a large bow.'

33. क् k, ट् ṭ, त् t, प् p, when followed by initial न् n or म् m, may, and in practice almost invariably do, become the corresponding nasals ङ् ṅ, ण् ṇ, न् n, म् m; e.g. दिक् नागः = दिग्नागः or दिङ्नागः dig-nāgaḥ or diṅ-nāgaḥ, 'world-elephant'; जगत् नाथः = जगन्नाथः or जगन्नाथः jagad-nāthaḥ or jagan-nāthaḥ, 'lord of the world'; षट् मासः = षण्मासः ṣaṇ-māsaḥ, 'period of six months'; प्राक् मुखः = प्राङ्मुखः prāṅ-mukhaḥ, 'facing the east.'

34. Final त् t before ल् l becomes ल् l (through द् d);

35. Final न् n before ल् l also becomes ल् l; but this ल् l being pronounced through the nose, is written with Anusvāra in the form of **ँ;

e.g. महान् लाभः = महाँल्लाभः mahāँl lābhaḥ, 'great gain.'

36. As the nasals have no corresponding hard letters, they remain unchanged in quality before hard letters; but in several cases a sibilant or cognate hard letter is inserted between the two.

Final न् n is treated as follows :—

1. Before क् k, ख् kh, प् p, फ् ph it remains unchanged ;

   e. g. बुद्धिमान् कोऽपि buddhimān ko 'pi, 'a certain wise man.'

2. Before the hard palatal च् c, छ् ch ; cerebral ट् ṭ, ठ् ṭh ; dental त् t, थ् th, it requires the insertion of the palatal श् ś, the cerebral ष् ṣ, the dental स् s[1] respectively, the न् n itself being changed to Anusvāra ;

   e. g. हसन् चकार = हसंश्चकार hasaṃś cakāra, 'he did it laughing' ; तरून् छिनत्ति = तरूंश्छिनत्ति tarūṃś chinatti, 'he cuts down the trees' ; चलन् टिट्टिभः = चलंष्टिट्टिभः calaṃṣ ṭiṭṭibhaḥ, 'a moving sandpiper' ; पतन् तरुः = पतंस्तरुः pataṃs taruḥ, 'a falling tree.'

3. Before ष् ṣ, it remains unchanged ; before स् s, it may remain or insert a transitional त् t ; before श् ś, it changes its place (39) ;

   e.g. तान्षट् tān ṣaṭ, 'those six' ; तान्सहते tān sahate or तान्त्सहते tānt sahate, 'he endures them.'

a. Similarly final ङ् ṅ may remain unchanged before the three sibilants, but क् k may be inserted ;

e.g. प्राङ्शेते prāṅ śete or प्राङ्क्शेते prāṅk śete, 'he lies eastward.'

II. Changes of Place.

37. The only four final consonants liable to change of place, as well as of quality, are the dentals त् t and न् n, the labial म् m, and Visarga.

a. The dentals become palatal and cerebral before palatals and cerebrals respectively.

[1] This rule is an extension of the cases in which final n etymologically represents ns, i. e. in the acc. pl. masc. in -ān, and nom. sing. masc. in -n.

b. Visarga and, to a less extent, म् m adapt themselves to the organ of the following consonant.

The Dentals: त् t and न् n.

38. Final त् t before palatals (च् c, छ् ch, ज् j, श् ś) is changed to a palatal;

e.g. तत् च = तच्च tac ca, 'and that'; तत् छिनत्ति = तच्छिनत्ति tac chinatti, 'he cuts that'; तत् जायते = तज्जायते taj jāyate, 'that is born'; तत् शृणोति = (तच्शृणोति tac śṛṇoti, but in practice) तच्छृणोति tac chṛṇoti [1], 'he hears that.'

39. Final न् n before ज् j and श् ś [2] becomes ञ् ñ;

e.g. तान् जयति = ताञ्जयति tāñ jayati, 'he conquers them'; तान् शार्दूलान् = ताञ्शार्दूलान् tāñ śārdūlān or ताञ्छार्दूलान् tāñ chārdūlān [1], 'those tigers.'

40. Final त् t before ट् ṭ, ठ् ṭh, ड् ḍ, ढ् ḍh (but not before ष् ṣ) is changed to a cerebral;

e.g. एतत् ठक्कुरः = एतट्ठक्कुरः etaṭ-ṭhakkuraḥ, 'the idol of him'; तत् डयते = तड्डयते taḍ ḍayate, 'it flies'; तत् ढौकते = तड्ढौकते taḍ ḍhaukate, 'it approaches.'

41. Final न् n before ड् ḍ, ढ् ḍh [3] is changed to ण् ṇ;

e.g. महान् डमरः = महाण्डमरः mahāṇ ḍamaraḥ, 'a great uproar.'

Final म् m and Anusvāra.

42. A. Final म् m followed by an initial vowel remains unchanged;

[1] With the further change of the initial श् ś to the corresponding aspirate छ् ch.

[2] For the change of न् n before the hard palatals च् c and छ् ch, see 36, 2.

[3] On the treatment of न् n before the hard cerebrals ट् ṭ, ठ् ṭh, and ष् ṣ, see 36, 2, 3.

e. g. किम् अत्र = किमत्र kim atra, 'what (is) here?'

B. Final म् m is changed to Anusvāra before all consonants.

a. Before all the mutes, as well as न् n, म् m (§ 6, cols. 1–5), final म् m may be changed to the class nasal; but this change is seldom made in European editions.

E.g.:—1. Before semivowels, sibilants, and ह् h:—

तम् वेद = तं वेद taṃ veda, 'I know him'; करुणम् रोदिति = करुणं रोदिति karuṇaṃ roditi, 'he cries piteously'; मोक्षम् सेवेत = मोक्षं सेवेत mokṣaṃ seveta, 'one should devote oneself to salvation'; मधुरम् हसति = मधुरं हसति madhuraṃ hasati, 'he laughs sweetly.'

2. Before mutes and nasals:—

किम् करोषि = किं करोषि (or किङ्करोषि) kiṃ karoṣi (or kiṅ karoṣi), 'what doest thou?' शत्रुम् जहि = शत्रुं जहि (or शत्रुञ्जहि) śatruṃ jahi (or śatruñ jahi), 'kill the enemy'; किम् फलम् = किं फलम् (or किम्फलम्) kiṃ phalam (or kim phalam), 'what (is) the use?' गुरुम् नमति = गुरुं नमति (or गुरुन्नमति) guruṃ namati (or gurun namati), 'he salutes the teacher'; शास्त्रम् मीमांसते = शास्त्रं मीमांसते (or शास्त्रम्मीमांसते) śāstraṃ mīmāṃsate (or śāstram mīmāṃsate), 'he studies the book.'

Visarga for final स् s and र् r.

43. Visarga is the spirant to which the hard स् s and the corresponding soft र् r are reduced in pausā.

If Visarga is followed by—

1. a hard palatal, cerebral, or dental (च् c, छ् ch; ट् ṭ, ठ् ṭh; त् t, थ् th), it is changed to the sibilant of the class to which the following letter belongs (श् ś, ष् ṣ, स् s);
2. a hard guttural or labial (क् k, ख् kh; प् p, फ् ph), it remains unchanged;

3. a sibilant, it remains or it may be assimilated.

Examples :—

1. पूर्णः चन्द्रः = पूर्णश्चन्द्रः pūrṇaś candraḥ, 'the full moon'; नद्याः तीरम् = नद्यास्तीरम् nadyās tīram, 'the bank of the river.'

2. ततः कामः tataḥ kāmaḥ, 'thence love'; नद्याः पारम् nadyāḥ pāram, 'the opposite shore of the river.'

3. सुप्तः शिशुः suptaḥ śiśuḥ or सुप्तश्शिशुः suptaś śiśuḥ, 'the child is asleep'; प्रथमः सर्गः prathamaḥ sargaḥ or प्रथमस्सर्गः prathamas sargaḥ, 'the first section.'

44. Visarga (except when preceded by अ a or आ ā) if followed by a soft letter (consonant or vowel) is changed to र् r; e.g. कविः अयम् = कविरयम् kavir ayam, 'this poet'; गौः गच्छति = गौर्गच्छति gaur gacchati, 'the cow walks'; वायुः वाति = वायुर्वाति vāyur vāti, 'the wind blows.'

45. 1. The final syllable आः āḥ drops its Visarga before every vowel or soft consonant.

2. The final syllable अः aḥ—

Examples :—

1. अश्वाः अमी = अश्वा अमी aśvā amī, 'those horses'; आगताः ऋषयः = आगता ऋषयः āgatā ṛṣayaḥ, 'the poets have arrived'; हताः गजाः = हता गजाः hatā gajāḥ, 'the elephants (are) killed'; माः भिः = माभिः mā-bhiḥ, instr. plur. of मास् māṣ, 'moon.'

2. (a) कुतः आगतः = कुत आगतः kuta āgataḥ, 'whence come?' कः एषः = क एषः ka eṣaḥ, 'who (is) he?' कः ऋषिः = क ऋषिः ka ṛṣiḥ, 'who (is) the poet?'

(b) आनीतः दीपः = आनीतो दीपः ānīto dīpaḥ, 'the lamp (has been) brought'; मनः भिः = मनोभिः mano-bhiḥ, inst. plur. 'with minds'; नरः अयम् = नरोऽयम् naro 'yam, 'this man.'

46. The final syllables अः aḥ and आः āḥ in the few instances[1] in which the Visarga represents an etymological र् r, are not subject to the exceptions in § 45. In other words अः aḥ and आः āḥ, reverting to अर् ar and आर् ār, in this case follow the general rule. Thus पुनः अपि = पुनरपि punar api, 'even again'; भ्रातः देहि = भ्रातर्देहि bhrātar dehi, 'brother, give'; द्वाः एषा = द्वारेषा dvār eṣā, 'this door.'

47. र् r followed by र् r is always dropped, a preceding short vowel being lengthened;

e. g. विधुः राजते = विधू राजते vidhū rājate, 'the moon shines'; पुनः रोगी = पुना रोगी punā rogī, 'ill again.'

48. The two pronouns सः saḥ, 'that,' and एषः eṣaḥ, 'this,' retain Visarga at the end of a sentence only, but become सो so and एषो eṣo before अ a (45, 2, b); e.g. सः ददाति = स ददाति sa dadāti, 'he gives'; सः इन्द्रः = स इन्द्रः sa Indraḥ, 'that Indraḥ'; but सः अभवत् = सोऽभवत् so 'bhavat, 'he was'; मृतः सः mṛtaḥ saḥ, 'he (is) dead.'

49. भोः bhoḥ, an irregular contracted vocative (for bhavas, used as an interjection) of भवत् bhavat, 'your honour,' drops its Visarga before all vowels and soft consonants;

[1] पुनर् punar, 'again,' प्रातर् prātar, 'early,' अन्तर् antar, 'within'; स्वर् svar, 'heaven,' अहर् ahar, 'day,' द्वार् dvār, 'door,' वार् vār, 'water'; voc. sing. of nouns in ऋ ṛ, e.g. पितर् pitar, 'father' (101); and some forms of verbs in ऋ ṛ, e.g. अजागर् ajāgar, 2. 3. sing. imperf. of जागृ jāgṛ, 'to awake.'

e.g. भोः ईशान = भो ईशान bho īśāna, 'O lord'; भोः देवाः = भो देवाः bho devāḥ, 'O gods'; but भोः क्षेत्तः = भोश्क्षेत्तः bhoś chettaḥ, 'O cutter.'

a. The same rule applies to the contracted vocative भगोः bhagoḥ (for bhagavas) from भगवत् bhagavat, 'adorable one.'

50. Nouns ending in radical र् r retain the र् r before the सु su of the loc. pl.; e.g. वार् + सु = वार्षु vār-ṣu, 'in the waters.'

Doubling of Consonants.

51. छ् ch at the beginning of a word may always be doubled after vowels; it must be after a short vowel and after the particles आ ā and मा mā;

e.g. तव छाया = तव च्छाया tava cchāyā, 'thy shade'; आ छादयति = आच्छादयति ācchādayati, 'he covers'; मा छिदत् = मा च्छिदत् mā cchidat, 'let him not cut'; but बदरीछाया badarī-chāyā or बदरीच्छाया badarī-cchāyā, 'shade of jujube trees.'

a. In the body of a word the doubling takes place after all vowels: इच्छति icchati, 'he wishes'; म्लेच्छः mlecchaḥ, 'barbarian.'

52. Final ङ् ṅ and न् n, preceded by a short vowel and followed by any vowel (or diphthong), are doubled;

e.g. प्रत्यङ् आस्ते = प्रत्यङ्ङास्ते pratyaṅṅ āste, 'he sits westward'; धावन् अश्वः = धावन्नश्वः dhāvann aśvaḥ, 'a running horse'; but कवीन् आह्वयस्व kavīn āhvayasva ('call the poets') remains.

Initial Aspiration.

53. Initial श् ś, not followed by a hard consonant, may be, and in practice nearly always is, changed to the corresponding aspirate छ् ch after च् c and ञ् ñ;

e.g. तच् श्लोकेन = तच्छ्लोकेन tac chlokena, 'by that verse'; धावन् शशः = धावञ्छशः dhāvañ chaśaḥ, 'a running hare.'

a. The same change is allowed after क् k, ट् ṭ, प् p, though not usually applied: वाक्शतम् vāk-śatam may become वाक्छतम् vāk-chatam, 'a hundred speeches.'

54. Initial ह् h, after softening a preceding क् k, ट् ṭ, त् t, प् p, is changed to the soft aspirate of the preceding letter; e.g. वाक् हि = वाग्घि vāg ghi, 'for speech;' तत् हि = तद्धि tad dhi, 'for that.'

55. If घ् gh, ध् dh, भ् bh, or ह् h are at the end of a (radical) syllable beginning with ग् g, द् d, ब् b, and lose their aspiration as final or otherwise, the initial consonants are aspirated by way of compensation[1];

e.g. दुह् duh, 'a milker,' becomes धुक् dhuk; बुध् budh, 'wise,' becomes भुत् bhut.

Internal Sandhi.

56. The rules of internal Sandhi apply to the finals of nominal and verbal bases before all terminations of declension (except those beginning with consonants of the middle base: 73 a) and conjugation, before primary suffixes, and before secondary suffixes beginning with a vowel or य् y. They are best acquired by learning paradigms of nouns and verbs first. Many of these rules agree with those of external Sandhi; the most important of those which differ from external Sandhi are here added.

[1] This is an historical survival of the original initial aspiration of such roots, which was lost (both in Greek and Sanskrit) by the later euphonic law that prohibited a syllable beginning and ending with an aspirate. Hence when the final aspirate disappeared the initial returned.

Final Vowels.

57. In many cases before a vowel (and even the same vowel) इ i and ई ī are changed to इय् iy; उ u and ऊ ū to उव्; ऋ ṛ to इर् ir (cp. 18 and 20);

e.g. धी dhī + इ i = धियि dhiy-i, loc. sing., 'in thought'; भू + इ i = भुवि bhuv-i, 'on earth'; युयु + उः yu-yu + uḥ = युयुवुः yu-yuv-uḥ, 'they have joined'; गृ + अति gṛ + ati = गिरति gir-ati, 'he swallows.'

58. Final ऋ ṛ before consonant terminations is changed to ईर् īr, after labials to ऊर् ūr; while ऋ ṛ before य् y becomes रि ri;

e.g. गृ gṛ, passive 3. sing. गीर्यते gīr-yate, 'it is swallowed'; गीर्णः gīr-ṇaḥ, past pass. part., 'swallowed'; पॄ pṛ, pass. pres. पूर्यते pūr-yate, 'it is filled'; past part., पूर्णः pūr-ṇaḥ, 'filled'; कृ kṛ, pass. pres. क्रियते kri-yate, 'it is done.'

59. ए e, ऐ ai, ओ o, औ au are changed before suffixes beginning with vowels or य् y to अय् ay, आय् āy, अव् av, आव् āv respectively (cp. 21, 22);

e.g. ने + अन = नयन nay-ana, 'eye'; रै + ए = राये rāy-e, 'for wealth'; गो + ए = गवे gav-e, 'for a cow'; नौ + अः = नावः nāv-aḥ, 'ships'; गो + यः = गव्यः gav-yaḥ, 'relating to cows.'

60. इ i and उ u preceding radical र् r or व् v are generally lengthened when a consonant follows;

e.g. दिव् + यति = दीव्यति dīv-ya-ti, 'he plays'; पुर् + भिः = पूर्भिः pūr-bhiḥ, 'by cities' (81).

Final Consonants.

61. The most notable divergence from external Sandhi is the unchangeableness of the final consonants of verbal and nominal bases before terminations beginning with vowels, semivowels, and nasals[1] (while before other letters they usually follow the rules of external Sandhi);

e.g. प्राञ्चः prāñc-aḥ, 'eastern'; वचानि vac-āni, 'let me speak,' वाच्य vāc-ya, 'to be spoken,' वच्मि vac-mi, 'I speak'; but वक्ति vak-ti, 'he speaks.'

62. Nominal or verbal bases ending in consonants, and followed by terminations consisting of a single consonant, drop the termination altogether, two consonants not being tolerated at the end of a word (28). The final consonant which remains is then treated according to the rules of external Sandhi. Thus प्राञ्च् + स् prāñc + s, nom. sing., 'eastern,' becomes प्राङ् prāṅ (the स् s being first dropped, the palatals being changed to gutturals by 27, and the क् k being then dropped by 28); similarly अदोह् + त् a-doh + t = अधोक् a-dhok (55), 3. sing. imperf., 'he milked.'

63. Aspirates followed by any letters except vowels, semivowels or nasals (61) lose their aspiration;

e.g. रुन्ध् + ध्वे rundh + dhve = रुन्द्ध्वे rund-dhve[2], 'you obstruct'; लभ् + स्ये labh + sye = लप्स्ये lap-sye, 'I shall take'; but युधि yudh-i, 'in battle,' लोभ्यः lobh-yaḥ, 'to be desired.'

a. A lost soft aspirate is, if possible, thrown back before ध् dhv (not धि dhi), भ् bh, स् s, according to 55;

e.g. अभुद्ध्वम् a-bhud-dhvam, 'you observed,' भुद्भिः bhud-bhiḥ,

[1] द् d is assimilated before the primary suffix न -na; e.g. in अन्न an-na, 'food' (for ad-na); and त् t, द् d before the secondary suffixes मत् mat and मय maya; e.g. विद्युन्मत् vidyun-mat, 'accompanied by lightning' (vidyut), and मृन्मय mṛn-maya, 'consisting of clay' (mṛd).

[2] For Sanskrit tolerates two aspirates neither at the beginning and end of the same syllable, nor at the end of one and the beginning of the next.

inst. plur., भुत्सु bhut-su, loc. plur., but दुग्धि dug-dhi, 2. sing. imper., 'milk.'

b. But it is thrown forward on a following त् t and थ् th[1], which are softened;

e.g. लभ् + तः labh + taḥ = लब्धः lab-dhaḥ, 'taken'; रुन्ध् + थः rundh + thaḥ = रुन्द्धः rund-dhaḥ, 'you two obstruct'; बन्ध् + तुम् bandh + tum = बन्द्धुम् band-dhum, 'to bind.'

64. Palatals. a. While च् c regularly becomes guttural before consonants (cp. 61), ज् j in some cases (the majority) becomes guttural (क् k, ग् g)[2], in others cerebral (ट् ṭ, ड् ḍ, ष् ṣ);

e.g. उक्त uk-ta, 'spoken' (from वच् vac); युक्त yuk-ta, 'joined' (from युज् yuj); but राट् rāṭ, 'king' (from राज् rāj); मृड्डि mṛḍ-ḍhi, 'wipe' (from मृज् mṛj); राष्ट्र rāṣ-ṭra (from राज् rāj; cp. 65).

b. श् ś, before ध् dh, the middle terminations (73 a) and the nom. स् s, usually becomes ट् ṭ or ड् ḍ (sometimes क् k, ग् g); before त् t, थ् th, it always becomes ष् ṣ (cp. 65), and before the स् s of the future and of other conjugational forms, always क् k; e.g. from विश् viś we get विट्सु viṭ-su, 'in the settlers'; विष्ट viṣ-ṭa, 'entered'; वेक्ष्यामि vek-ṣyāmi (cp. 66 b), 'I shall enter.'

e.g. याच् + ना yāc + nā = याञ्ञा yāc-ñā, 'request'; यज् + न yaj + na = यज्ञ yaj-ña, 'sacrifice'; but प्रश्न praś-na, 'question.'

d. The छ् ch of the root प्रच्छ् prach, 'to ask,' is treated like श् ś: पृष्ट pṛṣ-ṭa, 'asked,' प्रक्ष्यामि prak-ṣyāmi, 'I shall ask,' प्रश्न

[1] Except in the case of the root धा dhā, 'to place,' which has (according to the analogy of a) धत् dhat before त् t and थ् th (see below, 134, third class, 1).

[2] ज् j regularly becomes क् k before a conjugational स् s (cp. 144, 4).

praś-na, 'question.' (In external Sandhi, i.e. when final, and before middle terminations, it becomes ट् ṭ.)

65. Cerebrals change following dentals to cerebrals (cp. 40); e.g. इष्+त iṣ+ta=इष्ट iṣ-ṭa, 'wished'; द्विष्+धि dviṣ+dhi=द्विड्ढि dviḍ-ḍhi, 'hate'; षट्+नाम् ṣaṭ+nām=षण्णाम् ṣaṇ-ṇām, 'of six.'

a. While the cerebral sibilant ष् ṣ regularly becomes a cerebral (ट् ṭ or ड् ḍ) in declension (cp. 79 e), and before ध् dh in conjugation, it regularly becomes क् k before an स् s in conjugation (cp. 64 b and 66 b); द्वेक्षि dvek-ṣi, 'thou hatest,' from द्विष् dviṣ.

b. Change of dental न् n to cerebral ण् ṇ:

The cerebrals ऋ ṛ, ॠ ṝ, र् r, ष् ṣ (even though a vowel, a guttural, a labial, य् y, व् v, ह् h, or Anusvāra intervene) change a dental न् n (followed by a vowel or न् n, म् m, य् y, व् v) to cerebral ण् ṇ;

e.g. नृ+नाम्=नृणाम् nṛ-ṇām, 'of men'; कर्णः kar-ṇaḥ, 'ear'; दूषणम् dūṣ-aṇam, 'abuse' (a vowel intervenes); बृंहणम् bṛṃhaṇam, 'nourishing' (Anusvāra, ह् h, vowel); अर्केण arkeṇa, 'by the sun' (guttural and vowel); क्षिप्णुः kṣip-ṇuḥ, 'throwing' (vowel and labial); प्रेम्णा premṇā, 'by love' (diphthong and labial); ब्रह्मण्यः brahmaṇyaḥ, 'kind to Brahmans' (vowel, ह् h, labial, vowel; न् n followed by य् y); निषण्णः niṣaṇṇaḥ, 'seated' (न् n followed by न् n, which is itself assimilated to ण् ṇ); प्रायेण prāyeṇa, 'generally' (vowel, य् y, vowel).

But अर्चनम् arcanam, 'worship' (palatal intervenes); अर्णवेन arṇavena, 'by the ocean' (cerebral intervenes); अर्धेन ardhena, 'by half' (dental intervenes); कुर्वन्ति kurvanti, 'they do' (न् n is followed by त् t); रामान् rāmān, acc. pl., 'the Rāmas' (न् n is final).

Note.—The number of intervening letters, it will be seen from the above examples, is not limited. In the word रामायण rāmāyaṇa, for instance, five letters (three vowels, a labial, and a semivowel) intervene between the र् r and the ण् ṇ.

66. The Dentals.

a. 1. न् n remains unchanged before य् y and व् v: हन्यते han-yate, 'he is killed'; तन्वन् tan-v-an, 'stretching.'

2. न् n, at the end of a nominal or verbal base, before sibilants is changed to Anusvāra;

e.g. जिघांसति ji-ghāṃ-sati, 'he wishes to kill,' from हन् han.

b. Change of dental स् s to cerebral ष् ṣ:

All vowels except अ a or आ ā (even though Anusvāra or Visarga intervene), as well as क् k and र् r, change dental स् s (followed by a vowel, त् t, थ् th, न् n, म् m, य् y, व् v) to cerebral ष् ṣ.

e.g. from सर्पिस् sarpis: सर्पिषा sarpiṣ-ā, 'with clarified butter'; सर्पींषि sarpīṃṣi, nom. pl.; सर्पिःषु sarpiḥṣu, loc. pl. (cp. 43, 3); from वाच् vāc: वाक्षु vāk-ṣu, loc. pl., 'in speeches'; from गिर् gir: गीर्षु gīr-ṣu (60), loc. pl., 'in speeches'; तिष्ठति tiṣṭhati, 'he stands,' from स्था sthā; भविष्यति bhavi-ṣyati, 'he will be,' from भू bhū, 'be'; सुष्वाप suṣvāpa, 'he slept,' from स्वप् svap, 'sleep'; चक्षुष्मत् cakṣuṣ-mat, 'possessing eyes'; but सर्पिः sarpiḥ (final);

Table showing when स् s changes to ष् ṣ.

| Vowels except अ a, आ ā (in spite of intervening Anusvāra or Visarga), also क् k, र् r, | change स् s to ष् ṣ | if followed by vowels, त् t, थ् th, न् n, म् m, य् y, व् v. |

Note.—The rules about the changes of the dental न् n and स् s to the corresponding cerebrals, should be thoroughly acquired, since these changes must constantly be made in declension and conjugation.

67. म् m remains unchanged before य् y, र् r, ल् l (cp. 61 and 42 B); but before suffixes beginning with व् v it becomes न् n; e.g. काम्यः kām-yaḥ, 'desirable,' ताम्र tām-ra, 'copper-coloured,' अम्ल am-la, 'sour'; but जगन्वान् ja-gan-vān, 'having gone' (from गम् gam).

68. a. ह् h before स् s and, in roots beginning with द् d, before त् t, थ् th, ध् dh also, is treated like घ् gh;

e.g. लेह्+सि leh+si=लेक्षि lek-ṣi, 'thou lickest' (66 b); दह्+स्यति dah+syati=धक्ष्यति dhak-ṣyati, 'he will burn' (55); दह्+त dah+ta=दग्ध dag-dha, 'burnt' (63 b); दिह्+ध्वे dih+dhve=धिग्ध्वे dhig-dhve, 'ye anoint' (63 a).

b. ह् h, in all other roots, changes a following त् t, थ् th, ध् dh to ढ् ḍh, the ह् h itself being dropped, and a preceding short vowel lengthened;

e.g. लिह्+त lih+ta=लीढ līḍha, 'licked.'

Exceptions to this are नह्+त nah+ta=नद्ध nad-dha, 'bound';

स्निह् + त snih + ta = स्निग्ध snig-dha, 'smooth'; मुह् + त muh + ta = मुग्ध mug-dha, 'foolish' (as well as मूढ mūḍha, 'infatuated'); दृह् + त dṛh + ta = दृढ dṛḍha, 'firm'; वह् + तुम् vah + tum = वोढुम् voḍhum, 'to carry'; सह् + तुम् sah + tum = सोढुम् soḍhum, 'to bear.'

CHAPTER III

DECLENSION

69. Declension is most conveniently treated under the three heads of—

1. Nouns (including adjectives); 2. numerals; 3. pronouns.

70. In Sanskrit there are—

c. Eight cases: nominative, vocative, accusative, instrumental, dative, ablative, genitive, locative[1].

71. Declension consists in the addition of case-endings to the stem or base. The normal case-endings are—

| | Singular. | | | Dual. | | Plural. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | M. F. | N. | | M. F. | N. | M. F. | N. |
| N. | स् s | — [b] | | | | | |
| V. | — [a] | — | | औ au | ई ī | अस् as | इ i [c] |
| A. | अम् am | — | | | | | |
| I. | आ ā | | | | | भिस् bhis | |
| D. | ए e | | | भ्याम् bhyām | | भ्यस् bhyas | |
| Ab. | अस् as | | | | | | |
| G. | | | | ओस् os | | आम् ām | |
| L. | इ i | | | | | सु su | |

[1] This is the order of the Hindu grammarians, excepting the vocative, which is not regarded by them as a case. It is con-

a. The vocative is the same (apart from the accent) as the nominative in all numbers except the masc. and fem. sing. of vowel bases generally and the masc. sing. of consonant bases in -at, -an, -in, -as (cp. 76 a), -yas, -vas.

b. The nom. acc. sing. neut. has the bare base excepting the words in -a, which add म् m.

c. The nom. acc. voc. plur. neut. before the इ् i inserts न् n after a vowel base and before a single final mute or sibilant of a consonant base (modifying the न् n according to the class of the consonant).

72. An important distinction in declension (in bases ending in च् c, त् t, न् n, स् s, and ऋ ṛ) is that between the strong and the weak base. If the base has two forms, the strong and the weak base are distinguished; if it has three forms, strong, middle, and weakest are distinguished.

a. The shifting of the accent was the cause of the distinction. The base having been accented in the strong cases, here naturally preserved its full form; but it was shortened in the weak cases by the accent falling on the endings. For a similar reason the last vowel of the strong base, if long, is regularly shortened in the vocative, because the accent always shifted to the first syllable in that case.

73. The strong base appears in the following cases:—

Nom. voc. acc. sing.
Nom. voc. acc. dual
Nom. voc. (not acc.) plur. } of masculine nouns[1].

Nom. voc. acc. plural only of neuters.

venient as the only arrangement by which such cases as are identical in form, either in the singular, the dual, or the plural, may be grouped together.

[1] Excepting the bases in ऋ ṛ (101) nearly all nouns with changeable bases form their feminine with the suffix ई् ī (100).

a. When the base has three forms, the middle base appears before terminations beginning with a consonant[1] (°भ्याम् -bhyām, °भिस्-bhis, °भ्यस्-bhyas, °सु -su); the weakest, before terminations beginning with a vowel in the remaining weak cases;

e. g. प्रत्यञ्चौ pratyáñc-au, nom. dual; प्रत्यग्भिः pratyág-bhiḥ, inst. plur.; प्रतीचोः pratīc-óḥ, gen. dual (93).

b. In neuters with three bases the nom. voc. acc. sing. are middle, the nom. voc. acc. dual, weakest;

e. g. प्रत्यक् pratyák, sing., प्रतीची pratīcī́, dual, प्रत्यञ्चि pratyáñc-i, plur. (93). The other cases are as in the masculine.

NOUNS AND ADJECTIVES.

74. This declension may conveniently be divided into two classes :—

I. Bases ending in consonants[2].

A. Unchangeable bases. B. Changeable bases.

II. Bases ending in vowels.

A. In अ a and आ ā.

B. In इ i and उ u.

C. In ई ī and ऊ ū.

D. In ऋ ṛ.

E. In ऐ ai, ओ o, औ au.

[1] It is practically most convenient to name changeable bases in this form, as this is also the form in which they appear as prior members in compounds.

[2] Some grammars begin with the vowel declension in अ a (II. A) since this contains the majority of all the declined bases in the language. But for practical reasons it appears preferable to begin with the consonant declension, which adds the normal endings (71) without modification; while the wide deviation of the a-declension from these endings is apt to confuse the beginner.

I. A. Unchangeable Bases.

75. The number of these bases is comparatively small, there being none ending in guttural or cerebral mutes, and none in nasals or semivowels (except र् r). They are liable to such changes only as are required by the rules of Sandhi before the consonant terminations (cp. 16 a). Masculines and feminines ending in the same consonant are inflected exactly alike; and the neuters differ only in the nom. voc. acc. dual and plural.

76. The final consonants retain their original sound before vowel terminations (71); but when final (nom. sing., the स् s of the m. f. being dropped), and before the loc. pl. सु su, they must be reduced to one of the letters क् k, ट् ṭ, त् t, प् p or Visarga (27), which respectively become ग् g, ड् ḍ, द् d, ब् b, र् r, before the terminations beginning with भ् bh.

a. The voc. sing. m. f. is the same as the nom. except in bases in (derivative) अस् as (83).

b. Forms of the nom. voc. acc. plur. neut. are extremely rare in this declension;

e.g. from °भाज् -bhāj, 'sharing,' °भाञ्जि -bhāñji; nom. sing. °भाक् -bhāk.

Bases in Dentals.

77. Paradigm सुहृद् su-hṛd, m. 'friend' (lit. 'good-hearted').

| | SING. | DUAL. | PLUR. |
| N.V. | सुहृत् su-hṛt (27) | सुहृदौ -hṛd-au | सुहृदः -hṛd-aḥ |
| A. | सुहृदम् su-hṛd-am | | |
| I. | सुहृदा su-hṛd-ā | सुहृद्भ्याम् -hṛd-bhyām | सुहृद्भिः -hṛd-bhiḥ |
| D. | सुहृदे su-hṛd-e | | सुहृद्भ्यः -hṛd-bhyaḥ |
| Ab. G. | सुहृदः su-hṛd-aḥ | सुहृदोः -hṛd-oḥ | सुहृदाम् -hṛd-ām |
| L. | सुहृदि su-hṛd-i | | सुहृत्सु -hṛt-su (32) |

a. In the paradigms of regular nouns with unchangeable bases it will be sufficient to remember the nom. sing., the nom. inst. loc. plur.;

e. g. from °जित् -jit, 'conquering': °जित् -jit, °जितः -jit-aḥ, °जिद्भिः -jid-bhiḥ, °जित्सु -jit-su; from °मथ् -math, 'destroying': °मत् -mat, °मथः -math-aḥ, °मद्भिः mad-bhiḥ, °मत्सु -mat-su; from °वृध् -vṛdh, 'increasing': °वृत् -vṛt, °वृधः -vṛdh-aḥ, °वृद्भिः -vṛd-bhiḥ, °वृत्सु -vṛt-su.

Bases in Labials.

78. Only a few ending in प् p and भ् bh occur. They are declined exactly like सुहृद् su-hṛd.

| BASE. | NOM. SG. | NOM. PL. | INST. PL. | LOC. PL. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| धर्मगुप् dharma-gup, | °गुप् | °गुपः | °गुब्भिः | °गुप्सु |
| m. 'guardian of law' | -gup | -gup-aḥ | -gub-bhiḥ | -gup-su |
| ककुभ् kakubh, | ककुप् | ककुभः | ककुब्भिः | ककुप्सु |
| f. 'region' | kakup | kakubh-aḥ | kakub-bhiḥ | kakup-su |

Bases in Palatals.

79. The palatals (च् c, ज् j, श् ś) undergo a change of organ when final and before consonant terminations (cp. 64). च् c always becomes guttural (क् k, ग् g); ज् j and श् ś nearly always become guttural, but sometimes cerebral (ट् ṭ, ड् ḍ).

| BASE. | NOM. SG. | NOM. PL. | INST. PL. | LOC. PL. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| वाच् vāc[1], | वाक् | वाचः | वाग्भिः | वाक्षु |
| f. 'speech' | vā́k | vā́c-aḥ | vāg-bhíḥ | vāk-ṣú (66 b) |
| असृज् asṛj, | असृक् | असृञ्जि | असृग्भिः | असृक्षु |
| n. 'blood' | ásṛk | ásṛñj-i | ásṛg-bhiḥ | ásṛk-ṣu |

[1] Bases in derivative अच् ac are changeable (93).

b. Like रुज् ruj are declined ऋत्विज् ṛtv-ij, m. 'priest' (lit. 'sacrificing in season'), वणिज् baṇij, m. 'merchant,' भिषज् bhiṣaj, m. 'physician'; स्रज् sraj, f. 'garland'; also ऊर्ज् ūrj, f. 'strength' (nom. ऊर्क् ūrk, 28).

c. Like सम्राज् samrāj is declined परिव्राज् parivrāj, m. 'mendicant.'

d. Like दिश् diś are declined °दृश् -dṛś, 'seeing,' °स्पृश् -spṛś, 'touching' (at the end of compounds).

e. Like विश् viś is declined द्विष् dviṣ, m. 'enemy,' in which the cerebral ष् ṣ is naturally changed to cerebral ट् ṭ or ड् ḍ: द्विट् dviṭ, द्विषः dviṣ-aḥ, द्विड्भिः dviḍ-bhiḥ, द्विट्सु dviṭ-su.

Bases in ह् h.

80. Most of the few bases in ह् h change that letter when final or before consonant endings to a guttural, but in °लिह् -lih, 'licking,' it becomes cerebral, and in उपानह् upā-nah, f. 'shoe' (that which is 'tied on'), dental:—

| BASE. | NOM. SG. | NOM. PL. | INST. PL. | LOC. PL. |

Bases in र् r[1].

81. The र् r becomes Visarga in the nom. sing. only, remaining before the सु su of the loc. plur. A preceding इ् i or उ u is lengthened when the र् r is final or followed by a consonant.

| BASE. | NOM. SG. | NOM. PL. | INST. PL. | LOC. PL. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| द्वार् dvār, | द्वाः | द्वारः | द्वार्भिः | द्वार्षु |

Bases in स् s.

82. These bases consist almost entirely of words formed with the derivative suffixes अस् as, इस् is, उस् us, chiefly neuters. These lengthen their final vowel (before the inserted nasal) in the nom. voc. acc. plur. neut. There are also a few masculines and feminines; those in अस् as lengthen the अ a in the nom. sing.

[1] There are no bases in other semivowels.

83. सुमनस् su-manas, as an adjective, 'cheerful,' has in the nom. sing. masc. and fem. सुमनाः sumánāḥ (voc. सुमनः súmanaḥ), but neut. सुमनः sumánaḥ. On the other hand from दीर्घायुस् dīrghāyus, 'long-lived,' the nom. sing. is दीर्घायुः dīrghāyuḥ in all genders.

a. आशिस् ā-śis[1], f. 'blessing,' lengthens its इ i (like the bases in इर् ir) in the nom. sing. and before consonants: nom. sing. आशीः āśīḥ; pl. nom. आशिषः āśiṣ-aḥ, inst. आशीर्भिः āśīr-bhiḥ, loc. आशीःषु āśīḥ-ṣu.

b. दोस् dos, n. 'arm,' is quite regular: nom. sing. दोः doḥ, dual दोषी doṣ-ī; inst. pl. दोर्भिः dor-bhiḥ, loc. दोःषु doḥ-ṣu.

B. Changeable Bases.

84. Regular changeable bases end in त् t, न् n, स् s, or च् c.

a. Those in त् t end in अत् at (also मत् mat, वत् vat).

b. Those in न् n end in अन् an (also मन् man, वन् van) or इन् in (also मिन् min, विन् vin).

c. Those in स् s end in यस् yas (comparatives) or वस् vas (perf. participles active).

d. Those in च् c end in अच् ac, which is properly a root meaning 'to go.'

The bases in अत् at, इन् in, यस् yas have two forms, strong and weak; those in अन् an, वस् vas, अच् ac have three, strong, middle, and weakest (73).

Nouns with Two Bases.

85. 1. Bases in अत् at.

[1] Derived not with the suffix इस् is, but from the (weakened) root शास् śās with the prefix आ ā.

Present Participles in अत् at (masc. and neut.). The strong base is in अन्त् ant, the weak in अत् at[1].

a. भवत् bháv-at, when used as the present participle of भू bhū, 'be,' is declined like अदत् adat (only the accent remains on the first syllable throughout); but when it means 'your Honour,' it is declined (as if derived with the suffix -vat) like ज्ञानवत् jñānavat: nom. भवान् bhavān, acc. भवन्तम् bhavantam. Besides भवन् bhavan there is also an irregular voc. (cp. 49) भोः bhoḥ, 'sir!' (a contraction of an older भवस् bhavas).

b. कियत् kí-y-at, 'how much?' and इयत् í-y-at, 'so much,' are also declined like ज्ञानवत् jñāna-vat.

87. 2. Adjectives in इन् in (masc. and neut.).

These bases are very numerous, being derivatives from nouns in अ a in the sense of 'possessing'; thus बल bala, 'strength,' बलिन् bal-in, 'strong.'

a. These words have a weak base before consonants only, where they drop the न् n.

b. The न् n is also dropped in the nom. sing. masc. and neut.

Nouns with Three Bases.

89. 1. Participles of the reduplicated perfect in वस् vas (masc. and neut.). The strong base is formed with वांस् vāṃs, the middle with वत् vat[1], the weakest with उष् uṣ (66 b; cp. 157).

a. The इ i which is inserted before the व् v in some of these

[1] The substitution of त् t for स् s is perhaps due to the influence of the suffix वत् vat. उस् us is the unaccented form of वस् vas (cp. 137, 2 c).

[2] Beginners sometimes confuse this reduplicated perf. part. active with the active participle formed by adding the suffix वत् vat to the perfect passive part.; e. g. nom. masc. कृतवान् kṛta-vān, 'having done,' acc. कृतवन्तम् kṛtavantam (cp. 161). The confusion is caused by both ending in °वान् -vān in the nom. sing.

participles is dropped before उष् uṣ : thus तस्थिवान् tasth-i-vā́n, but तस्थुषा tasth-úṣ-ā.

90. 2. Bases in अन् an (also मन् man, वन् van): masc. and neut.

The strong base ends in आन् ān, the weakest in न् n, the middle in अ a.

b. The suffixes मन् man and वन् van, if immediately preceded by a consonant, retain their अ a in the weakest cases. The concurrence of three consonants is avoided in these cases, though not in bases in simple अन् an. Hence आत्मना āt-man-ā, but तक्ष्णा takṣ-ṇ-ā, मूर्ध्ना mūrdh-n-ā.

c. In the loc. sing. and the nom. acc. voc. dual the अ a may always be retained.

and night'), is treated like an original र् r (46): hence अहरहः ahar-ahaḥ, 'day by day'; अहर्गणः ahar-gaṇaḥ, 'series of days.'

[1] So also in Greek: κυνός = śúnaḥ.

[2] Weak forms from मघवत् magha-vat are also sometimes found; e.g. gen. मघवतः magha-vat-aḥ.

92. The root हन् han, 'kill,' when used as a noun at the end of a compound, for the most part follows the analogy of bases in अन् an. The strong base is हन् han (with a long vowel in the nom. sing. only), the middle ह ha, and the weakest घ्न ghn.

ब्रह्महन् brahma-han, m. 'Brahman-killer.'

3. Adjectives in अच् ac.

93. These form their strong base in अञ्च् añc, their middle in अच् ac, and their weakest in ईच् īc or ऊच् ūc[1] (according as अच् ac is preceded by य् y or व् v). Their meaning is generally expressed by the English suffix '-ward.'

प्रत्यच् praty-ac, m. n. 'backward,' 'westward.'

94. The beginner will find it useful to remember the following points with regard to changeable bases:—

1. The vowel of the suffix is lengthened in the nom. sing. masc. except in bases in अत् at and अच् ac.

But अदन् ad-án, प्रत्यङ् praty-áṅ.

2. The nom. sing. masc. ends in a nasal in all changeable bases except those in न् n (अन् an, मन् man, वन् van, इन् in, मिन् min, विन् vin), which drop it.

3. All changeable bases which lengthen the vowel in the nom. sing. masc., keep it short in the vocative.

अग्निमन् ágni-man, ज्ञानवन् jñāna-van; गरीयन् gárīyan; चक्रवन् cákṛ-van; राजन् rā́jan, ब्रह्मन् bráhman, युवन् yúvan; धनिन् dhánin, वाग्मिन् vā́gmin, मनस्विन् mánasvin.

In other changeable bases the vocative differs from the nom. solely in always having the accent on the first syllable: अदन् ád-an, voc., adán, nom.; प्रत्यङ् prátyaṅ, voc., pratyáṅ, nom.

95. The feminines of nouns with changeable bases are formed by adding ई ī to the weak base (when there are two bases) or the weakest (when there are three). They follow the declension of नदी nadī (100).

E.g. अदती adat-ī́; अग्निमती agni-mát-ī, ज्ञानवती jñāna-vat-ī; धनिनी dhanín-ī, वाग्मिनी vāg-mín-ī, मनस्विनी manas-vín-ī; गरीयसी gárīyas-ī; चक्रुषी cakrúṣ-ī; °नाम्नी -nāmn-ī (adj., 'named'); शुनी śun-ī́ ('bitch'); °घ्नी -ghn-ī ('killing'); प्रतीची pratīc-ī́, प्राची prā́c-ī.

a. The feminine of the present participle active of the first conjugation (124) is made from the strong masc. base in अन्त् ant (cp. 156); that of the second conjugation from the weak base in अत् at;

e.g. भवन्ती bhávant-ī, 'being[1],' तुदन्ती tudánt-ī[2], 'striking,' दीव्यन्ती dívyant-ī, 'playing,' चोरयन्ती corayant-ī, 'stealing.'

But जुह्वती júhv-at-ī, 'sacrificing,' युञ्जती yuñj-at-ī́, 'joining,' सुन्वती sunv-at-ī́, 'pressing,' कुर्वती kurv-at-ī́, 'doing,' क्रीणती krīṇ-at-ī́, 'buying.'

The feminine of the simple future participle active is usually formed like the present part. of the first conjugation: भविष्यन्ती bhaviṣyánt-ī[2], 'about to be,' करिष्यन्ती kariṣyánt-ī, 'about to do.'

b. There are a few adjectives in वन् -van. These form their feminines in °वरी -varī: पीवन् pī́-van (πίων), 'fat,' f. पीवरी pī́-varī (πίειρα). The fem. of the irregular युवन् yú-van, 'young' (91, 4), is युवति yuva-tí or युवती yuva-tī.

Irregular Nouns with Changeable Bases.

96. 1. अप् ap, f. 'water,' is always plural. It lengthens its अ a in the strong cases (N.V.) and substitutes त् t for प् p before भ् bh.

| N. आपः ā́p-aḥ | A. अपः ap-áḥ | I. अद्भिः ad-bhíḥ | L. अप्सु ap-sú |

2. अनड्वह् anaḍ-váh, m. 'ox' (lit. 'cart-drawer,' from anas + vah), has three bases, lengthening the last syllable in the strong, अनड्वाह् anaḍ-vāh, and shortening it by Samprasāraṇa in the weakest, अनडुह् anaḍ-uh, and in the middle अनडुत् anaḍ-ut

[1] But भवती bhavat-ī from भवत् bhavat, 'your Honour' (86 a).

[2] If the verbal base, however, ends in accented अ a, e.g. tud-á, bhav-i-ṣyá, the weak form may optionally be taken, when the ई ī receives the accent: तुदती tud-at-ī́, भविष्यती bhaviṣy-at-ī́.

(dissimilated from अनडुड् anaḍuḍ: cp. 27). The nom. and voc. are irregularly formed, as if from a base in वत् vat.

II. Bases ending in Vowels.

97. A. Bases in अ a and आ ā[2].

[1] Certain adjectives in अ a, आ ā, अम् am follow the pronominal declension (110).

[2] These terminations originally come from the pronominal declension.

[3] This termination is preserved in the Lat. ō for ōd (e.g. Gnaivōd in inscriptions).

[4] The terminations -yai, -yāḥ, -yām are due to the influence of the fem. in ī, nadyaī, nadyāḥ, nadyām.

[5] The voc. of अम्बा ambā, 'mother,' is अम्ब amba.

a. Neuter adjectives (not nouns) may be declined throughout (except N.A.V. of all numbers), and fem. adjectives and nouns in the D. Ab. G. L. sing., like masculines. Thus the L. sing. of मति matí, f. 'thought,' is मत्याम् matyā́m or मतौ mataú, but वारि vāri, n. 'water,' only वारिणि vāriṇi.

b. The voc. sing. of neuters may optionally follow the masc. form;

e.g. वारि vāri or वारे vāre, मधु mádhu or मधो mádho.

c. The fem. of adjectives in उ u is in some cases also formed by adding ई ī;

e.g. लघु laghú or लघ्वी laghv-ī, f. 'light'; पृथु pṛthú, f. 'broad,' पृथ्वी pṛthv-ī́, '(the broad) earth'; sometimes the उ u is also lengthened;

e.g. तनु tanú or तनू tanū, or तन्वी tanv-ī, f. 'thin.'

Irregularities.

99. 1. पति pát-i, m. 'husband,' is irregular in the weak cases of the singular: I. पत्या páty-ā, D. पत्ये páty-e, Ab. G. पत्युः páty-uḥ, L. पत्यौ páty-au. When it means 'lord,' or occurs at the end of compounds, it is regular (like शुचि śuci).

2. सखि sákh-i, m. 'friend,' has the same irregularities, but in addition has a strong base formed with Vṛddhi, सखाय् sakhāy: N. सखा sákhā, A. सखायम् sákhāy-am, I. सख्या sákhy-ā, D. सख्ये sákhy-e, Ab. G. सख्युः sákhy-uḥ, L. सख्यौ sákhy-au, V. सखे sákhe; du. N. A. V. सखायौ sákhāy-au; pl. N. V. सखायः sákhāy-aḥ, A. सखीन् sákhīn. At the end of compounds सखि sakhi is regular in the weak cases, but retains the base सखाय् sakhāy in the strong.

3. The neuters अक्षि ákṣi, 'eye,' अस्थि ásthi, 'bone,' दधि dádhi, 'curds,' सक्थि sákthi, 'thigh,' form their weakest cases from bases in अन् an (अक्षन् akṣan, &c., like नामन् nāman):—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| N.A.V. | अक्षि | du. अक्षिणी | pl. अक्षीणि |

| G. | अक्ष्णः | अक्ष्णोः | अक्ष्णाम् |
| | akṣṇ-áḥ | akṣṇ-óḥ | akṣṇ-ā́m |

4. द्यु dyu, f. 'sky' (originally diu), retains this base before consonant terminations (taking Vṛddhi in the N.V. sing.), but changes it to दिव् div before vowels:—

| SING. | PLUR. |
|---|---|
| N. द्यौः dyaú-ḥ (Ζεύς = Δjεύς) | N. दिवः dív-aḥ |

| L. दिवि div-í (Διϝί) | L. द्युषु dyú-ṣu |
| V. द्यौः dyaù-ḥ[1] (Ζεῦ) | |

C. Bases in ई ī and ऊ ū: feminine.

100. The following points in which monosyllabic and polysyllabic bases differ in declension, should be noted:—

1. Monosyllabic bases change ई ī and ऊ ū to इय् iy and उव् uv before vowels, the polysyllabic bases to य् y and व् v.

2. Monosyllabic bases have the normal terminations (71) throughout; they may take the special feminine terminations (-ai, -āḥ, -ām: cp. 97, n. 4), polysyllabic bases must.

3. Monosyllabic bases use the nom. (which takes स् s), polysyllabic bases shorten the final ई ī and ऊ ū of the nom., in the voc. sing.

[1] The nom. with the voc. accent, while the Greek has the proper vocative.

4. Polysyllabic bases in ई ī have no स् s in the nom. sing. except लक्ष्मीः lakṣmīḥ, 'goddess of prosperity,' तन्त्रीः tantrīḥ, 'string,' and optionally तन्द्री tandrī, 'sloth.'

5. Polysyllabic bases form the acc. sing. in ईम् īm and ऊम् ūm, the acc. pl. in ईस् īs and ऊस् ūs.

a. स्त्री strī́, f. 'woman,' though monosyllabic, has most of the characteristics of polysyllabic bases in ई ī (100, 2–5): it must take the special fem. terminations, it shortens its ई ī in the voc., it has no स् s in the nom., and has an optional acc. sing. in ईम् īm and acc. plur. in ईस् īs. This is doubtless due to its originally having been a disyllable.

D. Bases in ऋ ṛ: masculine, feminine.

101. These bases, which in their origin are consonant bases in -ar, are closely analogous in their declension to bases in -an. These nouns mostly end in the suffix तृ -tṛ (i.e. -tar, Gk. -τήρ, -τωρ, Lat. -tor). They distinguish a strong base तर् tar or तार् tār; a middle तृ tṛ; and a weakest त् tr.

In the strong base the names of relations take the Guṇa form (ar), the names of agents (as well as नप्तृ náptṛ, 'grandson,' स्वसृ svásṛ, 'sister,' and भर्तृ bhartṛ́, 'husband') take the Vṛddhi form (ār).

The sing. gen. is formed in उर् ur, the loc. in अरि ari, the voc. in अर् ar; the pl. acc. masc. in ॠन् ṝn, fem. in ॠस् ṝs, the gen. in ॠणाम् ṝṇām.

a. नप्तृ náptṛ and भर्तृ bhartṛ́, though names of relations, following दातृ dātṛ́, take the Vṛddhi form in the strong base : acc. sing. नप्तारम् náptār-am, भर्तारम् bhartár-am ; also स्वसृ svásṛ, f. 'sister,' acc. sing. स्वसारम् svásār-am, but acc. pl. स्वसॄः svásṝḥ.

b. नृ nṛ, m. 'man' (Gk. ἀ-νήρ), takes the Guṇa form in the strong base. The gen. pl. is नॄणाम् nṛ́ṇ-ām as well as नॄणाम् nṝ́ṇām. The I. D. Ab. G. sing. are not found in classical Sanskrit (but the latter three cases in the Rig-veda are नरे nár-e, नरः nár-aḥ).

N. ना nā́, A. नरम् nár-am, L. नरि nár-i (Ep. Gk. ἀ-νέρ-ι). N. pl. नरः nár-aḥ (Ep. Gk. ἀ-νέρ-ες), A. नॄन् nṝ́n, I. नृभिः nṛ́-bhiḥ, L. नृषु nṛ́-ṣu.

c. क्रोष्टृ kroṣ-ṭṛ́, m. 'jackal' (lit. 'yeller'), substitutes क्रोष्टु kroṣṭu in the middle cases : N. pl. क्रोष्टारः kroṣṭár-aḥ, I. pl. क्रोष्टुभिः kroṣṭu-bhiḥ.

d. Bases in तृ tṛ, if declined in the neuter, would be inflected like the neut. of शुचि śuci : N.A. धातृ dhātṛ́, du. धातृणी dhātṛ́-ṇ-ī, pl. धातॄणि dhātṝ́-ṇ-i ; I. sing. धातृणा dhātṛ́-ṇ-ā, pl. धातृभिः dhātṛ́-bhiḥ.

e. Feminine nouns of agency are formed from masculines in तृ tṛ by the suffix ई ī: masc. दातृ dātṛ́, fem. दात्री dātr-ī, 'giver' (declined like नदी nadī).

E. Bases in ऐ ai, ओ o, औ au.

102. The only bases in diphthongs are रै rai, m. 'wealth,' गो go, m. f. 'bull, cow,' द्यो dyo, f. 'sky,' and नौ nau, f. 'ship.'

रै rai changes the इ i of the diphthong to य् y before vowels, but drops it before consonants.

गो go, in the strong cases, takes Vṛddhi and becomes गौ gau, which is shortened to गा gā in the acc. sing. and pl. The ab. gen. has a contracted form (os for av-as).

N. द्यौः dyaúḥ (Ζεύς), A. द्याम् dyā́m (Lat. diem), D. द्यवे dyáv-e, Ab. G. द्योः dyóḥ, L. द्यवि dyáv-i; Dual N. A. द्यावौ dyā́v-au, N. pl. द्यावः dyā́v-aḥ.

Degrees of Comparison.

103. 1. The secondary suffix of the comparative °तर -tara (Gk. -τερο) and that of the superlative °तम -tama (Lat. -timo) are added to the weak or middle base of derivative adjectives (and nouns);

e.g. शुचि śuci : शुचितर śuci-tara, शुचितम śuci-tama ; प्राच् prāc : प्राक्तर prāk-tara, प्राक्तम prāk-tama ; धनिन् dhanin : धनितर dhani-tara, धनितम dhani-tama ; विद्वस् vidvas : विद्वत्तर vidvat-tara, विद्वत्तम vidvat-tama ; प्रत्यच् pratyac : प्रत्यक्तर pratyak-tara, प्रत्यक्तम pratyak-tama.

a. These suffixes form their feminine in आ ā ; but तम tama, when used as an ordinal suffix, forms its fem. in ई ī (cp. 107).

2. The primary suffix of the comparative, ईयस् īyas (Gk. -ιων, Lat. -ior), and that of the superlative, इष्ठ iṣṭha (Gk. -ιστο), are added to the root, which generally takes Guṇa (and is accented). Before them every word must be reduced to one syllable by dropping suffixes ;

e.g. अणु áṇ-u, 'minute' : अणीयस् áṇ-īyas, अणिष्ठ áṇ-iṣṭha ; गुरु gur-ú[1], 'heavy' : गरीयस् gár-īyas, गरिष्ठ gár-iṣṭha ; लघु lagh-ú, 'light' : लघीयस् lágh-īyas, लघिष्ठ lágh-iṣṭha (Gk. ἐ-λάχ-ιστος) ; दूर dū-rá, 'far' : द्वीयस् dáv-īyas ; वर vára, 'choice' : वरीयस् vár-īyas, 'better' ; क्षुद्र kṣud-ra, 'mean' : क्षोदीयस् kṣód-īyas ; युवन् yú-van, 'young' : यवीयस् yáv-īyas.

e.g. ज्यायस् jyā́-yas, 'superior,' ज्येष्ठ jyéṣṭha (root ज्या jyā) ; भूयस् bhū́-yas, 'more,' भूयिष्ठ bhū́-y-iṣṭha (root भू bhū) ; प्रेयस् pré-yas, 'dearer,' प्रेष्ठ pré-ṣṭha (root प्री prī) ; श्रेयस् śré-yas, 'better' (Gk. κρείων), श्रेष्ठ śré-ṣṭha ; स्थिर sthi-rá, 'firm' : स्थेयस् sthé-yas.

b. Some comparatives and superlatives belong only in sense to their positives ;

e.g. नेदीयस् néd-īyas, नेदिष्ठ néd-iṣṭha, 'nearest,' to अन्तिक

antiká, 'near,' and कनीयस् kán-īyas, 'lesser,' कनिष्ठ kán-iṣṭha, 'least,' to अल्प álpa, 'small.'

a. In order to form the numbers from 20 to 100 not enumerated above, it is only necessary to remember that 2, 3, and 8 are द्वा dvā, त्रयः trayaḥ (τρεῖς), and अष्टा aṣṭā before 20 and 30 (द्वाविंशत् dvā́-triṃśat, त्रयस्त्रिंशत् tráyas-triṃśat, अष्टाविंशत् aṣṭā́-triṃśat), and द्वि dvi, त्रि tri, अष्ट aṣṭa before 80; both forms may be used with 40, 50, 60, 70, and 90.

b. The alternative designations of 19, 29, &c. are formed with the old past participle ऊन ū-na, 'diminished,' e.g. ūna-viṃśati, 'twenty diminished (by one).' By prefixing the necessary cardinal to this participle, other alternatives may be formed; e.g. त्र्यूनत्रिंशत् try-ūna-triṃśat, 'thirty diminished by three,' i.e. 27.

c. Similarly alternatives to 101, 102, &c. are formed by means of the adjective अधिक ádhi-ka, 'exceeding,' 'plus'; e.g. द्व्यधिकं शतम् dvy-adhikaṃ śatam, 'a hundred exceeded by two.'

d. The difference of sense in द्विशतम् dvi-śatam, त्रिशतम् tri-śatam, &c. is only to be distinguished by the accent, these compounds meaning 102, 103, &c., when accented on the first member, but 200, 300, &c., when accented on the last.

Declension of Cardinals.

105. Only the first four cardinals distinguish the genders.

1. एकः ékaḥ, एका ékā, एकम् ékam, following the declension of the pronominal adjectives, is inflected like सर्व sarva (120 b).

2. द्व dvá, 'two,' is declined like the dual of कान्त kānta: N.A. द्वौ dvaú, f. द्वे dvé, neut. द्वे dvé; I.D.Ab. द्वाभ्याम् dvā́-bhyām, G.L. द्वयोः dvá-y-oḥ.

3. a. त्रि trí, in the masc. and neut., is declined like the plural of शुचि śuc-i, except in the gen., which is formed as if from त्रय traya (the regular form त्रीणाम् trī-ṇ-ā́m is found in the Rig-veda). Its fem. base is तिस्र tisṛ́, the inflexion of which differs in the N.A.G. from that of the regular bases in ऋ ṛ.

b. चतुर् catúr, 'four,' in the masc. and neut., has the strong base चत्वार् catvā́r (cp. quatuor). Its feminine base is चतस्र cátasṛ, which is inflected exactly like तिस्र tisṛ́.

106. a. षष् ṣáṣ, 'six': N.A. षट् ṣáṭ (27), I. षड्भिः ṣaḍ-bhíḥ, D.Ab. षड्भ्यः ṣaḍ-bhyáḥ, G. षण्णाम् ṣaṇ-ṇ́ām, L. षट्सु ṣaṭ-sú.

b. पञ्च páñca, 'five,' is declined like a neuter in अन् an (90, 2) except in the gen., where it follows कान्त kānta: N.A. पञ्च páñca, I. पञ्चभिः pañcá-bhiḥ, D.Ab. पञ्चभ्यः pañcá-bhyaḥ, G. पञ्चानाम् pañcā-n-ā́m, L. पञ्चसु pañcá-su.

The numerals for 7 to 10 are declined in exactly the same way. अष्ट aṣṭá, however, has also the following alternative forms:— N.A. अष्टौ aṣṭaú, I. अष्टाभिः aṣṭā-bhíḥ, D. Ab. अष्टाभ्यः aṣṭā-bhyáḥ, L. अष्टासु aṣṭā-sú.

c. The numerals 3 to 19 are used as plural adjectives, agreeing with their substantives in number and case (3 and 4 in gender also). The numerals from 20 to 99 (which are feminine), as well as शतम् śatám and सहस्रम् sahásram, are used as singular nouns, the accompanying substantive being either in the same case or in the genitive: शतेन दासीभिः or दासीनाम् 'with a hundred female slaves.'

Ordinals.

107. The ordinals from 1st to 10th are formed with various suffixes: थ tha (for original त ta), म ma, य ya, ईय īya, or a combination of the first with the second and fourth (थम tha-ma, तीय t-īya); those from 11th to 19th have the same form as the cardinals (excepting change of accent and inflexion like कान्त kānta); while those from 20th onward either abbreviate the cardinal or add the suffix तम tama to it. The feminine of all but 1st to 4th is formed with ई ī.

2nd द्वितीयः dvit-íyaḥ, f. ā (from an older dvi-tá).

3rd त्रितीयः trit-íyaḥ, f. ā (Lat. tertius; from an older tri-tá, Gk. τρί-τος).

4th चतुर्थः catur-tháḥ, f. í (τέ-ταρ-τος, quar-tus);

[1] These are properly not genitives at all, but neuter singulars

a. The following unaccented forms, which are not allowed at the beginning of a sentence, are also used: Sing. A. मा mā, त्वा tvā; D. G. मे me, ते te. Dual, A. D. G. नौ nau (Gk. νῶι), वाम् vām. Plur. A. D. G. नः naḥ (Lat. nōs), वः vaḥ (Lat. vōs).

B. Demonstrative Pronouns.

110. The base त ta (in composition तद् ta-d), 'that' (also = 'he, she, it'), may be taken as the type of the pronominal declension.

| | Singular. | | | Plural. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | masc. | neut. | fem. | masc. | neut. | fem. |
| N. | सः sáḥ[1] तद् tá-d | | सा sā́ | ते té (τοί) | तानि tā́ni | ताः tā́ḥ |
| A. | तम् tám तद् tá-d | | ताम् tā́m | तान् tā́n | तानि tā́ni | ताः tā́ḥ |
| I. | तेन téna | | तया táyā | तैः taíḥ (τοῖς) | | ताभिः tā́-bhiḥ |
| D. | तस्मै tá-smai | | तस्यै tá-syai | तेभ्यः té-bhyaḥ | | ताभ्यः tā́-bhyaḥ |
| Ab. | तस्मात् tá-smāt | | तस्याः tá-syāḥ | तेषाम् té-ṣām[3] | | तासाम् tā́-sām[4] |
| G. | तस्य tá-sya[2] | | | | | |
| L. | तस्मिन् tá-smin | | तस्याम् tá-syām | तेषु té-ṣu | | तासु tā́-su |

Dual.

N. A. m. तौ taú, f. ते té, n. ते té.

I. D. Ab. m. f. n. ताभ्याम् tā́-bhyām; G. L. तयोः tá-y-oḥ.

of possessive adjectives, meaning 'belonging to us, our,' 'belonging to you, your,' which have come to be used as genitives. Similarly in German, a case of possessive pronouns, mein, dein, sein, came to be employed as the gen. of personal pronouns.

[1] Cp. 48; sá, sā, ta-d = Gk. ὁ, ἡ, τό, Gothic sa, sā, that-a (Engl. that, Lat. is-tud).

[2] Hom. Gk. τοῖο (for τόσιο). [3] Lat. is-tōrum.

[4] Lat. is-tārum, Gk. τᾶων (for τᾶσων).

111. Both the pronominal roots अ a and इ i (which here in some cases show a double inflexion) are employed in the declension of अयम् a-y-ám, 'this' (indefinitely).

DUAL.

N.A. m. f. n. अमू amū́; I.D.Ab. अमूभ्याम् amū́-bhyām; G.L. अमुयो: amú-y-oḥ.

a. A compound of त ta, 'that,' is एत e-tá, 'this.' It is declined exactly like the former: sing. N. एष: eṣá-ḥ (48, 66 b), एषा eṣā́, एतद् etá-d; A. एतम् etá-m, एताम् etā́-m, एतद् etá-d, &c.

b. The unaccented defective pronoun of the third person, एन ena ('he, she, it'), is declined in the A. of all numbers, I. sg., and G. L. dual: A. एनम् ena-m, एनाम् enā-m, एनद् ena-d; एनौ enau, एने ene, एने ene; एनान् enā-n, एनाः enā-ḥ, एनानि enāni; I. sg. एनेन enena, f. एनया ena-y-ā; G. L. du. एनयोः ena-y-oḥ.

C. Interrogative Pronoun.

113. The base of the interrogative pronoun क ka, 'who, which, what?' is inflected exactly like त ta, excepting that the N. A. neuter is किम् kí-m; e.g. N. कः káḥ, का ká, किम् kím; plur. के ké, काः káḥ, कानि kā́ni. L. sg. कस्मिन् ká-smin, f. कस्याम् ká-syām; pl. केषु ké-ṣu, f. कासु ká-su.

a. In derivation the bases कि ki and कु ku, as well as क ka, are used;

e.g. कियत् ki-y-at, 'how great?' कुत्र ku-tra, 'where?' कदा ka-dā, 'when?' As the first member of a compound किम् kim is generally employed, sometimes कु ku: किंरूप kiṃ-rūpa, adj. 'of what form?' कुकर्मन् ku-karman, n. ('what kind of'=) 'wicked deed.'

D. Relative Pronoun.

114. The base of the relative pronoun is य ya, 'who,' 'which.' It is declined exactly like त ta.

| | SING. | | | | PLUR. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| N. | यः | या | यद् | ये | याः | यानि |
| | yá-ḥ | yā́ | yá-d | yé | yā́ḥ | yā́ni |
| A. | यम् | याम् | यद् | यान् | याः | यानि |
| | yá-m | yā́-m | yá-d | yā́n | yā́ḥ | yā́ni |
| D. | यस्मै | यस्यै | यस्मै | येभ्यः | याभ्यः | येभ्यः |
| | yá-smai | yá-syai | yá-smai | yé-bhyaḥ | yā́-bhyaḥ | yé-bhyaḥ |

E. Reflexive Pronouns.

115. a. स्वयम् sva-y-ám, 'self,' is indeclinable (originally a nom. sing. like a-y-ám). It may express any person or number (e.g. 'myself,' 'himself,' 'yourselves'). It usually has the meaning of a nominative, but often of an instrumental, and sometimes of a genitive. It frequently also means 'spontaneously.'

b. आत्मन् ātmán, 'self,' is a masc. noun (declined like ब्रह्मन् brahman, 90, 3). It is used in the singular as a reflexive pronoun of all persons and genders.

c. स्वः sváḥ, स्वा svā́, स्वम् svám (Lat. suus), 'own,' is a reflexive adjective (declined like सर्व sarva, 120 b) referring to all three persons and numbers ('my, thy, his, our, your, their own'). It is also used (like आत्मन् ātman) in the oblique cases as a reflexive pronoun; e.g. स्वं निन्दन्ति svaṃ nindanti, 'they blame themselves.'

d. निज ni-ja, properly an adjective meaning 'inborn,' 'native,' is often used in the sense of a pronominal reflexive adjective (like स्व sva).

F. Possessive Pronouns.

116. Possessives are formed with the suffix ईय īya, from the bases of the personal pronouns मद् mad, त्वद् tvad, &c.: मदीय mad-īya, 'my,' त्वदीय tvad-īya, 'thy'; अस्मदीय asmad-īya, 'our,' युष्मदीय yuṣmad-īya, 'your'; तदीय tad-īya, 'his, her, its, their.'

a. From the genitives मम mama and तव tava are formed मामक māma-ká, 'my,' and तावक tāva-ka, 'thy' (cp. 109, foot-note).

G. Compound Pronouns.

117. By adding दृश् dṛś, दृश dṛśa, or दृक्ष dṛkṣa, to certain pronominal bases, the following compound pronouns have been formed:—

तादृश् tā-dṛś, तादृश tā-dṛśa, तादृक्ष tā-dṛkṣa, 'such' (lit. 'of that look').

यादृश् yā-dṛ́ś, यादृश yā-dṛ́śa, 'what like,' 'of what kind.'
ईदृश् ī-dṛ́ś, ईदृश ī-dṛ́śa, ईदृक्ष ī-dṛ́kṣa, 'such.'
कीदृश् kī-dṛ́ś, कीदृश kī-dṛ́śa, 'what like?'
मादृश mā-dṛśa, 'like me,' त्वादृश tvā-dṛśa, 'like thee.'

a. The feminine base of the compounds in दृश् dṛ́ś is the same as the masc. and neut.; e.g. nom. sing. m.f.n. तादृक् tādṛ́k.

The compounds in दृश dṛśa form the fem. with ई ī, those in दृक्ष dṛkṣa with आ ā; e.g. तादृशी tādṛśī, तादृक्षा tādṛkṣā.

118. By adding वत् vat and यत् yat to certain pronominal bases, the following compounds, implying quantity, have been formed:—

तावत् tā́-vat and एतावत् etā́-vat, 'so much'; यावत् yā́-vat, 'as much'; इयत् í-yat, 'so much,' कियत् kí-yat, 'how much?' These are all declined like nouns in वत् vat (86), and form their feminines in the same way (तावती tāvat-ī, इयती iyat-ī, &c.).

a. कति ká-ti, 'how many?' (Lat. quot), तति tá-ti, 'so many' (Lat. toti-dem), यति yá-ti, 'as many,' are uninflected in the N.A., but in the other cases are declined like शुचि śuci (98) in the plural.

119. The interrogative क ka, by the addition of चित् cit, चन cana, or अपि api, is changed to an indefinite pronoun, 'some,' 'some one': कश्चित् kaś cit, काचित् kā cit, किं चित् kiṃ cit; कश्चन kaś cana, काचन kā cana, किं चन kiṃ cana; कोऽपि ko 'pi, कापि kāpi, किमपि kim api.

a. In the same manner indefinite adverbs are formed: कदा ka-dā, 'when?' कदाचित् kadā cit, कदाचन kadā cana, 'some time or other,' 'once'; क्व kva, 'where?' न क्वापि na kvāpi, 'not anywhere,' 'nowhere.'

b. The relative preceding the interrogative renders it indefinite: यः कः yaḥ kaḥ, 'whosoever'; यस्य कस्य yasya kasya, 'of whomsoever.' Similarly यः कश्चित् yaḥ kaścit, यः कश्च yaḥ kaśca, or यः कश्चन yaḥ kaścana, 'whosoever.'

c. The relative pronoun, if doubled, assumes a distributive meaning: यो यः yo yaḥ, 'whoever, whatever in each case' (followed by a double correlative).

H. Pronominal Adjectives.

120. Several adjectives derived from, or allied in meaning to, pronouns, follow the pronominal declension (like त ta) either altogether or in part.

a. अन्य anyá, 'other,' अन्यतर anya-tará, 'either,' इतर í-tara, 'other,' एकतम eka-tamá, 'one (of many),' कतर ka-tará, 'which of two?' कतम ka-tamá, 'which of many?' follow the pronominal declension throughout, taking द् d in the N.A.V. sing. neut.: अन्यः anyá-ḥ, अन्या anyā́, अन्यद् anyá-d (cp. Lat. aliu-d); D. अन्यस्मै anyá-smai, L. अन्यस्मिन् anyá-smin; &c.

b. सर्व sárva, 'every,' 'all,' उभय ubhá-ya, 'both' (sg. and pl.), एक éka, 'one' (105), एकतर eka-tara, 'either,' differ only in taking म् m instead of द् d in the N.A. sing. neut.:

c. पूर्व pū́rva, 'prior,' 'east,' अवर áva-ra, 'posterior,' 'west,' अधर ádha-ra, 'inferior,' 'west,' उत्तर út-tara, 'subsequent,' 'north,' दक्षिण dákṣiṇa, 'south'; पर pára, 'subsequent,' अपर ápa-ra, 'other,' 'inferior,' अन्तर ánta-ra, 'outer,' स्व svá, 'own,' besides necessarily taking म् m in the N.A. sing. neut., may follow the nominal declension in the Ab. L. sing. m. n. and in the N. plur. masc.:

N.A.n. पूर्वम् pū́rva-m; Ab. m. n. पूर्वस्मात् pū́rva-smāt or पूर्वात्

pū́rvāt; L. पूर्वस्मिन् pū́rva-smin or पूर्वे pū́rve; N. pl. m. पूर्वे pū́rve or पूर्वाः pū́rvāḥ.

d. अर्ध ardhá, 'half,' अल्प álpa, 'little,' कतिपय kati-payá, 'some'; प्रथम prá-thama, 'first,' चरम cara-má, 'last,' द्वय dva-yá and द्वितय dví-taya, 'twofold' (and similar words in य ya and तय taya), are inflected like ordinary adjectives, except that they may follow the pronominal declension in the N. pl. masc.; e.g. चरमाः caramā́ḥ or चरमे caramé.

e. द्वितीय dvitī́ya and तृतीय tṛtī́ya may follow the pronominal declension throughout the singular;

e. g. D. m.n. तृतीयाय tṛtī́yāya or तृतीयस्मै tṛtī́ya-smai; L. f. तृतीयायाम् tṛtī́yā-yām or तृतीयस्याम् tṛtī́ya-syām; but N. pl. m. only तृतीयाः tṛtī́yāḥ.

f. Any of these pronominal words occurring at the end of possessive compounds (186) are declined like ordinary adjectives.

CONJUGATION

121. Sanskrit verbs are inflected with either active or middle terminations. The active voice is called Parasmai-pada, i. e. transitive (lit. 'word for another'). The middle voice is called Ātmane-pada, i.e. 'reflexive' (lit. 'word for oneself'). The passive takes the terminations of the Ātmanepada; with which it coincides except in the present and imperfect (where it forms its base with the suffix य ya), and in the third sing. aorist.

a. The Sanskrit verb has in each tense and mood three numbers, Singular, Dual, and Plural, with three persons in each.

122. There are in Sanskrit five tenses conjugated in the indicative: 1. Present (with imperative and optative moods); 2. Imperfect; 3. Perfect; 4. Aorist (with a kind of optative called Benedictive or Precative); 5. Future (with the Conditional, a kind of past future).

There are also participles connected with three of these tenses, present, perfect, and future; and one infinitive (167), a verbal noun unconnected with any tense.

a. Classical Sanskrit has neither a pluperfect tense nor a subjunctive mood (excepting the survivals of it in the first persons imperative); nor has it an imperative or a proper optative of any tense except the present. There are, therefore, far fewer verbal forms in non-Vedic Sanskrit than in Greek.

The Present Group.

123. While the perfect, aorist, and future tenses add the terminations directly (or after inserting a sibilant) to the root, the present group (the present with its moods and the imperfect) forms a special base, which is made in ten different ways. Hence the native Sanskrit grammarians have divided all verbs into ten classes. The tenth class, which is really a secondary formation, retains its present base in nearly all the other verbal forms also, as do the secondary verbs generally (causatives, desideratives, intensives, denominatives).

The Ten Classes.

124. The ten classes are divided into two conjugations. In the first, comprising the first, fourth, sixth, and tenth classes, the present base ends in अ a, and remains unchanged throughout.

In the second conjugation, which comprises all the remaining classes, the terminations are added directly to the final of the root or to the suffixes उ u, नु nu, ना nā (नी nī, न् n), and the present base is changeable, being either strong or weak.

A. First Conjugation.

125. 1. The first or Bhū class adds अ a to the last letter of the root, which, being accented, takes Guṇa of a final vowel (short or long) and of a short medial vowel followed by one consonant; e.g. भू bhū, 'be,' forms the present base भव bháv-a; बुध् budh, 'know': बोध bódh-a.

2. The sixth or Tud class adds an accented अ á to the root, which (being unaccented) has no Guṇa. Before this अ á final ऋ ṝ changes to इर् ir. E.g. तुद् tud, 'strike': तुद tud-á; कॄ kṝ, 'scatter': किर kir-á.

3. The fourth or Div class adds य ya to the last letter of the root, which is accented (but the weakening of the root in some cases points to the accent having originally been on the य ya); e.g. नह् nah, 'bind': नह्य náh-ya; दिव् div, 'play': दीव्य dív-ya (60).

4. The tenth or Cur class adds the suffix अय áya, before which a final vowel takes Vṛddhi, but a short medial vowel followed by one consonant takes Guṇa; e.g. चुर् cur, 'steal': चोरय cor-áya. Short medial अ a followed by one consonant is in most cases lengthened; e.g. कम् kam: कामय kām-áya, 'desire.'

B. Second Conjugation.

126. The strong forms are—

(1) The singular present and imperfect active.

(2) All first persons imperative active and middle.

(3) The third person singular imperative active.

In the strong forms the radical vowel or the affix, being accented, is strengthened; while in the weak forms it remains short because the terminations are accented.

a. In the ninth class the accented form of the affix is ना nā́, the unaccented नी nī or न् n ; in the seventh they are respectively न ná and न् n.

127. 1. The second or Ad class adds the terminations directly to the root, which in the strong forms takes Guṇa if possible (125, 1); e.g. अद् ad, 'eat': अद्मि ád-mi, अत्सि át-si, अत्ति át-ti; इ i, 'go': एमि é-mi, एषि é-ṣi, एति é-ti; लिह् lih, 'lick': लेह्मि léh-mi, लेक्षि lék-ṣi (68 a), लेढि lé-ḍhi (68 b).

a. This and the seventh are the most difficult classes to conjugate, as terminations beginning with various consonants come into contact with the final consonants of roots, and consequently many rules of internal Sandhi have to be applied.

2. The third or Hu class adds the terminations directly to the reduplicated root, which in the strong forms takes Guṇa if possible; e.g. हु hu, 'sacrifice': जुहोमि ju-hó-mi, 'I sacrifice'; जुहुमः ju-hu-máḥ, 'we sacrifice.'

a. The intensives conjugated in the active (172) follow this class.

3. The seventh or Rudh class adds the terminations directly to the final consonant, before which न ná is inserted in the strong, and न् n in the weak forms; e.g. युज् yuj, 'join': युनज्मि yu-ná-j-mi, 'I join'; युञ्जमः yuñj-máḥ, 'we join.'

4. The fifth or Su class adds नु nu, which takes Guṇa in the strong forms, to the root; e.g. सु su, 'press out': सुनोमि su-nó-mi; सुनुमः su-nu-máḥ.

5. The eighth or Tan class adds उ u, which takes Guṇa in the strong forms, to the root; e.g. तन् tan, 'stretch': तनोमि tan-ó-mi; तनुमः tan-u-máḥ.

a. All the (seven) verbs of this class end in न् n, except कृ kṛ, 'do,' which has an irregular present base: करोमि kar-ó-mi (134 E).

6. The ninth or Krī class adds to the root ना nā́ in the strong forms, and in the weak नी nī before consonants and न् n

The Augment.

128. The imperfect, the aorist, and the conditional prefix to the root accented अ á as their augment, which forms Vṛddhi with an initial vowel; e.g. बुध् budh: 3. sing. imperf. अबोधत् á-bodha-t; उन्द् und, 'wet': उनत्ति u-ná-t-ti, 'he wets,' औनत् aú-na-t, 'he wetted'; ऋ ṛ, 'go': ऋच्छति ṛcchá́ti, 'he goes,' आर्च्छत् árcchat, 'he went.'

a. The augment is dropped in the imperf. and aorist (which are then used imperatively) after the prohibitive particle मा mā́ (μή): मा कार्षीत् or करोत् mā kārṣīt or karot, 'may he not do it.'

Reduplication.

129. Five verbal forms take reduplication in Sanskrit: the present base of the third conjugational class, the perfect, one kind of aorist, the desiderative, and the intensive. Each of these five has certain peculiarities, which must be treated separately under the special rules of reduplication (130, 135, 149, 170, 173). Common to all are the following.

General Rules of Reduplication.

1. The first syllable of a root (i.e. that portion of it which ends with a vowel) is reduplicated; e.g. बुध् budh: बुबुध् bu-budh.

2. Aspirated letters are represented by the corresponding unaspirated; e.g. भिद् bhid, 'cut': बिभिद् bi-bhid; धू dhū, 'shake': दुधू du-dhū.

3. Gutturals are represented by the corresponding palatals, ह् h by ज् j; e.g. कम् kam, 'love': चकम् ca-kam; खन् khan, 'dig': चखन् ca-khan; गम् gam, 'go': जगम् ja-gam; हस् has, 'laugh': जहस् ja-has.

4. If the root begins with more than one consonant, the first only is reduplicated; e.g. क्रुश् kruś, 'shout': चुक्रुश् cu-kruś; क्षिप् kṣip, 'throw': चिक्षिप् ci-kṣip.

5. If a root begins with a sibilant followed by a hard consonant, the latter is reduplicated; e.g. स्तु stu, 'praise': तुष्टु tu-ṣṭu (66 b); स्था sthā, 'stand': तस्था ta-sthā; श्चुत् ścut, 'drip': चुश्चुत् cu-ścut; स्कन्द् skand, 'leap': चस्कन्द् ca-skand. But स्मृ smṛ, 'remember': सस्मृ sa-smṛ (m is soft).

6. If the radical vowel, whether final or medial, is long, it is shortened in the reduplicative syllable; e.g. गाह् gāh, 'enter': जगाह् ja-gāh; क्री krī, 'buy': चिक्री ci-krī; कूज् kūj, 'hum': चुकूज् cu-kūj.

7. If the radical (not final) vowel is ए e, it is represented by इ i; if ओ o or औ au, by उ u; e.g. सेव् sev, 'worship': सिषेव् si-ṣev (66 b); ढौक् ḍhauk, 'approach': डुढौक् ḍuḍhauk.

8. Roots which, according to the native Sanskrit grammarians, end in ए e, ऐ ai, ओ o are more correctly stated to end in आ ā, and are so treated in reduplication: गै gai, 'sing,' 3. sing. perfect जगौ ja-gau.

Special Rule of Reduplication for the Third Class.

130. ऋ ṛ and ॠ ṝ are represented in reduplication by इ i: भृ bhṛ, 'bear': बिभर्ति bí-bhar-ti; पॄ pṝ, 'fill': पिपर्ति pí-par-ti.

Terminations.

131. The following table gives the terminations, which are on the whole the same for all verbs, of the present group. The chief difference is in the optative, which is characterized by ए e in the first, and या yā́ and ई ī in the second conjugation. It will prevent confusion to remember that the present indicative has the primary (-mi, -si, -ti, &c.), while the imperative (with some variations) and the optative, as well as the imperfect, have the secondary terminations (-m, -s, -t, &c.). Of the other tenses, the future takes the primary, and the aorist, with the benedictive and the conditional, takes the secondary terminations; while the perfect takes in the active (with many variations) the secondary, and in the middle, the primary endings.

In order to understand clearly the difference between the two conjugations, the following points should be noted. In the first or a-conjugation (as in the a-declension), the terminations are never accented, but always the same syllable of the base (the root in the first and fourth, the affix in the sixth and tenth classes), which therefore remains unchanged. On the other hand, in the second conjugation (as in the declension of changeable bases) the accent falls on the strong base, which is shortened in the weak forms by the shifting of the accent to the terminations. In the second conjugation, therefore, the terminations are accented except in the strong forms (126) of the present. The same would apply to the imperfect, were it without an augment (128).

1. The final अ a of the first conjugation is lengthened before म् m or व् v; e.g. भवामि bhávā-mi, भवावः bháv-ā-vaḥ.

2. Terminations beginning with vowels should be added in the first conjugation after dropping the final अ a; e.g. अभवम् á-bhav-am, भवेत् bháv-et.

3. The terminations of the first conjugation, given in the above table as beginning with ए e, really contain the final अ a of the base + ई ī; but on practical grounds it is preferable to assume that they begin with ए e.

4. Verbs of the first conjugation take no termination in the 2. sing. imperat. Par. (being exactly parallel with the vocative singular of the a-declension). Those of the second take धि dhi (Gk. θι) after consonants, हि hi after vowels. But—

(a) in the ninth class आन āna takes the place of धि dhi: मथान math-āná[1] (but क्रीणीहि krī-ṇī-hí).

(b) हि hi is dropped in the fifth and eighth classes, if the उ u is preceded by a single consonant: सुनु su-nú (but आप्नुहि āp-nu-hí).

(c) In the third class जु hu adds धि dhi (instead of हि hi) after a vowel: जुजुधि ju-hu-dhí.

5. Verbs of the third class and reduplicated bases (cp. 134, A 4, B, 172) drop the न् n of the 3. plur. pres. indic. and imperat. Par.

[1] The origin of this peculiar imperative is uncertain. It resembles the vocative of an Ātmanepada participle in -āná (158) formed from the root, but, being used as a verbal form, without the vocative accent (cp. the use of the middle participle in Lat. as a 2. pl. impv., e.g. legi-minī). It may possibly be derived from the strong base (found sometimes in the 2. impv. in the Veda, e.g. gṛh-ṇā-hi) math-nā with the suffix न na (which is found in the Vedic 2. pl. impv., e.g. i-ta-na), mathnā-na being dissimilated to mathā-na (cp. jā-nā-mi for jñā-nā-mi, 134, F 2).

In the Ātm. of the whole second conjugation the न् n of the 3. plur. pres. impf. impv. is rejected.

6. Verbs of the third class and reduplicated bases (cp. 134, A 4, B, 172) take उस् us instead of अन् an in the 3. plur. impf. Par. Those of the second class which end in आ ā, as well as विद् vid, 'know,' and द्विष् dviṣ, 'hate,' may do so. Before this suffix a final आ ā is dropped, while ई ī, उ u, ऋ ṛ are guṇated; e.g. भी bhī, 'fear': अबिभयुः á-bi-bhay-uḥ; अजुहवुः á-ju-hav-uḥ; अयान् á-yā-n or अयुः á-y-uḥ.

Paradigms.

132. As the four classes of the first conjugation are inflected exactly alike, one paradigm will suffice for them. The same applies to the fifth and eighth classes. In the second class द्विष् dviṣ has been used for the paradigm, because it illustrates better than अद् ad both the rules of internal Sandhi and the difference between strong and weak forms.

Irregularities of the Present Base.

First Conjugation.

133. A. First or Bhū Class. 1. क्रम् kram, 'step,' आ-चम् ā-cam, 'sip,' गुह् guh, 'conceal,' ष्ठिव् ṣṭhiv, 'spit,' lengthen their vowel: क्राम krā́m-a, आचाम ā-cā́m-a, गूह gū́h-a, ष्ठीव ṣṭhī́v-a; मृज् mṛj, 'cleanse,' takes Vṛddhi: मार्ज mā́rj-a; सद् sad, 'sink,' substitutes ई ī for अ a: सीद् sī́d-a (for si-s[a]da: Lat. sīdo).

2. गम् gam, 'go,' यम् yam, 'restrain,' form the present base with च्छ cha (Gk. σκ): गच्छ gá-ccha, यच्छ yá-ccha (also इष् iṣ, 'desire,' and ऋ ṛ, 'go,' in the sixth class).

3. घ्रा ghrā, 'smell,' पा pā, 'drink,' स्था sthā, 'stand,' reduplicate with इ i: जिघ्र jí-ghra, पिब pí-ba (Lat. bi-bo), तिष्ठ tí-ṣṭha (Gk. ἵ-στη-μι, Lat. sisto).

4. दंश् daṃś, 'bite,' मन्थ् manth, 'churn,' सञ्ज् sañj, 'adhere,' स्वञ्ज् svañj, 'embrace,' drop the nasal: दश् dáś-a, मथ máth-a, सज sáj-a, स्वज sváj-a.

5. दृश् dṛś, 'see,' ध्मा dhmā, 'blow,' म्ना mnā, 'study,' substitute पश्य páś-ya, धम dhám-a, मन mán-a.

B. Fourth or Div Class. 1. तम् tam, 'languish,' भ्रम् bhram, 'roam,' श्रम् śam, 'cease,' श्रम् śram, 'be weary,' मद् mad, 'rejoice,' lengthen their vowel: ताम्य tā́m-ya, माद्य mā́d-ya, &c.

2. भ्रंश् bhraṃś, 'fall,' drops its nasal: भ्रश्य bhráś-ya; व्यध् vyadh, 'pierce,' takes Samprasāraṇa: विध्य vídh-ya; जन् jan, 'be born,' substitutes जा jā: जाय já-ya.

C. Sixth or Tud Class. 1. कृत् kṛt, 'cut,' मुच् muc, 'loosen,' लिप् lip, 'paint,' लुप् lup, 'break,' विद् vid, 'find,' सिच् sic, 'sprinkle,' insert a nasal: कृन्त kṛnt-á, मुञ्च muñc-á, लिम्प limp-á, लुम्प lump-á, विन्द् vind-á, सिञ्च siñc-á.

2. इष् iṣ, 'wish,' substitutes च्छ ch for ष् ṣ, and ऋ ṛ, 'go,' adds च्छ ch: इच्छ i-cchá, ऋच्छ ṛ-cchá (cp. 133, A 2).

3. प्रच्छ् prach, 'ask,' भ्रज्ज् bhrajj, 'fry,' व्रश्च् vraśc, 'cut,' take Samprasāraṇa: पृच्छ pṛcch-á, भृज्ज bhṛjj-á, वृश्च vṛśc-á.

Second Conjugation.

134. A. Second or Ad Class.

1. The root is irregularly strengthened in the following cases:—

a. यु yu, 'join,' and all other roots ending in उ u, take Vṛddhi instead of Guṇa in the strong forms before terminations beginning with consonants: यौमि yaú-mi, but अयवम् á-yav-am.

b. मृज् mṛj, 'cleanse,' takes Vṛddhi instead of Guṇa: 3. sing. मार्ष्टि márṣ-ṭi (cp. 64), 3. pl. मृजन्ति mṛj-ánti.

c. शी śī, 'lie down,' Ātm., takes Guṇa in its weak forms, besides inserting र् r before the terminations in the 3. plur. pres. impf. impv.: 3. sg. शेते śé-te (Gk. κεῖ-ται), 3. pl. शेरते śé-r-ate, शेरताम् śé-r-atām, अशेरत á-śe-r-ata.

2. The root is irregularly weakened in the following cases:—

b. अस् as, 'be,' drops its initial अ a in the optative and all the weak forms of the pres. and imperative: 3. sg. opt. स्यात् s-yā́t; 3. pl. pres. सन्ति s-ánti (sunt). The 2. sing. impv. is एधि e-dhí (for az-dhí).

c. हन् han, 'kill,' Par., drops its न् n before त् t and थ् th in the weak forms: 3. sg. हन्ति hán-ti, but 2. pl. हथ ha-thá. In the 3. pl. pres. impf. impv. the radical अ a is dropped and the ह् h becomes घ् gh: घ्नन्ति ghn-ánti, अघ्नन् á-ghn-an, घ्नन्तु ghn-ántu. The 2. sg. impv. is जहि ja-hí (for हहि ha-hí, treated as in reduplication).

3. A vowel or semivowel is irregularly inserted in the following cases:—

a. अन् an, 'breathe,' जक्ष् jakṣ, 'eat,' रुद् rud, 'weep,' श्वस् śvas, 'breathe,' स्वप् svap, 'sleep,' insert इ i before terminations beginning with consonants except य्; but ई ī or अ a before the स् s and त् t of the 2. 3. sg. impf. Par.: रोदिमि ród-i-mi, but रुदन्ति rud-ánti, रुद्याम् rud-yā́m; impf. 3. sg. अरोदीत् á-rod-ī-t or अरोदत् á-rod-a-t.

b. ईड् īḍ, 'praise,' and ईश् īś, 'rule' (both Ātm.), insert इ i before terminations beginning with स् s and ध् dh (i.e. 2. sg. pl. pres. and impv.): ईशिषे ī́ś-i-ṣe, ईशिध्वे ī́ś-i-dhve; ईशिष्व ī́ś-i-ṣva, ईशिध्वम् ī́ś-i-dhvam.

c. ब्रू brū, 'speak,' inserts ई ī in the strong forms before terminations beginning with consonants: ब्रवीमि bráv-ī-mi (but ब्रूमः brū-máḥ).

d. इ i preceded by अधि adhi, 'read' (Ātm. only), resolves ई ī in the pres. and ऐ ai (augm. a + i) in the impf. before vowels into ईय् īy and ऐय् aiy: pres. 1. अधीये adhī-y-é, 2. अधीषे adhī-ṣé; impf. sg. 1. अध्यैयि adhy-aí-y-i, 2. अध्यैथाः adhy-aí-thāḥ.

4. The reduplicated verbs चकास् ca-kās, 'shine,' जक्ष् ja-kṣ (for ja-gh[a]s, from ghas), 'eat,' जागृ jā-gṛ, 'wake' (intensive of gṛ), दरिद्रा dari-drā (intensive of drā, 'run'), 'be poor,' though accounted verbs of the second class, follow those of the third in taking अति ati and अतु atu in the 3. pl. pres. and impv., and उस् us for अन् an in the 3. pl. impf.: 3. sg. दरिद्राति dári-drā-ti, 3. pl. दरिद्रति dáridr-ati; 3. pl. impf. अजक्षुः á-jakṣ-uḥ.

a. शास् śās, 'rule,' follows the same analogy; it also takes शिष् śiṣ as its weak form before consonants: 3. sg. शास्ति śā́s-ti, du. शिष्टः śiṣ-ṭáḥ, pl. शासति śā́s-ati.

B. Third or Hu Class. 1. दा dā, 'give,' and धा dhā, 'place,' use दद् dad and दध् dadh as their bases in the weak forms.

दध् dadh (against 63 b) becomes धत् dhat before त् t and थ् th: दधामि da-dhā́-mi, but du. 1. दध्वः dadh-váḥ, 2. धत्थः dhat-tháḥ. The 2. sg. impv. Par. is देहि de-hí and धेहि dhe-hí.

2. मा mā, 'measure,' and हा hā, 'depart,' both Ātm., have मिमी mi-mī and जिही ji-hī as their present bases, dropping the ई ī before vowels: pres. sg. 1. जिहे jíh-e, 2. जिहीषे jíhī-ṣe, pl. 3. जिहते jíh-ate; impf. sg. 1. अजिहि á-jih-i, 2. अजिहीथाः á-jihī-thāḥ, pl. 3. अजिहत á-jih-ata.

a. हा hā, 'abandon,' Par., has जही jahī in the weak forms, dropping ई ī before vowels and य् y: 3. sg. जहाति jáhā-ti, but du. जहीतः jahī-taḥ, pl. जहति jah-ati; impv. 2. sg. जहीहि jahī-hi; opt. 1. sg. जह्याम् jah-yām.

C. Fifth or Su Class. 1. Roots ending in vowels may drop the उ u before व् v or म् m: सुनोमि su-nó-mi, but सुन्वः sun-váḥ or सुनुवः su-nu-váḥ.

2. Roots ending in consonants change उ u to उव् uv before vowels: शक्नुवन्ति śak-nuv-ánti.

3. श्रु śru, 'hear,' and धू dhū, 'shake,' have शृणु śṛ-ṇu and धुनु dhu-nu as their present bases.

D. Seventh or Rudh Class. अञ्ज् añj, 'anoint,' भञ्ज् bhañj, 'break,' हिंस् hiṃs, 'injure,' drop their nasal before inserting न na: अनज्मि a-ná-j-mi, भनज्मि bha-ná-j-mi.

E. Eighth or Tan Class. कृ kṛ, 'do,' takes करो kar-ó as its strong base, and as its weak कुरु kur-u, the उ u of which must be dropped before म् m, य् y, व् v: करोमि karó-mi, कुरुथः kuru-tháḥ; but कुर्वः kur-váḥ, कुर्मः kur-máḥ; कुर्याम् kur-yā́m. Other verbs of this class may drop the उ u before व् v and म् m as in the fifth.

F. Ninth or Krī Class. 1. धू dhū, 'shake,' पू pū, 'purify,' लू lū, 'cut,' shorten their vowel: धुनामि dhu-nā́-mi, पुनामि pu-nā́-mi, लुनामि lu-nā́-mi.

2. ज्ञा jñā, 'know,' and ग्रह् grah, 'seize,' are shortened to जा jā and गृह् gṛh: जानामि jā-nā́-mi; गृह्णामि gṛh-ṇā́-mi.

3. बन्ध् bandh, 'bind,' and मन्थ् manth, 'churn,' drop the nasal: बध्नामि badh-nā́-mi; मथ्नामि math-nā́-mi.

The Perfect Tense.

135. This tense is formed either by reduplication or periphrastically. Roots follow the former method, derivative verbs (chiefly causatives) the latter. There are also four roots with a prosodically long initial vowel (139 a, 1) which take the periphrastic perfect.

Special Rules of Reduplication.

1. ऋ ṛ, ॠ ṝ, ऌ ḷ are represented by अ a in the reduplicative syllable; e.g. कृ kṛ, 'do': चकार ca-kā́r-a; तॄ tṝ, 'cross': ततार ta-tā́r-a; क्लृप् klṛp, 'be able': चक्लृपे ca-klṛp-é.

2. Initial अ a or आ ā becomes आ ā; e.g. अद् ad, 'eat': आद् ā́d-a; आप् āp, 'obtain': आप ā́p-a (cp. 139 a, 1).

3. Roots beginning with इ i contract इ i + इ i to ई ī; but if the radical इ i take Guṇa or Vṛddhi, य् y is inserted between the reduplicative syllable and the root; e.g. इष् iṣ, 'desire,' 3. pl. ईषुः īṣ-úḥ (for i-iṣ-uḥ), but 1. sg. इयेष i-y-éṣ-a.

4. Roots beginning with or containing य ya or व va, and liable to Samprasāraṇa (cp. 137, 2 c), reduplicate with इ i and उ u: वच् vac, 'speak': उवाच u-vāc-a; यज् yaj, 'sacrifice': इयाज i-yāj-a.

136. The singular perfect active is strong, like the singular active present and imperfect, the root being accented; the remaining forms are weak, the terminations being accented. The endings are—

|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | ए é | (इ)वहे (i)-váhe | (इ)महे (i)-máhe |
| 2. | (इ)षे (i)-ṣé | आथे áthe | (इ)ध्वे (i)-dhvé |
| 3. | ए é | आते áte | इरे i-ré |

a. The terminations beginning with consonants are added with the connecting vowel इ i except in the eight verbs: द्रु dru, 'run,' श्रु śru, 'hear,' स्तु stu, 'praise,' स्रु sru, 'flow,' कृ kṛ, 'do,' भृ bhṛ, 'bear,' वृ vṛ, 'choose,' सृ sṛ, 'go,' where it must be omitted. The 3. pl. Ātm. retains the इ i even in these verbs. In 2. sg. Par. it is omitted by many other verbs also, and is optional in verbs in आ ā, as well as in most of those in इ i, ई ī, उ u.

The Strong Base.

1. Short vowels followed by a single consonant take Guṇa throughout the singular;

e.g. इष् iṣ, 'wish': इयेष् i-y-éṣ; बुध् budh, 'wake': बुबोध् bu-bódh; but जीव् jīv, 'live': जिजीव् ji-jīv.

2. Final vowels take Vṛddhi or Guṇa in the first person singular, Guṇa in the second, Vṛddhi only in the third; e.g. इ i, 'go': 1. इयाय i-y-ā́y-a or इयय i-y-áy-a; 2. इयेथ i-y-é-tha; 3. इयाय i-y-ā́y-a; कृ kṛ, 'do': 1. चकार ca-kā́r-a or चकर ca-kár-a; 2. चकर्थ ca-kár-tha; 3. चकार ca-kā́r-a.

3. Medial अ a followed by a single consonant takes Vṛddhi in 3. sg. and optionally in 1.; e.g. हन् han, 'kill': 1. जघान jaghā́n-a or जघन jaghán-a, 3. जघान jaghā́n-a.

4. Roots ending in आ ā (or diphthongs: 129, 8) take औ au in 1. 3. sg., retaining आ ā before थ tha in 2. sg. (cp. p. 107, a); e. g. धा dhā, 'place': 1. 3. दधौ da-dhaú, 2. दधाथ dadhá-tha.

a. ह्वे hve or ह्वा hvā, 'call,' is treated as हू hū: 3. sg. जुहाव ju-hāv-a.

The Weak Base.

137. 1. In the case of roots containing the vowels ĭ, ŭ, ṛ, the radical syllable remains unchanged, except by Sandhi;

e.g. बुध् budh: बुबुधिम bu-budh-i-ma; कृ kṛ: चकृम ca-kṛ-má; स्तु stu: तुष्टुम tu-ṣṭu-má.

a. Before terminations beginning with vowels final इ i, ई ī, ऋ ṛ if preceded by one consonant become य् y, र् r, if by more than one, इय् iy, अर् ar; while उ u, ऊ ū, and ऋ ṝ always become उव् uv and अर् ar; e.g. नी nī, 'lead': निन्युः ni-ny-úḥ; श्रि śri, 'resort': शिश्रियुः śi-śri-y-úḥ; कृ kṛ, 'do': चक्रुः ca-kr-úḥ; स्तृ stṛ, 'strew': तस्तरुः ta-star-úḥ; यु yu, 'join': युयुवुः yu-yu-v-úḥ; कॄ kṝ, 'scatter': चकरुः ca-kar-úḥ.

2. In the case of roots containing a medial अ a or a final आ ā, the radical syllable is weakened.

a. Roots in which अ a is preceded and followed by a single consonant (e.g. पत् pat), and which reduplicate the initial consonant unchanged (this excludes roots beginning with aspirates, gutturals, and for the most part व् v), contract the two syllables to one with the diphthong ए e (cp. Lat. căp-io, cēp-i). This contraction takes place even in 2. sg. Par. when थ tha is added with इ i (the strong form being used when थ tha is added without इ i);

e.g. पच् pac, 'cook': 2. sg. पेचिथ pec-i-thá (but पपक्थ papák-tha), 3. pl. पेचुः pec-úḥ; तन् tan, 'stretch': तेनिथ ten-i-thá, तेनुः ten-úḥ.

b. जन् jan, 'be born,' and four roots with medial अ a beginning with gutturals, viz. खन् khan, 'dig,' गम् gam, 'go,' घस् ghas, 'eat,' हन् han, 'kill,' weaken the root by dropping the radical vowel: 3. sg. Ātm. जज्ञे ja-jñ-é; 3. sg. Par. जगाम ja-gám-a, but 3. pl. जग्मुः ja-gm-úḥ; जघास ja-ghás-a, but जक्षुः ja-kṣ-úḥ; जघान ja-ghán-a, but जघ्नुः ja-ghn-úḥ (cp. 134, 2 c).

c. Five roots beginning with व va, viz. वच् vac, 'speak,' वद् vad, 'speak,' वप् vap, 'strew,' वस् vas, 'dwell,' वह् vah, 'carry'; also यज् yaj, 'sacrifice,' व्यध् vyadh, 'pierce,' स्वप् svap, 'sleep,' ग्रह् grah, 'seize,' take Samprasāraṇa. In the first five उ u + उ u (cp. 134, 3 a) contract to ऊ ū, in the sixth इ i + इ i to ई ī: 3. sg. उवाच u-vác-a, but pl. ऊचुः ūc-úḥ (for u-uc-úḥ); इयाज i-yáj-a, but ईजुः īj-uḥ (for i-ij-úḥ); सुष्वाप su-ṣváp-a, but सुषुपुः su-ṣup-úḥ; जग्राह ja-gráh-a, but जगृहुः ja-gṛh-úḥ.

d. Roots ending in आ ā drop it in all the weak forms, and optionally in 2. sg. Par. (see 136 a and 138, 3).

Irregularities.

1. भज् bhaj, 'share,' though beginning with an aspirate, follows the analogy of the contracting verbs with ए e (137, 2 a): 3. sg. बभाज ba-bhā́j-a, but 3. pl. भेजुः bhej-úḥ.

2. यम् yam, 'reach,' and वम् vam, 'vomit,' though beginning with य ya and व va, do not take Samprasāraṇa, but follow 137, 2 a: ययाम ya-yā́ma, but येमे yem-é; ववाम va-vām-a, but वेमुः vem-uḥ; while वस् vas, 'wear,' Ātm., does not weaken the root at all: ववसे va-vas-e.

3. विद् vid, 'know,' forms an unreduplicated perfect with present meaning: वेद véd-a, 'I know' (Gk. οἶδα, Germ. weiss), वेत्थ vét-tha (οἶσ-θα), वेद véd-a (οἶδε); विद्म vid-má (ἴδ-μεν, wissen), विद vid-á, विदुः vid-úḥ.

4. चि ci, 'gather,' जि ji, 'conquer,' हि hi, 'impel,' हन् han, 'kill,' revert to their original guttural in the radical syllable: चिकाय ci-kā́y-a, जिगाय ji-gā́y-a, जिघाय ji-ghā́y-a, जघान ja-ghā́n-a (cp. 137, 2 b).

[1] Or उवाच u-vā́c-a. [2] Or उवक्थ u-vák-tha.

5. अह् ah, 'say,' is defective, forming only 2. sg. dual; 3. sg. dual pl.: आत्थ át-tha, आह áh-a; आहथुः āh-áthuḥ, आहतुः āh-átuḥ; आऽुः āh-úḥ.

6. अर्च् arc, 'praise,' reduplicates with the syllable आन् ān: 3. sg. आनर्च ān-árc-a. This is a survival of a reduplication, appearing in a few Vedic verbs, which started from roots with initial अ a followed by a nasal (अंप्स् aṃś, 'reach': आनंश ān-áṃś-a).

7. भू bhū, 'be,' has the double irregularity of reduplicating with अ a and retaining its ऊ ū throughout (cp. Gk. πε-φύ-āσι):

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| बभूव ba-bhū́-v-a | बभूविव ba-bhū-v-i-vá | बभूविम ba-bhū-v-i-má |
| बभूथ ba-bhū́-thaबभूविथ ba-bhū́-v-i-tha | बभूवथुः ba-bhū-v-áthuḥ | बभूव ba-bhū-v-á |

Periphrastic Perfect.

139. The verbs which cannot reduplicate, form their perfect by making an abstract feminine noun in the accusative, आम् ā́m, and adding to this the reduplicated perfect of कृ kṛ, 'do,' अस् as, 'be,' or भू bhū, 'be.' This formation started with the employment of the transitive verb कृ kṛ, e.g. गमयां चकार gamayā́ṃ cakāra, 'he did going,' i.e. 'he did go'; but in classical Sanskrit the periphrastic perfect is usually formed with अस् as, the other two auxiliaries occurring only exceptionally. The periphrastic perfect is almost entirely limited to the derivative verbs in अय aya (tenth class, causatives, and denominatives); e.g. बोधयामास bodhayā́m āsa, 'he awakened.' Hardly any instances of desideratives or intensives are found in this tense.

a. The following are the few cases in which primary verbs take the periphrastic perfect:—

1. Four roots beginning with a prosodically long vowel: आस् ās, 'sit,' ईक्ष् īkṣ, 'see,' उज्झ् ujjh, 'forsake,' एध् edh, 'thrive'; e.g. आसां चक्रे ās-ā́ṃ cakre, 'he sat.'

2. The reduplicated roots चकास् ca-kās, 'shine,' and जागृ jā-gṛ, 'awake' (properly an intensive, 134, 4): चकासां चकार cakās-āṃ cakāra, जागरामास jāgar-ām āsa.

3. The roots भृ bhṛ, 'bear,' and, in the Epics, नी nī, 'lead,' and ह्वे hve, 'call,' optionally: बिभरां बभूव bibhar-āṃ babhūva or बभार ba-bhār-a, 'he bore'; (आ)नयामास (ā-)nayām āsa or निनाय ni-nā́y-a, 'he brought,' ह्वयामास hvay-ām āsa or जुहाव ju-hā́v-a, 'he called.'

Aorist.

140. There are two kinds of aorists in Sanskrit, as in Greek. The First is formed by inserting a sibilant between root and termination, the Second by adding the terminations to the root with or without the connecting vowel अ a. Both aorists take the augment (which is accented) and the secondary terminations. There are four forms of the First Aorist, and three of the Second.

First Aorist.

141. The first form is made by adding to the augmented root the suffix स sa, and is inflected like an imperfect of the first conjugation (á-bhava-t). It is taken by only a few roots ending in श् ś and ह् h (which become क् k before स् s: 64 b, 68 a), and containing the vowels इ i, उ u, or ऋ ṛ, which remain unchanged;

e.g. दिश् diś, 'show': 3. sg. अदिक्षत् á-dik-ṣa-t. This form corresponds to the Greek First Aorist (ἔ-δειξε, Lat. dixi-t).

a. Similarly inflected is the aorist of दुह् duh, 'milk,' the base of which is á-dhuk-ṣa (55): Par. 1. sg. अधुक्षम् á-dhuk-ṣa-m, Ātm. अधुक्षि á-dhukṣ-i.

142. The other three forms of the First Aorist are made by adding to the augmented root the suffixes स् s, इष् i-ṣ, सिष् s-i-ṣ respectively, and are inflected like imperfects of the second conjugation (á-dveṣ-am). The siṣ-form is used in the Par. only, by a few roots ending in आ ā, which remains unchanged throughout. The s-form and iṣ-form are used by roots ending in other vowels than आ ā or in consonants; both have Vṛddhi throughout the Parasmaipada (a medial vowel has only Guṇa in the iṣ-form) and Guṇa throughout the Ātmanepada (a medial vowel and final ऋ ṛ remain unchanged in the s-form). All three forms have the peculiar endings ईस् īs, ईत् īt in the 2. 3. sing. Par., and must take उस् us in the 3. plur.

a. कृ kṛ, 'do,' as ending in ऋ ṛ, is similarly inflected: Par. अकार्षम् á-kār-ṣ-am, अकार्षीः á-kār-ṣ-īḥ, अकार्षीत् á-kār-ṣ-īt, &c. Ātm. अक्रषि á-kṛ-ṣ-i, अक्रथाः á-kṛ-thāḥ, अक्रत á-kṛ-ta, &c.

Irregularities of the s-form.

144. 1. Terminations beginning with स्त् st or स्थ् sth drop their स् s if the base ends in a short vowel or in a consonant except र् r, म् m, or न् n (the two latter become Anusvāra): अक्रथाः á-kṛ-thāḥ, अच्छैत्त á-cchait-ta; but अकार्ष्ट á-kār-ṣṭa, from कृ kṛ, 'do'; अमंस्त á-maṃ-sta, from मन् man, 'think'; अरंस्त á-raṃ-sta, from रम् ram, 'be glad.'

2. The termination ध्वम् dhvam (before which the स् s of the aorist is always lost) becomes ढ्वम् ḍhvam when attached to a root ending in any other vowel than आ ā (i.e. when the स् s would have become the cerebral ष् ṣ): अनेढ्वम् á-ne-ḍhvam, अक्रढ्वम् á-kṛ-ḍhvam.

3. दा dā, 'give,' धा dhā, 'place,' स्था sthā, 'stand' (which take the second aorist in the Par., 148), change their vowel to इ i before the terminations of the Ātmanepada: अदिषि á-di-ṣi, अदिथाः á-di-thāḥ, अदित á-di-ta, अदिष्वहि á-di-ṣvahi, &c.

4. दृश् dṛś, 'see,' सृज् sṛj, 'create,' स्पृश् spṛś, 'touch,' take Vṛddhi with metathesis in the Par.;

e.g. 3. sg. अस्राक्षीत् á-srāk-ṣīt (cp. 64 a, foot-note 2), du. अस्राष्टाम् á-srāṣ-ṭām, pl. अस्राक्षुः á-srāk-ṣuḥ; Ātm. अस्रक्षि á-sṛk-ṣi, अस्रष्ठाः á-sṛṣ-ṭhāḥ (64 b), अस्रष्ट á-sṛṣ-ṭa, &c. Similarly अद्राक्षीत् á-drāk-ṣīt, अस्प्राक्षीत् á-sprāk-ṣīt, &c.

5. The aorist of दह् dah, 'burn,' and रुध् rudh, 'hinder,' is difficult owing to the Sandhi (cp. 68 a, 63 b): अधाक्षम् á-dhāk-ṣam, du. 2. अदाग्धम् á-dāg-dham, pl. 2. अदाग्ध á-dāg-dha; Ātm. अधक्षि á-dhak-ṣi, अदग्धाः á-dag-dhāḥ, अदग्ध á-dag-dha;

pl. 2. अधग्ध्वम् á-dhag-dhvam (63 a); अरौत्सम् á-raut-sam; du. 2. अरौद्धम् á-raud-dham (63 b), pl. 2. अरौद्ध á-raud-dha; Ātm. अरुत्सि á-rut-si, अरुद्धाः á-rud-dhāḥ, अरुद्ध á-rud-dha; pl. 2. अरुद्ध्वम् á-rud-dhvam, 3. अरुत्सत á-rut-sata.

Third or iṣ-form.

145. This form differs from the preceding merely in adding the स् s with the connecting vowel इ i (which changes it to ष् ṣ, 66 b). The terminations of the 2. 3. sg. are ईस् īs, ईत् īt (for iṣ-s, iṣ-t). Hardly any Parasmaipada forms from roots ending in vowels occur in classical Sanskrit, but an iṣ-aorist, inflected in both voices, which occurs in the older language, may be taken as a paradigm for the active as well as the middle.

Fourth or siṣ-form.

146. This form differs from the preceding one simply in prefixing an additional s to the suffix. It is conjugated in the Parasmaipada only, and is used by not more than six roots ending in आ ā. या yā, 'go,' may serve as an example:—

Second Aorist.

147. This aorist is like an imperfect formed directly from the root, the terminations being added with or without the connecting vowel अ a.

The first form is like an imperfect of the sixth class, the base being formed by adding अ a to the unmodified root. It corresponds to the Second Aorist of the first conjugation in Greek (ἔ-τυπ-ο-ν).

Irregularities.

1. ख्या khyā, 'tell,' substitutes अ a for आ ā: अख्यत् á-khya-t.

2. दृश् dṛś, 'see,' takes Guṇa: अदर्शत् á-darś-a-t.

3. अस् as, 'throw,' adds थ् th to the root: आस्थत् ás-th-a-t.

4. पत् pat, 'fall,' and वच् vac, 'speak,' form contracted reduplicated aorists: अपप्तम् á-pa-pt-am, अवोचम् á-voc-am (for á-va-uc-am, cp. Gk. ἔ-ειπ-ο-ν).

Second Form.

148. The imperfect terminations of the second conjugation are attached to the root. This form corresponds to the Second Aorist of the second conjugation in Greek: अधाम् á-dhā-m, 'I placed' (ἔ-θη-ν); अस्थात् á-sthā-t, 'he stood' (ἔ-στη); अगात् á-gā-t, 'he went' (ἔ-βη); अभूत् á-bhū-t, 'he became' (ἔ-φῡ). A few verbs ending in आ ā (as well as भू bhū, 'be') take this form. This आ ā is retained throughout except before the उस् us of the 3. pl. There is no Ātmanepada (cp. 144, 3).

| 3. अभूत् á-bhū-t | अभूताम् á-bhū-tām | अभूवन् á-bhū-v-an. |

Third or Reduplicated Form.

149. Excepting the primary verbs द्रु dru, 'run,' and श्रि śri, 'go,' this aorist has attached itself to the secondary conjugation in अय aya (tenth class and causatives). The base is formed by a peculiar reduplication of the root, to which अ a is attached. The inflexion is like that of an imperfect of the first conjugation. Upwards of forty verbs take this aorist in classical Sanskrit.

Special Rules of Reduplication.

1. अ a, आ ā, ऋ ṛ, ॠ ṝ, ऌ ḷ are represented in the reduplicative syllable by इ i.

2. The vowel of the reduplicative syllable, unless already long by position, is lengthened.

a. The quantity of the first three syllables of the base is almost invariably ∪—∪: ă-jī-jăn-at, ă-ji-grăh-at, ă-śi-śrĭ-y-at, ă-vī-vĭś-at, ă-dī-dṛ́ś-at, ă-dī-dăr-at (from dṛ), ă-du-drŭ-v-at, ă-mū-mŭc-at, ă-cī-kḷ̆p-at.

| 2. अमूमुचथाः | अमूमुचेथाम् | अमूमुचध्वम् |
| a-mūmuca-thāḥ | a-mūmuc-ethām | a-mūmuca-dhvam |
| 3. अमूमुचत | अमूमुचेताम् | अमूमुचन्त |
| a-mūmuca-ta | a-mūmuc-etām | a-mūmuc-anta. |

Irregularities.

1. दीप् dīp, 'shine,' and मील् mīl, 'wink,' retaining their long radical vowel, do not lengthen the reduplicative syllable: अदिदीपत् a-didīp-a-t, अमिमीलत् a-mimīl-a-t.

2. राध् rādh, 'succeed,' and व्यध् vyadh, 'pierce,' shorten their radical syllable: अरीरधत् ă-rī-rădh-a-t, अवीविधत् ă-vī-vĭdh-a-t (cp. 133, B 2).

Benedictive or Precative.

150. The active of this form is very rare, while the middle does not occur at all, in classical Sanskrit. It is an aorist optative, being formed by adding the terminations directly to the root. The terminations are those of the optative of the second conjugation, with स् s inserted between या yā and the personal inflexions. The 2. 3. sing. are यास् yās (for yā-s-s), यात् yāt (for yā-s-t : cp. 28). The Benedictive Par. of बुध् budh, 'know,' would be formed as follows :—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | बुध्यासम् budh-yā́-s-am | बुध्यास्व budh-yā́-s-va | बुध्यास्म budh-yā́-s-ma |
| 2. | बुध्याः budh-yā́-ḥ | बुध्यास्तम् budh-yā́-s-tam | बुध्यास्त budh-yā́-s-ta |
| 3. | बुध्यात् budh-yā́-t | बुध्यास्ताम् budh-yā́-s-tām | बुध्यासुः budh-yā́-s-uḥ |

Simple Future.

151. The future is formed by adding to the base the suffix स्य syá, or, with the connecting vowel इ i, इष्य i-ṣyá, and is inflected like a present of the first conjugation (bhávāmi). Most roots ending in vowels (except ऋ ṛ) take स्य sya, more than half of those ending in consonants take इष्य iṣya. Derivative verbs regularly take the latter.

1. Final vowels and prosodically short medial vowels take Guṇa; e.g. इ i, 'go': एष्यति e-ṣyá-ti; बुध् budh, 'perceive': भोत्स्यते bhot-sya-te; रुध् rudh, 'hinder': रोत्स्यति rot-sya-ti; कृ kṛ, 'do': करिष्यति kar-i-ṣyá-ti; भू bhū, 'be': भविष्यति bhav-i-ṣyá-ti.

a. Several roots take both forms; e.g. दह् dah, 'burn': धक्ष्यति dhak-ṣyá-ti and दहिष्यति dah-i-ṣya-ti.

b. Derivatives in अय aya retain their present base, dropping only their final अ a; e.g. चोरय cor-aya: चोरयिष्यति coray-i-ṣya-ti.

Irregularities.

1. Several verbs have र ra instead of अर् ar before स्य sya (cp. 144, 4): दृश् dṛś, 'see,' सृज् sṛj, 'emit,' सृप् sṛp, 'creep,' स्पृश् spṛś, 'touch': द्रक्ष्यति drak-ṣyá-ti, स्रक्ष्यति srak-ṣya-ti, स्रप्स्यति srap-sya-ti, स्प्रक्ष्यति sprak-ṣya-ti.

2. A few verbs strengthen the root with a nasal before स्य sya: नश् naś, 'be lost': नङ्क्ष्यति naṅk-ṣyati as well as नशिष्यति naś-i-ṣya-ti; मज्ज् majj, 'sink': मङ्क्ष्यति maṅk-ṣya-ti.

3. वस् vas, 'dwell,' changes its स् s to त् t before स्य sya: वत्स्यति vat-sya-ti.

4. ग्रह् grah, 'seize,' takes ई् ī instead of इ् i as its connecting vowel: ग्रहीष्यति grah-ī-ṣya-ti (cp. 160, 3 a).

Periphrastic Future.

152. It is formed by adding the present of the verb अस् as, 'be,' to the nom. masc. of a base in तृ -tṛ expressive of an agent

(101). The nom. sing. is used in all forms except the third persons dual and plural, in which the nom. dual and plural appear. The auxiliary is omitted in the third persons. The Parasmaipada only is found in use. About forty verbs, chiefly in the Epics, take this form of the future.

a. तृ tṛ is added, with or without इ i, to the guṇated root, much in the same way as स्य sya. But roots ending in ऋ ṛ, as well as गम् gam, 'go,' and हन् han, 'kill,' reject the connecting vowel: कृ kṛ: कर्तास्मि kartāsmi (but करिष्यामि kar-i-ṣyā́-mi); गन्तास्मि gantā́smi (but गमिष्यामि gam-i-ṣyā-mi).

Conditional.

153. This is a past tense of the future, meaning 'would have.' It is formed by turning the simple future into a past, which is inflected like an imperfect of the first conjugation (ábhavam). Extremely rare even in the Par., it is still rarer in the Ātm. It is to be met with chiefly in the Epics and the dramas.

E.g. भू bhū : Fut. भविष्यामि bhav-i-ṣyā́mi ; Cond. अभविष्यम् á-bhaviṣy-am, अभविष्यः á-bhaviṣya-ḥ, अभविष्यत् á-bhaviṣya-t, &c. ; Ātm. अभविष्ये á-bhaviṣy-e, &c.

इ i, 'go': Fut. एष्यामि e-ṣyā́-mi ; Cond. ऐष्यम् aíṣy-am, ऐष्यः aíṣya-ḥ, ऐष्यत् aíṣya-t, &c. ; Ātm. ऐष्ये aíṣy-e, &c.

Passive.

154. The passive, which takes the terminations of the Ātmanepada, differs from the latter only in the forms made from the present base (and in 3. sg. aor.). From the Ātm. of verbs of the fourth class it differs in accent only : नह्यते náh-ya-te, 'he binds'; नह्यते nah-yá-te, 'he is bound.'

Before adding य ya, the root undergoes the following changes :—

1. Final आ ā (or diphthongs : 129, 8) remains or becomes ई ī ; e.g. ज्ञा jñā, 'know': ज्ञायते jñā-yá-te ; पा pā, 'drink': पीयते pī-yá-te ; गा gā, 'sing' (or गै gai): गीयते gī-yá-te.

2. Final इ i and उ u are lengthened ; e.g. इ i, 'go': ईयते ī-yá-te ; चि ci, 'collect': चीयते cī-yá-te ; श्रु śru, 'hear': श्रूयते śrū-yá-te.

3. Final ऋ ṛ after a single consonant becomes रि ri, after two consonants, अर् ar ; e.g. कृ kṛ, 'do': क्रियते kri-yá-te ; स्मृ smṛ, 'remember': स्मर्यते smar-yá-te.

4. Final ॠ ṝ is changed to ईर् īr and, after labials, to ऊर् ūr ; e.g. कॄ kṝ, 'scatter': कीर्यते kīr-yá-te ; but पॄ pṝ, 'fill' (the only instance) : पूर्यते pūr-yá-te.

5. Roots ending in a consonant preceded by a nasal, lose the nasal ; e. g. भञ्ज् bhañj, 'break': भज्यते bhaj-yá-te.

6. Roots liable to Samprasāraṇa (137, 2 c) take it;

e.g. यज् yaj: इज्यते ij-yá-te; वच् vac: उच्यते uc-yá-te; ग्रह् grah: गृह्यते gṛh-yá-te; स्वप् svap: सुप्यते sup-yá-te.

7. Derivative verbs in अय aya drop the suffix while retaining the strong radical vowel; e.g. चोरय cor-aya: चोर्यते cor-yate; कारय kār-aya (from कृ kṛ): कार्यते kār-ya-te.

Irregularities.

1. खन् khan, 'dig,' has either खन्यते khan-yá-te or खायते khā-yá-te; जन् jan, 'beget,' has जायते já-ya-te, 'is born' (properly an Ātm. of class IV: cp. 133, B 2).

2. शास् śās, 'command,' has either शास्यते śās-ya-te or शिष्यते śiṣ-ya-te (cp. 134, 4 a).

3. ह्वा hvā, 'call' (or ह्वे hve), has हूयते hū-yáte (cp. 136, 4*a*); वा vā (वे ve), 'weave,' ऊयते ū-yá-te.

Aorist Passive.

155. The Ātm. of this tense supplies the place of the passive except in the third person singular, which has a special form. Here the augmented root adds the suffix इ i, which requires Vṛddhi of a final and Guṇa of a medial vowel (but अ a is lengthened) followed by a single consonant; after आ ā, a य् y is inserted;

e.g. श्रु śru: अश्रावि á-śrāv-i; कृ kṛ: अकारि á-kār-i; पद् pad, 'walk': अपादि á-pād-i; विश् viś, 'enter': अवेशि a-veś-i; मुच् muc, 'release': अमोचि á-moc-i; ज्ञा jñā, 'know': अज्ञायि á-jñā-y-i.

lengthen their अ a: अगमि a-gam-i, अरचि a-rac-i, अवधि a-vadh-i.

PARTICIPLES, GERUNDS, AND INFINITIVE.

I. Active Participles.

156. The base of the present and future participles Par. is formed with the suffix अत् at (cp. 85). The strong base is obtained by dropping the इ i of the 3. pl. pres. and fut. Par.: hence verbs of the third class and other reduplicated verbs (134, 4) have no nasal in the strong base of the pres. part., while the fut. part. always has अन्त् ant as its strong base. Thus:—

| Pres. 3. pl. | Pres. part. (strong). | Fut. 3. pl. | Fut. part. (strong). |
|---|---|---|---|
| भवन्ति | भवन्त् | भविष्यन्ति | भविष्यन्त् |
| bhávant-i (1) | bhávant | bhav-iṣyánt-i | bhaviṣyánt |
| क्रीणन्ति | क्रीणन्त् | क्रेष्यन्ति | क्रेष्यन्त् |
| krī-ṇ-ánt-i (9) | krīṇánt | kre-ṣyánt-i | kreṣyánt |
| जुह्वति | जुह्वत् | होष्यन्ति | होष्यन्त् |
| júhv-at-i (3) | júhvat | ho-ṣyánt-i | hoṣyánt |

a. The pres. part. of अस् as, 'be,' is सन्त् sánt (3. pl. सन्ति s-ánt-i), that of हन् han, 'slay,' is घ्नन्त् ghn-ánt (3. pl. घ्नन्ति ghn-ant-i)[1].

157. The reduplicated perfect participle (89) is most easily formed by taking the 3. pl. Par., with which the weakest base is identical (only that the स् s in the latter, being always followed by a vowel, appears as ष् ṣ). In forming the middle and strong bases from this, the final vowel of the root (changed to a semivowel before उस् us) must be restored, and in the case of verbs which, after dropping उस् us, become monosyllabic, इ i must be inserted :—

[1] On the declension of participles in अत् at see 85; on the formation of their feminine bases, 95 a.

| 3. Plur. | Weakest Base. | Strong Base. | Middle Base. |
|---|---|---|---|
| बभूवुः | बभूवुषा | बभूवांसम् | बभूवद्भिः |
| babhū-v-úḥ | babhū-vúṣ-ā | babhū-vā́ṃs-am | babhū-vád-bhiḥ |
| तेनुः | तेनुषा | तेनिवांसम् | तेनिवद्भिः |
| ten-úḥ | ten-úṣ-ā | ten-i-vā́ṃs-am | ten-i-vád-bhiḥ |
| ईजुः | ईजुषा | ईजिवांसम् | ईजिवद्भिः |
| īj-úḥ | īj-úṣ-ā | īj-i-vā́ṃs-am | īj-i-vád-bhiḥ |

a. The participle of the present perfect of विद् vid, 3. pl. विदुः vid-úḥ, does not take the intermediate इ i: inst. sg. विदुषा vidúṣ-ā; acc. विद्वांसम् vid-vā́ṃs-am; inst. pl. विद्वद्भिः vidvád-bhiḥ.

II. Ātmanepada and Passive Participles.

158. Present and Future Participles Ātmanepada and Passive are formed with the suffix मान māna, which is added after dropping the 3. pl. termination °न्ते -nte: Ātm. pres. भवमान bháva-māna, fut. भविष्यमान bhaviṣyá-māna; Pass. pres. भूयमान bhūyá-māna.

a. The second conjugation takes आन ānáa in the pres. Ātm.: जुह्वान júhv-āna; but fut. होष्यमाण hoṣyá-māṇa, Pass. pres. हूयमान hūyá-māna.

159. The Perfect Ātm. would be formed with the suffix आन ānáa, which is added after dropping the termination इरे ire of the 3. pl. Ātm.; e. g. बभूविरे babhūv-iré: बभूवान babhūv-ānáa. It has, however, become obsolete, only a few instances of it surviving in the sense of nouns or adjectives; e. g. अनूचान anu-ūc-ānáa (from anu-vac, 'having repeated' =) 'learned.'

160. The Perfect Passive Participle is formed with the suffixes न ná and the much commoner त tá.

1. न na, which is taken by primary verbs only, and is attached immediately to the root, is used by a good many roots ending in the long vowels आ ā, ई ī, ऊ ū, ॠ ṝ (which becomes ईर् īr or ऊर् ūr) and especially in द् d; e. g. म्ला mlā, 'fade': म्लान mlā-na; ली lī, 'cling': लीन lī-na; लू lū, 'cut': लून lū-na; स्तॄ stṛ, 'strew': स्तीर्ण stīr-ṇá; पॄ pṛ, 'fill': पूर्ण pūr-ṇá; भिद् bhid, 'cleave': भिन्न bhin-ná.

a. नुद् nud, 'push,' and विद् vid, 'find,' optionally take त ta: नुन्न nun-na or नुत्त nut-tá; विन्न vin-na or वित्त vit-tá.

b. The final of a few roots in ज् j, which take न na, reverts to the original guttural; e. g. भञ्ज् bhañj, 'break': भग्न bhag-na; भुज् bhuj, 'bend': भुग्न bhug-na; मज्ज् majj, 'sink': मग्न mag-na; विज् vij, 'tremble': विग्न vig-na.

2. त ta is attached to the root with or without the connecting vowel इ i: जित ji-ta, 'conquered'; पतित pat-i-ta, 'fallen.' When attaching the suffix immediately, the root has a tendency to be weakened in the usual way: verbs liable to Samprasāraṇa (137, 2 c) take it, आ ā is in some cases weakened to ई ī or even इ i, a final nasal is in several cases lost[1]; e. g. यज् yaj, 'sacrifice': इष्ट iṣ-ṭá; वच् vac, 'speak': उक्त uk-tá; स्वप् svap, 'sleep': सुप्त sup-tá; पा pā, 'drink': पीत pī-tá; स्था sthā, 'stand': स्थित sthi-tá; गम् gam, 'go': गत ga-tá; हन् han, 'kill': हत ha-tá.

b. दा dā, 'give,' forms its participle from its weak present base दद् dad: दत्त dat-tá. After certain verbal prepositions दत्त dattá is weakened to त्त t-ta; e. g. आत्त ā-tta (for ā-datta).

[1] On the peculiar Sandhi of roots ending in ह् h, cp. 68 a, b.

c. Several roots in अम् am, instead of dropping the nasal, retain it, and lengthen the preceding vowel; e.g. कम् kam, 'love': कान्त kānta.

d. ध्वन् dhvan, 'sound,' follows the analogy of कम् kam, &c.: ध्वान्त dhvāntá; while a few others in अन् an make their participle from a collateral form of the root in आ ā; e.g. खन् khan, 'dig': खात khā-tá; जन् jan, 'be born': जात jā-tá.

3. इत i-ta is taken by a considerable number of primary verbs which end either in double consonants or in single consonants not easily combining with त् t, and by all derivative verbs (which drop the final अ a or अय aya before it); e.g. शङ्क् śaṅk, 'doubt': शङ्कित śaṅk-i-ta; लिख् likh, 'scratch': लिखित likh-i-tá; ईप्स īp-sa, desiderative of आप् āp, 'obtain': ईप्सित īp-s-i-tá; कारय kār-aya, causative of कृ kṛ, 'do': कारित kār-i-ta.

a. The full form of the root is usually retained before इत ita; but वद् vad, 'speak,' and वस् vas, 'dwell,' usually take Samprasāraṇa: उदित ud-i-tá, उषित uṣ-i-ta; while ग्रह् grah, 'seize,' always takes Samprasāraṇa and the connecting vowel ई ī instead of इ i: गृहीत gṛh-ī-tá (cp. 151, 4).

161. By adding the possessive suffix वत् vat to the past pass. part. a new form of very common occurrence is made, which has the value of a perfect active participle; e.g. कृत kṛ-tá, 'done': कृतवत् kṛta-vat, 'having done.' It is generally used as a finite verb, the copula being omitted;

e.g. स तत् कृतवान् sa tat kṛtavān, 'he (has) done it'; सा तत् कृतवती sā tat kṛtavatī, 'she (has) done it' (cp. 89, foot-note 2).

162. The Future Passive Participle is formed with the suffixes य ya, तव्य tav-yà, and अनीय an-íya. They correspond in sense to the Lat. participle in -ndus.

1. Before the suffix य ya:—

a. Final आ ā becomes ए e; e.g. दा dā: देय dé-ya, 'to be given.'

b. Final इ i, ई ī take Guṇa, उ u, ऊ ū Guṇa or Vṛddhi, ऋ ṛ Vṛddhi; e.g. जि ji: जेय je-ya, 'to be conquered'; नी nī: नेय ne-ya, 'to be led'; हु hu: हव्य hav-yá, 'to be offered'; भू bhū: भाव्य bhāv-ya, 'about to be'; कृ kṛ: कार्य kār-yà, 'to be done.'

c. Medial इ i and उ u followed by a single consonant generally take Guṇa, अ a is sometimes lengthened, ऋ ṛ remains unchanged; e.g. भिद् bhid: भेद्य bhed-ya, 'to be split'; युज् yuj: योज्य yoj-ya, 'to be joined'; शक् śak: शक्य śak-ya, 'possible'; वच् vac: वाच्य vā́c-ya, 'to be said'; दृश् dṛś: दृश्य dṛ́ś-ya, 'to be seen.'

2. Before the suffix तव्य tavya, the root takes Guṇa, being treated in the same way as before the ता tā of the periphrastic future (152): जि ji, जेतव्य je-tavya, 'to be conquered'; भू bhū, भवितव्य bhav-i-tavyà; गम् gam, गन्तव्य gan-tavyà; दा dā: दातव्य dā-tavya.

3. Before the suffix अनीय an-īya, the root takes Guṇa;

e.g. चि ci: चयनीय cay-anīya; भू bhū: भवनीय bhav-anīya; कृ kṛ: करणीय kar-aṇīya.

a. The अय aya of the causative is rejected: भावय bhāv-aya: भावनीय bhāv-anīya, 'to be supposed.'

III. Gerund or Indeclinable Participle.

163. The suffix used for forming this participle from the simple verb is त्वा tv-á (an old instrumental singular of a base in तु tu). It is most easily attached to the root by substituting it for the त tá of the passive participle;

e.g. कृत kṛ-tá, 'done': कृत्वा kṛ-tvá́, 'having done'; उक्त uk-tá, 'spoken': उक्त्वा uk-tvā, 'having spoken'; गत ga-tá, 'gone': गत्वा ga-tvá́, 'having gone.'

a. The suffix of the causative, अय aya, is, however, not rejected: चोरित cor-i-ta, 'stolen,' but चोरयित्वा cor-ay-i-tvā, 'having stolen.'

164. If the verb is compounded with a preposition it takes य ya instead of त्वा tvā: भूत्वा bhū-tvā́, but संभूय saṃ-bhū́-ya; उक्त्वा uk-tvā, but प्रोच्य pra-úc-ya; from तॄ tṝ, 'cross,' अवतीर्य ava-tīr-ya, 'having descended'; from पॄ pṝ, 'fill,' संपूर्य saṃ-pūr-ya.

a. The suffix of the causative, अय aya, is retained (excepting the final अ a) before य ya if the radical vowel is short[1];

e.g. संगमय्य saṃ-gam-ay-ya from संगमय saṃ-gam-aya, 'cause to assemble'; but विचार्य vi-cār-ya from विचारय vi-cār-aya, 'consider.'

165. त्य tya is added, instead of य ya, to compound verbs ending in—a. A short vowel: जित्वा ji-tvā́, but विजित्य vi-jí-tya.

b. न् n, which is dropped; e.g. हन् han: °हत्य -ha-tya or °हन्य -han-ya; मन् man, 'think': °मत्य -ma-tya or °मन्य -man-ya. खन् khan, 'dig,' has °खाय -khā-ya; तन् tan, 'stretch': °ताय -tā-ya as well as °तत्य -ta-tya.

c. म् m, in a few optional cases, when the म् m is dropped; e.g. गम् gam: आगत्य ā-ga-tya or आगम्य ā-gam-ya; नम् nam, 'bend': प्रणत्य pra-ṇa-tya or प्रणम्य pra-ṇam-ya.

166. There is also a rare indeclinable participle in अम् am. It is most easily formed by adding the suffix to that form which the root assumes before the इ i of the 3. sg. aor. passive (155); e.g. श्रु śru: अश्रावि á-śrāv-i, 'it was heard': श्रावम् śrāv-am, 'having heard.'

IV. Infinitive.

167. The infinitive (=Lat. supine) is formed by adding तुम् tu-m (originally the acc. sg. of a verbal noun) to the form which the verb assumes before the ता tā of the periphrastic future (152), or the तव्य tavya (162, 2) of the future part. pass.; e.g. स्था sthā: स्थातुम् sthā́-tum (Lat. sta-tum), 'to stand'; बुध् budh: बोधितुम् bodh-i-tum, 'to awake'; भू bhū: भवितुम् bháv-i-tum, 'to be'; कृ kṛ: कर्तुम् kár-tum, 'to do'; दृश् dṛś: द्रष्टुम् dráṣ-ṭum, 'to see'; वह् vah: वोढुम् vóḍhum, 'to carry'; सह् sah: सोढुम् soḍhum, 'to bear'; चुर् cur: चोरयितुम् coray-i-tum, 'to steal.'

DERIVATIVE VERBS.

I. Causatives.

168. This, the commonest class of derivative verbs, is formed with the suffix अय aya in the same way as the tenth class (125, 4), and is similarly inflected; e.g. नी nī, 'lead': नाययं nāy-aya, 'cause to lead'; कृ kṛ, 'make': कारय kār-aya, 'cause to make'; विद् vid, 'know': वेदय ved-áya, 'cause to know'; सद् sad, 'sit': सादय sād-áya, 'set.'

b. The causative suffix is retained (as in the tenth class) throughout the conjugation excepting the (reduplicated) aorist.

Irregularities.

1. ज्ञा jñā, 'know,' ग्ला glā, 'languish,' म्ला mlā, 'fade,' स्ना snā, 'wash,' optionally shorten the radical vowel before पय paya: ज्ञापय jñā-p-aya or ज्ञपय jña-p-aya, &c.

2. A few roots ending in other vowels than आ ā take पय paya:

3. धू dhū, 'shake,' makes धूनय dhū-n-aya; प्री prī, 'love': प्रीणय prī-ṇ-aya, 'delight'; भी bhī, 'fear': भीषय bhī-ṣ-aya, as well as the regular भाय्य bhāy-aya, 'frighten.'

4. लभ् labh, 'take,' inserts a nasal: लम्भय lambh-aya; while दंश् daṃś, 'bite,' retains its nasal: दंशय daṃś-aya (cp. 133, 4).

5. हन् han, 'kill,' substitutes the denominative base घातय ghāta-ya.

II. Desideratives.

169. Desiderative bases are formed by adding to the root, reduplicated in a peculiar way, the suffix स sa, directly in about seventy cases, but with the connecting vowel इ i (i.e. इष i-ṣa) in nearly thirty others. Thus भू bhū, 'be,' becomes बुभूष bu-bhū-ṣa, 'desire to be,' but जीव् jīv, 'live,' जिजीविष ji-jīv-iṣa, 'desire to live.' Desideratives are inflected like verbs of the first conjugation (p. 90).

The accent being on the reduplicative syllable, the root as a rule remains unchanged, but—

1. Before स sa, final इ i and उ u are lengthened, while ऋ ṛ and ॠ ṝ become ईर् īr or, after labials, ऊर् ūr; e.g. चि ci, 'gather': चिचीष ci-cī-ṣa; स्तु stu, 'praise': तुष्टूष tu-ṣṭū-ṣa; तॄ tṝ, 'cross': तितीर्ष ti-tīr-ṣa; मृ mṛ, 'die': मुमूर्ष mu-mūr-ṣa.

2. Before इष iṣa, final ई ī, उ u, ॠ ṝ must take Guṇa; medial ऋ ṛ takes it also, medial उ u does so in one case, and medial इ i not at all; e.g. शी śī, 'lie': शिश्रयिष śi-śray-iṣa; शॄ śṝ, 'crush': शिश्नरिष śi-śar-iṣa; नृत् nṛt, 'dance': निनर्तिष ni-nart-iṣa; विद् vid, 'know': विविदिष vi-vid-iṣa, as well as विवित्स vi-vit-sa.

Special Rules of Reduplication.

170. 1. अ a, आ ā, and ऋ ṛ are represented by इ i in the reduplicative syllable (but ऊर् ūr, standing for ऋ ṛ after labials, reduplicates with उ u);

e. g. दह् dah, 'burn': दिधक्ष di-dhak-ṣa (55, 68 a); स्था sthā, 'stand': तिष्ठास ti-ṣṭhā-sa; सृज् sṛj, 'create': सिसृक्ष si-sṛk-ṣa (64), भृ bhṛ, 'bear': बुभूर्ष bu-bhūr-ṣa; विश् viś, 'enter': विविक्ष vi-vik-ṣa (64 b); बुध् budh, 'know': बुभुत्स bu-bhut-sa (55); दुह् duh, 'milk': दुधुक्ष du-dhuk-ṣa (55, 68 a).

2. The two or three roots beginning with vowels that take the desiderative, reduplicate internally with इ i: अश् aś, 'eat,' अशिशिष áś-iś-iṣa; ईक्ष् īkṣ, 'see': ईचिक्षिष īc-ikṣ-iṣa. आप् āp, 'obtain,' forms its base by contraction: ईप्स ípsa.

Irregularities.

171. 1. गम् gam, 'go,' and हन् han, 'kill,' lengthen their radical vowel; while मन् man, 'think,' lengthens the reduplicative vowel as well: जिगांस ji-gāṃ-sa (beside जिगमिष jí-gam-iṣa); जिघांस jí-ghāṃ-sa; मीमांस mī-māṃ-sa, 'reflect.'

2. ग्रह् grah, 'seize,' प्रच्छ् prach, 'ask,' स्वप् svap, 'sleep,' take Samprasāraṇa: जिघृक्ष ji-ghṛk-ṣa (55), पिपृच्छिष pi-pṛcch-iṣa, सुषुप्स su-ṣup-sa.

3. दा dā, 'give,' धा dhā, 'place,' मा mā, 'measure,' पद् pad, 'go,' रभ् rabh, 'grasp,' लभ् labh, 'take,' शक् śak, 'be able,' contract in such a way as to retain only the reduplicative vowel: दित्स dí-t-sa, धित्स dhí-t-sa, मित्स mi-t-sa, पित्स pi-t-sa, रिप्स ri-p-sa, लिप्स lí-p-sa, शिक्ष śí-k-ṣa.

4. चि ci, 'gather,' जि ji, 'conquer,' हन् han, 'kill' (cp. 171, 1), revert to their original guttural: चिकीष ci-kī-ṣa (beside चिचीष ci-cī-ṣa), जिगीष jí-gī-ṣa.

III. Intensives (Frequentatives).

172. These verbs are meant to convey an intensification or frequent repetition of the action expressed by the simple root. Only monosyllabic verbs beginning with a consonant are liable to be turned into intensives. Hence neither verbs of the tenth class nor roots like अद् ad can form this derivative. About sixty roots (less than half the number found in Vedic literature) take the intensive in Sanskrit, but forms of it are of rare occurrence.

The base, which takes a peculiar kind of strong reduplication, has two forms. The one adds the personal terminations immediately to the reduplicated base (the first syllable of which was accented), being conjugated in the Parasmaipada only, like a verb of the third or reduplicated class (p. 94); e. g. बोभोति bó-bho-ti from भू bhū, 'be.' The other adds accented य ya, in the same way as the passive (154), to the reduplicated base, being conjugated in the Ātmanepada only, like the passive (p. 127); e. g. बोभूयते bo-bhū-yá-te from भू bhū.

a. The first kind may optionally insert ई ī before terminations beginning with consonants in the strong forms. Bases ending in consonants do not take Guṇa either before this ई ī or before terminations beginning with vowels;

e. g. विद् vid, 'know': वेवेद्मि vé-ved-mi or वेविदीमि vé-vid-ī-mi, 1. imper. वेविदानि vé-vid-āni; but हु hū, 'call': जोहोमि jó-ho-mi or जोहवीमि jó-hav-ī-mi, जोहवानि jó-hav-āni.

Special Rules of Reduplication.

173. The reduplicative syllable takes Guṇa and lengthens अ a;

e. g. निज् nij, 'cleanse': नेनेक्ति né-nek-ti, नेनिक्ते ne-nik-té; नी nī, 'lead': नेनीयते ne-nī-yá-te; बुध् budh, 'know': बोबुधीति bo-budh-ī-ti; प्लु plu, 'float': पोप्लूयते po-plū-ya-te; तप् tap, 'be hot': तातप्यते tā-tap-ya-te.

a. Roots ending in अम् am repeat the nasal instead of lengthening the vowel;

e.g. क्रम् kram, 'stride': चङ्क्रमीति can-kram-ī-ti, चङ्क्रम्यते can-kram-yá-te.

b. Roots containing ऋ ṛ insert ई ī between the reduplication and the root;

e.g. मृ mṛ, 'die': मरीमर्ति mar-ī-mar-ti; दृश् dṛś, 'see': दरीदृश्यत dar-ī-dṛś-ya-te; नृत् nṛt, 'dance': नरीनृत्यते nar-ī-nṛt-ya-te.

Irregularities.

174. 1. गृ gṛ, 'awake,' reduplicating with आ ā (as if from गर् gar), forms the base जागृ jā-gṛ, which has almost assumed the character of a root (134, 4) and is used as the only present stem of the verb: 3. sg. जागर्ति jā-gar-ti, 3. pl. जाग्रति já-gr-ati.

a. दह् dah, 'burn,' and जभ् jabh, 'snap at,' reduplicate with a nasal, while चर् car, 'move,' changes its radical vowel as well: दन्दहीति dan-dah-ī-ti and दन्दह्यते dan-dah-ya-te; जञ्जभ्यते jañ-jabh-yá-te; चञ्चूर्यते cañ-cūr-yá-te.

b. पद् pad, 'go,' besides reduplicating with a nasal, inserts ई ī after it: पनीपद्यते pa-n-ī-pad-ya-te; while द्रा drā, 'run,' reduplicates as if it contained ऋ ṛ (only that the inserted vowel is इ i, which, however, is long by position): दरिद्राति dár-i-drā-ti (cp. 134, 4).

IV. Denominatives.

175. A large number of verbs, inflected like those of the a-conjugation (p. 90), are derived, with the suffix य yá, from nouns, to which they express some such relation as 'be or act like,' 'treat as,' 'make,' 'desire.' Before the suffix, final इ i and

E.g. गोपाय gopā-yá, 'be like a herdsman (go-pā) to,' 'protect'; राजाय rājā-ya, 'play the king' (rāja); द्रुमाय drumā-ya, 'rank as a tree' (druma); स्वामीय svāmī-ya, 'regard as a master' (svāmi); नमस्य namas-yá, 'pay homage (namas) to'; पुत्रीय putrī-ya, 'desire a son' (putra).

a. Denominatives which have the causative accent (á-ya) are reckoned verbs of the tenth class by the Hindu grammarians. Such are मन्त्रय mantrá-ya, 'take counsel' (मन्त्र mántra), कीर्तय kīrtá-ya, 'celebrate' (कीर्ति kīrtí, 'fame'); वर्णय varṇá-ya, 'depict,' 'describe' (वर्ण várṇa, 'colour'); कथय kathá-ya, 'tell how,' 'relate' (कथम् ka-thám, 'how?').

CHAPTER V

INDECLINABLE WORDS

Prepositions.

176. Owing to the cases having a more independent meaning than in the other Aryan languages, the number of prepositions is quite small, and their use is very limited in Sanskrit. They are nearly all postpositions[1], and they do not 'govern,' but only define the general sense of, the case to which they are added. Of the dozen Vedic postpositions (also employed as verbal prefixes) Sanskrit preserves only three in common use:—

1. अनु ánu, 'after,' and प्रति práti (Gk. πρότι), 'towards,' 'about,' after the accusative.

[1] In Homeric Greek the prepositions preserve their original position as well as accent in anastrophe: ἄπο (Skt. ápa), ἔπι (ápi), πάρα (párā), πέρι (pári).

2. आ ā́, 'from' or 'up to,' before the ablative.

a. The following are also occasionally met with, nearly always following their case :—

Prepositional Adverbs.

177. There are also in use a number of ungenuine prepositions, that is to say, words which cannot be attached to verbs and the origin of which from cases is still for the most part clear. They are employed with all the oblique cases except the locative and the dative; with the latter case no prepositional word is ever connected in Sanskrit. These adverbs are given in the following list, grouped under the cases which they accompany :—

a. Acc. अन्तरा antarā́ and अन्तरेण ántareṇa, 'between,' 'without'; the latter also 'regarding'; निकषा nikaṣā and समया samáyā, 'near'; अभितः abhí-taḥ, परितः parí-taḥ, सर्वतः sarvá-taḥ, समन्ततः samanta-taḥ, 'around'; उभयतः ubhayá-taḥ, 'on both sides of'; परेण páreṇa, 'beyond'; यावत् yā́vat, 'during,' 'up to,' 'till' (also abl.).

b. Instr. सह sahá, सम samám, साकम् sākám, सार्धम् sārdham, '(together) with'; विना vínā, 'without,' 'except' (also acc., rarely abl.).

c. Abl. All the adverbs used with this case express some modification of the fundamental ablative notion of separation : 1. 'before' (of time) : अर्वाक् arvā́k, पुरा purā́, पूर्वम् pū́rvam, प्राक् prā́k. 2. 'after' (of time) : अनन्तरम् anantaram, ऊर्ध्वम् ūrdhvám, परम् param, परतः para-taḥ, परेण páreṇa, प्रभृति prabhṛti (originally a fem. noun meaning 'commencement').

3. 'outside,' 'out of': बहिः bahíḥ. 4. 'apart from': अन्यत्र anyátra; ऋते ṛte (also acc.).

d. Gen. Nearly all the adverbs used with this case express some relation in space: 1. 'before,' 'in presence of': अग्रे ágre, अग्रतः agra-táḥ, पुरतः pura-taḥ, पुरस्तात् purás-tāt, प्रत्यक्षम् pratyakṣam, समक्षम् sam-akṣám. 2. 'after': पश्चात् paścā́t. 3. 'beyond': परतः para-taḥ, परस्तात् parás-tāt. 4. 'above,' 'over,' 'upon': उपरि upári (also acc.) and उपरिष्टात् upári-ṣṭāt; the former also 'with regard to.' 5. 'below': अधः adháḥ and अधस्तात् adhás-tāt.—With the gen. is also used कृते kṛte, 'for the sake of.'

178. The case-notions of the accusative ('whither'), ablative ('whence'), and locative ('where') are often paraphrased by nouns meaning 'proximity,' such as अन्तिक antiká, उपकण्ठ upa-kaṇṭha, निकट nikaṭa, सकाश sakāśa, संनिधि saṃ-nidhi, समीप samīpa, पार्श्व pārśvá ('side'). In the acc. they mean 'towards,' 'to,' 'near'; in the abl., 'from'; and in the loc., 'near,' 'in the presence of': in each case governing the genitive. For example: राज्ञोऽन्तिकं गच्छ 'go to the king'; रघोः सकाशाद् अपासरत् 'he withdrew from Raghu'; मम पार्श्वे 'beside me,' 'near me'; तस्याः समीपे नलं प्रशशंसुः 'they praised Nala in her presence.'

Prepositional Gerunds.

179. Several indeclinable participles are used in the sense of prepositions:—

1. With acc. उद्दिश्य ud-diś-ya, 'pointing at' = 'towards,' 'about,' 'at,' 'for.'

अधिकृत्य adhi-kṛ-tya, 'putting at the head' = 'with reference to,' 'about.'

2. With abl. आरभ्य ā-rabh-ya, 'beginning from' = 'since.'

Conjunctive and other Particles.

180. अङ्ग aṅgá, in exhortations = 'pray': अङ्ग कुरु 'pray do it.' किमङ्ग kim aṅga: 1. 'why, pray?' 2. 'how much more?'

अथ á-tha: 1. introducing something new at the beginning of a sentence = 'now,' 'then,' 'afterwards.' 2. in the headings of books, chapters, sections, 'now' = 'here begins' (opposed to इति iti, 'here ends'). 3. connecting parts of a sentence = 'and,' 'also.' 4. 'if': अथ तान्नानुगच्छामि गमिष्यामि यमक्षयम् 'if I do not follow them, I shall go to Yama's abode.'

अथ किम् atha kim, 'what else?' = 'it is so,' 'certainly,' 'yes.'

अथ वा atha vā: 1. 'or else,' 'or.' 2. correcting a previous statement = 'or rather,' 'but.' 3. adding a corroborative statement, 'or so' = 'so for instance': अथवा साध्विदमुच्यते 'thus it is well said.'

अन्यच्च anyac ca, 'and another thing' = 'and besides,' 'moreover.'

अपरम् aparam, 'further,' 'moreover,' 'besides.'

अपि ápi: 1. connecting (like च ca) parts of a sentence = 'likewise,' 'moreover,' 'and' (अपि—अपि 'both—and'). 2. 'also,' 'on one's own part': दमनकोऽपि निर्जगाम 'Damanaka also (on his part) went away.' 3. 'even,' 'though': बालोऽपि 'even a child'; एकाकिन्यपि ekākinyapi, 'though alone.' 4. 'only,' 'but' (of time): मुहूर्तमपि 'but a moment.' 5. 'all' with numerals: चतुर्णामपि वर्णानाम् 'of all the four castes.'

In the above five senses अपि api always follows the word to which it belongs. It is also used at the beginning of a sentence as an interrogative particle, and with the optative to express a wish or preference: अपि तपो वर्धते 'is your penance prospering?' अपि स कालः स्यात् 'would that the time had come'; अपि प्राणानहं जह्यां न त्वाम् 'I would rather abandon life than thee.' अपि नाम api nāma, 'perhaps' (see नाम nāma).

इति iti, 'thus': 1. is used after the exact words of quotations. With verbs of saying it supplies the place of inverted commas and of the indirect construction in English: तवाज्ञां करिष्यामीति स मामुवाच tava ājñāṃ kariṣyāmi iti sa māṃ uvāca, 'he said to me, I will do thy bidding,' or 'he told me that he would do my bidding.'

It is similarly used to quote thoughts, intentions, knowledge, though not uttered: बालोऽपि नावमन्तव्यो मनुष्य इति भूमिपः 'one should not despise a king, though a child, (thinking=) because he is a mere human being'; दातव्यमिति यद्दानं दीयते 'a gift which is presented from a sense of duty'; न धर्मशास्त्रं पठतीति कारणम् '(the knowledge) that he reads the book of the law, is not a cause (of confidence in him).'

2.='here ends,' at the end of books, chapters, sections, acts: इति तृतीयोऽङ्कः 'here ends the third act.'

3. 'In the capacity of,' 'as regards,' 'as for': शीघ्रमिति सुकरं निभृतमिति चिन्तनीयं भवेत् 'as for (doing it) quickly, it (would be) easy; as for (doing it) secretly, it would require consideration.' (See also किम् kim and तथा tathā.)

इव iva, being enclitic, follows the word to which it belongs in sense: 1. 'like': अयं चोर इवाभाति 'this man looks like a thief.' 2. 'as if,' 'as it were': साक्षात् पश्यामीव पिनाकिनम् 'I see, as it were, Śiva himself before me.' 3. 'somewhat': सरोषमिव 'somewhat angrily.' 4. 'almost': मुहूर्तमिव 'almost an hour.' 5. 'just,' 'quite': अकिंचिदिव 'just a little'; नचिरादिव 'quite soon.' 6. 'indeed,' 'pray' (German wohl), with interrogatives: किमिव मधुराणां मण्डनं नाकृतीनाम् 'what, indeed, is not an ornament to lovely figures?'

उत utá, a common particle in the Veda, meaning 'and,' 'also,' 'or,' survives only 1. in combination with प्रति and किम्: प्रत्युत prati uta, 'on the contrary'; किमुत kim uta, 'how much more,' 'how much less'; 2. in the second part of a double question: किम्—उत (=utrum—an) 'whether—or.' It is also frequent as an expletive at the end of a line in the Epics.

कच्चित् kác-cit (Vedic neuter of interr. कद् ká-d + चिद् cid), used in questions expecting the answer 'yes' (Lat. nonne) = 'I hope': कच्चिद्दृष्टा त्वया राजन् दमयन्ती 'I hope you have seen Damayantī, O king?' With negative = 'I hope not' (Lat. num): कच्चित्तु नापराधं ते कृतवानस्मि 'I have not done you any injury, I hope?'

कामम् kāma-m (acc. of काम 'desire'), primarily used as an adverb meaning 'at will,' 'gladly,' is frequently employed as a concessive particle: 1. 'indeed,' 'certainly,' 'forsooth,' 'to be sure.' 2. 'granted,' 'supposing' (generally with imperative): काममम्—तु, किंतु, तथापि, or पुनः 'it is true—but,' 'although—yet'; काममम्—न तु 'certainly—but not,' 'rather—than' (cp. वरम्—न).

किम् kí-m: 1. 'what?' 2. 'why?' 3. a simple interrogative particle not to be translated, and expecting the answer 'no' (Lat. num). 4. 'whether?' in double questions, followed by किं वा, किमुत, or simply उत, वा, or आहोस्विद् 'or.'

किल kíla (quidem): 1. 'indeed,' 'certainly,' 'to be sure,' follows the word it emphasizes: अर्हति किल कितव उपद्रवम् 'to be sure the rogue deserves calamity.' Sometimes किल may be rendered by stress merely: एकस्मिन् दिने व्याघ्र आजगाम किल 'one day a tiger did come.' 2. 'they say,' 'we are told': बभूव योगी किल कार्तवीर्यः 'there lived, it is said, a devotee named Kārtavīrya.'

with the instrumental in the sense of 'have done with': हतं संदेहेन 'away with doubt.'

केवलम् kevala-m, 'only': केवलं स्वपिति 'he merely sleeps'; न केवलम्—अपि 'not only—but.'

क्व kvà, 'where?' if repeated with another question, expresses great difference, incongruity, or incompatibility: क्व सूर्यप्रभवो वंशः क्व चाल्पविषया मतिः 'where (is) the race sprung from the sun, and where (my) limited intelligence?' i.e. 'how great is the discrepancy between the glory of the solar race and my powers of description.'

खलु khálu: 1. 'indeed,' 'surely,' often merely emphasizing the preceding word. 2. 'pray,' 'please,' in entreaties: देहि खलु मे प्रतिवचनम् 'please give me an answer' (German doch). 3. with gerund = 'enough of,' 'do not' (like अलम्): खलु रुदित्वा 'do not weep.' न खलु 'not at all,' 'certainly not,' 'I hope not.'

च ca, enclitic (= τε, que), 'and,' 'also': गोविन्दो रामश्च 'Govinda and Rāma.' In poetry the particle is occasionally misplaced: इह चामुत्र 'in this world and in the next.' When more than two words are connected, the conjunction is commonly used with the last only, as in English.

चेद् céd (ca + íd), 'if,' never begins a sentence or half-line (as यदि 'if' does). अथ चेद् 'but if.' न चेद् or नो चेद् 'if not' (elliptically) = 'otherwise': सर्वं विमृश्य कर्तव्यं नो चेत् पश्चात्तापं व्रजिष्यसि 'everything should be done after deliberation, otherwise you will come to repentance.' चेन्न cen, na, 'if—not' (apodosis): भावि चेन्न तदन्यथा 'if it (is) to be, it (will) not (be) otherwise.' इति चेन्न 'if this (is objected, it is) not (so).'

ततः tá-taḥ: 1. 'thence.' 2. 'thereupon,' 'then.' ततस्ततः tatas tataḥ = 'what next,' 'pray go on' (with what you are saying).

तथा tá-thā: 1. 'thus,' 'so,' 'accordingly.' 2. 'likewise,' 'also,' 'as well as,' 'and' (= च). 3. 'that is so,' 'yes,' 'it shall be done.' तथा च 'so also,' 'similarly.' तथापि tathā api, 'nevertheless.' तथा हि 'for so (it is),' 'so for instance,' 'that is to say,' 'namely.' तथेति tathā iti, 'yes.'

तद् tá-d (neut. of pron. 'that'): 1. 'then,' 'in that case.' 2. 'therefore,' 'accordingly': राजपुत्रा वयं तद् विग्रहं श्रोतुं नः कुतूहलमस्ति 'we are princes; therefore we have a curiosity to hear of war.'

तावत् tā́-vat: 1. 'so long' (correlative to यावत् 'how long,' 'while,' 'till'). 2. 'meanwhile.' 3. 'in the first place,' 'first.' 4. 'just,' 'at once' (with imperative = before doing anything else): इतस्तावदागम्यताम् 'pray come here at once.' 5. 'already,' 'even' (as opposed to 'how much more,' 'how much less'). 6. 'only,' 'merely.' 7. 'at least': न तावन्मानुषी 'she (is) at least not a human being.' 8. (concessively) 'indeed,' 'certainly,' 'it is true' (followed by तु 'but,' &c.). 9. emphasizes a notion (like एव): 'as for,' 'as regards,' 'only,' 'just,' 'quite,' or to be rendered by stress only.

तावत्—च 'scarcely—when.' न तावत् 'not yet.'

तु tú (never commences a sentence): 'but,' 'however.' It is sometimes = च or वा, or is a mere expletive; it is even found combined with च or repeated in the same sentence.

अपि तु 'but rather.' न तु 'but not.' न त्वेव तु na tu eva tu, 'never at all.' परं तु 'yet,' 'however.' तु—तु 'indeed—but.' च—न तु 'although—yet not.'

न ná, 'not'; with indefinite pronoun = 'no': न कोऽपि ('not any' =) 'no man'; न किंचित् 'nothing'; न क्वचित् 'nowhere';

न कदाचित् 'never.' न if repeated amounts to an emphatic positive: न तत्र कश्चिन्न बभूव तर्पितः 'no one was there (who was) not satisfied,' i.e. 'every one was thoroughly satisfied.'

नापि na-api, 'not even.' नैव na-eva, 'not at all.'

ननु na-nú: 1. 'not?' in questions expecting an affirmative answer (Lat. non-ne) = 'surely': नन्वहं ते प्रियः nanv-aham te priyaḥ, 'surely I am thy beloved?' 2. with interrogative pronouns and imperatives = 'pray': ननु को भवान् 'pray who are you?' ननूच्यताम् nanv-ucyatām, 'pray tell.' 3. in arguments: 'is it not the case that?' = 'it may be objected'; followed by अत्रोच्यते atr-ucyate, 'to this the reply is.'

नाम nā́ma, besides its adverbial meaning 'by name' (e.g. नलो नाम 'Nala by name'), has the following senses as a particle: 1. 'indeed,' 'certainly,' 'to be sure': मया नाम जितम् 'I have indeed conquered.' 2. 'perhaps': दृष्टस्त्वया कश्चिद् धर्मज्ञो नाम 'you have perhaps seen a righteous man.' 3. ironically, with interrogatives = 'pray': को नाम राज्ञां प्रियः 'who, pray, is a favourite with kings?' 4. with imperatives = 'granted,' 'no matter if,' 'ever so much': स धनी भवतु नाम 'let him be ever so rich.'

अपि नाम 1. at the beginning of a sentence with potential = 'perhaps.' 2. emphasizes a preceding word more strongly than अपि alone. ननु नाम 'surely': ननु नामाहमिष्टा किल तव 'surely I am dear to thee.'

नो nó (ná + u) in the Veda meant 'and not,' 'nor,' but in Sanskrit simply = 'not' (cp. चेद्).

नु nú, 'now,' with interrogatives = 'pray': को नु 'who, pray?' नु—नु, in double questions expressing uncertainty, '(either) — or': अयं भीमो नु धर्मो नु 'can this be Bhīma or Dharma?'

नूनम् nū-ná-m, usually the first word in a sentence: 'in all probability,' 'undoubtedly,' 'assuredly': नूनं मन्ये न दोषोऽस्ति नैषधस्य 'assuredly, I think, it is not the fault of the king of Niṣadha.'

परम् pára-m: 1. 'highly,' 'greatly,' 'entirely,' 'very': परमनुगृहीतोऽस्मि 'I am greatly obliged.' 2. 'at the most': आयुस् तत्र मर्त्यानां परं त्रिंशद् भवति 'in it the life of mortals (lasts) at most thirty (years).' 3. 'nothing but,' 'only': विषाणे स्तः परं न ते 'you only lack the horns.' 4. 'but,' 'however': सर्वशास्त्रपारगाः परं बुद्धिरहिताः 'they (are) thoroughly versed in all learning, but lack intelligence.'

पुनः púnaḥ: 1. 'again.' 2. 'on the other hand,' 'on the contrary,' 'but.' पुनः पुनः, or simply पुनः, 'again and again,' 'repeatedly.'

प्रायः prāyaḥ, प्रायशः prāya-śaḥ, प्रायेण prāyeṇa: 1. 'for the most part,' 'generally,' 'as a rule.' 2. 'in all probability.'

बाढम् bāḍhá-m: 1. 'certainly,' 'assuredly,' 'indeed.' 2. expressing consent: 'very well.' 3. expressing assent: 'so it is,' 'yes.'

मा mā́, prohibitive particle (=Gk. μή), generally used with imperative or unaugmented aorist: मा गच्छ or मा गमः 'do not go.' मा स्म mā sma is employed in the same way. Both मा and मैवम् mā evam are used elliptically='not so!' 'don't'; similarly मा तावत् 'not for heaven's sake!' 'God forbid.' मा नाम with potential or elliptically:='would that not,' 'if only not': मा नाम रक्षिणः 'heaven forbid (that it should be) the warders.'

यतः yá-taḥ: 1. 'whence' (often='where,' sometimes='whither'; often=ablative of the relative य). 2. 'wherefore,' 'for which reason.' 3. 'because,' 'since,' 'for' (often introducing a verse in support of a previous statement). 4. 'that,' after questions or before oratio recta: किं नु दुःखमतः परम् इच्छासंपद् यतो नास्ति 'what misery is greater than this, that there is no fulfilment of desire?'

यथा yá-thā: 1. 'as': यथाज्ञापयति देवः 'as your Majesty commands.' 2. 'like' (=इव): राजते भैमी सौदामिनी यथा 'the daughter of Bhīma shone like the lightning.' 3. 'as for instance.' 4. 'in order that—': यथा त्वदन्यं पुरुषं न मंस्यति 'in order that she shall think of no other man than thee.' 5. 'so that': अहं तथा करिष्ये यथा स वधं करिष्यति 'I shall so contrive that he will slay him.' 6. 'that,' introducing (like यद्) a direct assertion, with or without इति at the end: त्वयोक्तं मे यथा 'you told me that—.' यथा यथा—तथा तथा 'in proportion as—so,' 'the more—the more.' तद्यथा tad yathā, 'that (is) as (follows),' 'thus for instance.'

यदि yád-i, 'if' (cp. चेद्). यदि वा: 1. 'or else,' 'or rather,' 'or': अज्ञानाद्यदि वा ज्ञानात् 'unwittingly or wittingly.' 2. sometimes='however.'

यावत् yā́-vat: 1. (with correlative तावत्) 'as long as,' 'while,' 'till,' 'as soon as.' 2. 'meanwhile,' 'just,' expressing intended action: यावदिमां छायामाश्रित्य प्रतिपालयामि ताम् 'having resorted to this shade, I will just wait for her.' यावन्न yāvan na: 1. 'while not'='till.' 2. sometimes='if not.' न यावत्—तावत् 'scarcely—when,' 'no sooner—than.'

येन yéna: 1. 'in which manner,' 'as' (corr. तेन). 2. 'whereby,' 'on what account,' 'wherefore,' 'why': शृणु येन न दृश्यन्ते महीक्षितः 'hear, why the kings do not appear.' 3. 'because,' 'since' (generally with corr. तेन): दूरस्थामपि येन पश्यसि कान्तां तं योगं मम चक्षुषोऽप्युपदिश 'since thou seest my beloved even when far away, teach this spell to my eye also.' 4. (so) 'that': उपायो दृष्टो येन दोषो न भविता 'a device has been contrived so that no blame will be incurred.' 5. 'in order that': तस्य च्छात्रतां व्रजामि येन विश्वस्तो भवति 'I will become his pupil, in order that he may be inspired with confidence.'

वरम् varam—न na, lit. 'the best thing (is)—(and) not'= 'better—than' (च, तु, or पुनः being generally added to the न na): वरं प्राणत्यागो न पुनरधमानाम् उपगमः 'better death than association with the base.'

वा vā, enclitic (Lat. ve), following its word (but for metrical reasons sometimes preceding it): 1. 'or.' 2. 'either or not,' 'optionally': जातदन्तस्य वा कुर्युः 'for (a child) that has cut its teeth, they may optionally make (the offering).' 3. 'like,' 'as it were' (=इव): जातां मन्ये शिशिरमथितां पद्मिनीं वान्यरूपाम् 'I believe her to have become changed in appearance like a lily blighted with cold.' 4. with interrogatives='pray': काणेन चक्षुषा किं वा 'what, pray, (with=) is the use of a blind eye?' वा—वा 'either—or.'

वै vaí, used in the older language as a particle emphasizing the preceding word, is common in Sanskrit poetry as a mere expletive.

सत्यम् satyá-m: 1. 'truly,' 'certainly,' 'indeed.' 2. 'rightly,' 'justly.' 3. 'true,' 'it is so.' 4. 'very well' (in answers). 5. 'it is true—but' (तु, किं तु, तथापि).

ह ha, an enclitic particle which in the older language slightly emphasized the preceding word, is in Sanskrit a mere expletive, mostly occurring at the end of a verse.

हि hí, never at the beginning of a sentence, but generally after the first word: 1. 'for,' 'because.' 2. 'to be sure,' 'indeed': त्वं हि तस्य प्रियवयस्यः 'thou art indeed his dear friend.' 3. with interrogatives or imperatives = 'pray': कथं हि देवाञ्जानीयाम् 'how, pray, shall I know the gods?' तद्धि दर्शय 'pray, show it.' 4. often used as a mere expletive, especially in order to avoid a hiatus or to obtain a long vowel in poetry. The particle sometimes occurs twice in the same sentence.

Interjections.

181. अयि ayi, used with the vocative or supplying its place, = 'friend,' 'prithee': अयि मकरोद्यानं गच्छावः 'prithee, let us go to the garden of love.'

अये aye: 1. a particle expressive of surprise, occurring chiefly in dramas: अये वसन्तसेना प्राप्ता 'Ah, Vasantasenā has arrived!' 2. sometimes used like अयि as a vocative particle.

अरे are, exclamation of address: 'ho!' 'sirrah!'

अहह ahaha, expresses 1. joy, 'ha!' 2. sorrow, 'alas!': अहह महापङ्के पतितोऽस्मि 'alas! I have fallen into a deep quagmire.'

अहो aho, exclamation of surprise, joy, sorrow, anger, praise, or blame, commonly used with the nominative: अहो गीतस्य माधुर्यम् 'O the sweetness of the song!' अहो हिरण्यक श्लाघ्योऽसि 'Ah, Hiraṇyaka, you are praiseworthy!'

आ ā is used especially to express sudden recollection: आ एवं किल तत् 'Ah, so indeed it was!'

आः āḥ expresses joy or indignation, 'ah': आः अतिथिपरिभाविनि 'Ah, you who slight your guest!'

कष्टम् kaṣṭa-m, 'woe!' 'alas!' often combined with धिक् dhik or हा धिक् hā dhik.

दिष्ट्या diṣṭi-ā (inst. 'by good luck'=) 'thank heaven!' often with वृध् vṛdh, 'prosper'='to have cause for joy or congratulation': दिष्ट्या महाराजो विजयेन वर्धते 'your Majesty is to be congratulated upon your victory!'.

धिक् dhik, exclamation of dissatisfaction, reproach, or lamentation: 'fie!' 'woe!' It is regularly used with the accusative, but the nom. gen. voc. also occur: धिक् त्वामस्तु 'shame on you!'

बत bata, expresses 1. astonishment: 'ah!' 2. regret: 'alas!' It is also combined with other interjections in the same sense: बतारे bata-are, अहो बत, अयि बत.

भोः bhoḥ: 1. usually an exclamation of address: 'sir!' 'ho!' 'listen!' Though a contracted form of an old masculine singular vocative (bhavas), it is used in addressing female as well as male persons, and is connected even with the plural number. It is often repeated: भो भोः पण्डिताः 'listen, Paṇḍits!' 2. it sometimes occurs in soliloquies='alas.'

साधु sādhú: 1. 'well done!' 'bravo!' 2. with imperative='come': दमयन्त्याः पणः साधु वर्तताम् 'come, let Damayantī be played for as a stake.' 3. 'well' with 1. per. pres.: साधु यामि 'well, I will go.' 4. 'assuredly': यदि जीवामि साध्वेनं पश्येयम् 'if I live, I shall undoubtedly see him.'

स्वस्ति sv-astí: 1. 'hail!' 2. 'farewell!'

हन्त hánta: 1. exclamation of exhortation='come,' 'look,' 'pray': हन्त ते कथयिष्यामि 'come, I will tell thee'; शृणु हन्त

'pray listen.' 2. expresses grief: 'alas!' 3. joy, surprise, or hurry: 'oh!' 'ah!'

हा hā, expresses 1. astonishment or satisfaction: 'ah!' 2. pain: 'alas!' हा हतास्मि 'alas! I am undone.' It is frequently accompanied by a vocative; and is sometimes used with a following acc. ='alas for!' It is often combined with कष्टम्, धिक्, or हन्त.

CHAPTER VI

COMPOUND WORDS

182. The power of combining two or more words into one, which belongs to all the Aryan languages, has been more largely developed in Sanskrit than in any of the others. Not only are long and complex compounds here in constant use, but they also take the place of the analytical modes of expression which prevail in the other cognate tongues. Thus Kālidāsa describes a river as 'wave-agitation-loquacious-bird-row-girdle-string-ed,' while we should say: 'her girdle-string is a row of birds loquacious because of the agitation of the waves.' Compounds being therefore of great syntactical importance in Sanskrit, it is necessary to distinguish and classify the various kinds, in order that the meaning of a Sanskrit sentence may be clearly understood. The most convenient division is into the three classes of Co-ordinatives, Determinatives, and Possessives. The Determinatives, so called because the former member determines (or qualifies) the latter, are of two kinds, Dependent and Descriptive. Possessives are secondary compounds, consisting chiefly of Determinatives turned into adjectives.

a. All words making up a compound except the last, ordinarily appear in the form of their uninflected base; those with two bases using the weak, and those with three, the middle base (73 a). The last word, in the case of Co-ordinatives and Determinatives, retains, as a rule, its usual form and inflexion, as well as, if a noun, its gender; while, in Possessives, it is variable like an adjective.

E. g. देवदासः deva-dāsaḥ, m. 'servant of a god, or of the gods'; स्वामिसेवा svāmi-sevā, f. 'serving a master'; राजकर्म rāja-karma, n. 'duty of a king'; सनामन् sa-nāman, 'homonymous': nom. m. सनामा, f. सनाम्नी, n. सनाम.

I. Co-ordinative (Dvandva) Compounds.

183. These consist of two (or more) nouns, far less commonly adjectives, very rarely adverbs, connected in sense by the copula 'and.' Dvandva, the name applied to Co-ordinatives by the Hindu grammarians, means 'pair' or 'couple.'

1. Compounded nouns are inflected in the dual or plural according as two or more objects are denoted, the gender being that of the last member: हस्त्यश्वौ hasty-aśvau, 'an elephant and a horse'; हस्त्यश्वाः hasty-aśvāḥ[1], 'elephants and horses.' When, however, the parts of the compound express not individuals but categories, the Dvandva is inflected in the neuter singular as a collective; e. g. गवाश्वम् gava-aśvam, 'kine and horses.' Names of objects associated in pairs by way of contrast are often combined in Dvandvas; e. g. सिंहगजाः siṃha-gajāḥ, 'lions and elephants'; सारमेयमार्जाराः sārameya-mārjārāḥ, 'dogs and cats'; अहोरात्रम् aho-rātra-m, n. 'day and night[2].' The number of members in the compound is not limited and is often considerable; e. g. देवगन्धर्वमानुषोरगराक्षसाः deva-gandharva-mānuṣa-uraga-rākṣasāḥ, 'gods, heavenly musicians, men, serpents, and demons.'

[1] Cp. Lat. su-ove-taurilia. [2] Cp. Gk. νυχθήμερον.

2. Adjectives (including past participles) are comparatively seldom compounded as Dvandvas;

e. g. उत्तरदक्षिण uttara-dakṣiṇa, 'north and south'; शीतोष्ण śīta-uṣṇa, 'cold and hot'; सितासित sita-asita, 'white and black[1]'; घनायत ghana-āyata, 'dense and extensive' (forest); कृताकृत kṛta-akṛta, 'done and undone'; मृताजात mṛta-ajāta, 'dead and unborn.'

Two past participles are sometimes compounded to express immediate sequence, the relation of the second to the first being often translatable by 'as soon as';

e. g. दृष्टनष्ट dṛṣṭa-naṣṭa, 'seen and vanished'='vanished as soon as seen'; जातप्रेत jāta-preta, 'died as soon as born'; उत्खातप्रतिरोपित ut-khāta + prati-ropita, 'uprooted and re-planted'; सुप्तोत्थित supta-utthita, 'having slept and arisen,' i. e. 'having just arisen from sleep.'

3. An example of the rare Dvandvas composed of adverbs is सायंप्रातर् sāyáṃ-prātar, 'in the evening and morning.'

a. Occasionally complex Dvandvas, made up of compounds of another class, are met with;

e. g. व्याकीर्णकेसरकरालमुख vyākīrṇa-kesara + karāla-mukha, 'having a dishevelled mane and terrific jaws,' consists of two possessives (186).

b. Of the numerous Vedic Dvandvas consisting of the names of deities, each member being in the dual and separately accented, only very few survive in Sanskrit: मित्रावरुणौ mitrā́[2]-váruṇau, 'Mitra and Varuṇa'; द्यावापृथिव्यौ dyā́vā[2]-pṛthivyaù, 'Heaven

[1] Cp. λευκο-μέλας.

[2] Mitrā́ and Dyā́vā are Vedic duals. This type of compound was perhaps originally due to the analogy of numerical Dvandvas like द्वादश dvā-daśa, 'two and ten.'

and Earth.' In cases other than nom. voc. acc. the final member only is inflected: मित्रावरुणयोः mitrā-varuṇayoḥ and द्यावापृथिव्योः dyāvā-pṛthivyoḥ.

c. मातृ mātṛ, 'mother,' and पितृ pitṛ, 'father,' when the first member of a Dvandva of relationship, assume the form of the nom. sing.: मातापितरौ mātā-pitarau, 'mother and father'; पितापुत्रौ pitā-putrau, 'father and son.'

The masc. of co-ordinate pairs of relations can be used alone in the dual so as to include the female;

e.g. पितरौ pitarau = 'parents'; श्वशुरौ śva-śurau[1] = 'parents-in-law'; पुत्रौ putrau = 'son and daughter' (as well as 'two sons'); भ्रातरौ bhrātarau = 'brother and sister[2].'

II a. Dependent (Tatpuruṣa) Determinatives.

184. A dependent determinative is one in which the first member depends on the last, the syntactical relation of the former to the latter being that of an attribute (noun or pronoun) in an oblique case. The compound may be a noun or an adjective, according as the last member is one or the other.

E.g. तत्पुरुष tat-puruṣa, m. 'the man of him,' 'his man' (an example used by the Hindu grammarians to designate the class); शूरमानिन् śūra-mānin, adj. 'thinking oneself a hero'; गुणोपेत guṇa-upeta, adj. 'endowed with virtues' (upeta is a past part.).

In dependent compounds the first member may have the sense of any oblique case, but that of the gen. is by far the commonest.

1. Acc. The last member is naturally always an adjective of a verbal nature[3]: जयप्रेप्सु jaya-prepsu, adj. 'desiring victory'

[2] Cp. Gk. ἀδελφοί and Lat. fratres = 'brother and sister.'

[3] Cp. Gk. ἱππό-δαμο-ς, 'horse-taming,' Lat. jū-dex, 'pointing out the law,' 'judge.'

(pra-īpsu is a desid. adj., cp. 170, 2); वर्षभोग्य varṣa-bhogya, adj. 'to be enjoyed for a year' (bhogya is a fut. part. pass.); गृहागत gṛha-āgata, adj. 'come to the house' (āgata is a past part.); ग्रामप्राप्त grāma-prāpta, 'arrived at the village[1].' (A past part. is more commonly placed at the beginning, when the compound becomes a possessive; e.g. प्राप्तग्राम prāpta-grāma, lit. 'having a reached village.')

2. Instr. मासपूर्व māsa-pūrva, 'earlier by a month'; स्वामिसदृश svāmi-sadṛśa, 'like (his) master' (cp. 196, 2 c); अल्पोन alpa-ūna, 'deficient by a little'='almost finished'; अहिहत ahi-hata, 'killed by a snake'; देवदत्त deva-datta, 'given by the gods' (cp. θεό-δοτος), commonly used as a proper name with an auspicious sense (Dieu-donné) and often denoting an indefinite person='so-and-so.'

3. Dat. यूपदारु yūpa-dāru, n. 'wood for a sacrificial post'; विष्णुबलि viṣṇu-bali, m. 'offering to Viṣṇu'; प्रभुहित prabhu-hita, adj. 'advantageous to the king.'

4. Abl. स्वर्गपतित svarga-patita, adj. 'fallen from heaven'; भवदन्य bhavad-anya, adj. 'different from you.'

5. Gen. राजपुरुष rāja-puruṣa, m. 'king's man'; व्याघ्रबुद्धि vyāghra-buddhi, f. 'thought of (=that it was) a tiger.'

6. Loc. उरोज uro-ja, adj. 'produced on the breast'; अश्वकोविद aśva-kovida, adj. 'skilled in horses'; गृहजात gṛha-jāta, adj. 'born in the house'; पूर्वाह्णकृत pūrvāhṇa-kṛta, adj. 'done in the forenoon.'

e.g. धनंजय dhanaṃ-jaya, adj. 'winning booty,' m. as a proper

---

[1] The past part. गत gata, 'gone to,' is often used at the end of Tatpuruṣas in the sense of 'relating to,' 'existing in'; e.g. हस्तगत hasta-gata, 'held in the hand.'

name; परस्मैपद parasmai-pada, n. 'word for another'; वाचस्पति vācas-pati, m. 'lord of speech'; युधिष्ठिर yudhi-ṣṭhira, adj. 'firm in battle,' m. as a proper name.

b. If a root forms the last member of a Tatpuruṣa it undergoes no change except that आ ā is shortened to अ a, while इ i, उ u, ऋ ṛ add त् t; e.g. वरद vara-da, adj. 'granting boons' (दा dā, 'give'); विश्वजित् viśva-ji-t, adj. 'all-conquering'; कर्मकृत् karma-kṛ-t, adj. 'doing work,' 'laborious.'

c. At the end of a dependent, विशेष viśeṣa, m. means 'special kind of,' i.e. 'choice,' 'pre-eminent'; similarly अन्तर antara, n. 'difference,' generally means 'other,' sometimes 'special,' 'particular';

e.g. तेजोविशेष tejo-viśeṣa, m. 'extraordinary splendour'; देशान्तर deśa-antara, n. 'another country'; उपायान्तर upāya-antara, n. 'a special means'; भाष्यान्तर bhāṣya-antara, n. 'particular conversation.'

II b. Descriptive (Karmadhāraya) Determinatives.

185. A descriptive determinative is one in which the first member describes the last, the syntactical relation of the former to the latter being that of a predicate. This relation may be expressed in three ways:—

1. By a noun (in apposition);

e.g. राजर्षि rāja-ṛṣi, m. 'king sage,' i.e. 'royal sage'; स्त्रीजन strī-jana, m. 'women-folk.'

a. A title is thus sometimes compounded with a proper name;

e.g. अमात्यराक्षस amātya-Rākṣasa, 'Minister Rākṣasa.' Occasionally the proper name comes first; e.g. शाण्डिलीमातृ Śāṇḍilī-mātṛ, 'Mother Śāṇḍilī.'

b. The apposition often expresses a comparison; e.g. जलदश्याम jalada-śyāma, adj. 'dark as a cloud'; हिमशिशिर hima-śiśira, adj.

'cold as ice'; जलान्तश्चन्द्रचपल jala-antaś-candra-capala, adj. 'fickle as the moon reflected in the water.' When both members are nouns the object with which a comparison is made is placed not at the beginning of the compound, but at the end;

e.g. पुरुषव्याघ्र puruṣa-vyāghra, m. 'man-tiger,' i.e. 'tiger-like man,' 'human tiger'; वाङ्मधु vāṅ-madhu, n. 'speech-honey,' i.e. 'honied speech'; पादपद्म pāda-padma, n. 'foot-lotus,' i.e. 'lotus-like foot.'

c. The past part. भूत bhūta, 'become,' 'existent,' is often added, in the sense of 'being,' to an appositional noun (which is thus turned into an adj.); e.g. तमोभूत tamo-bhūta, 'existing in a state of darkness'; रत्नभूत ratna-bhūta, 'being a jewel.'

2. By an Adjective;

e.g. कृष्णसर्प kṛṣṇa-sarpa, m. 'black snake'; नीलोत्पल nīla-utpala, n. 'blue lotus'; मध्याह्न madhya-ahna, m. 'mid-day'; अर्धमार्ग ardha-mārga, m. 'half way'; वर्तमानकवि vartamāna-kavi, m. 'living poet.'

a. Those compounds in which the adjective is a numeral are by the Hindu grammarians treated as a special class, called Dvigu ('two-cow'). They are generally neuters or feminines (in ई ī) expressing aggregates; e.g. त्रिलोक tri-loka, n. or त्रिलोकी tri-lokī, f. 'the three worlds.' They may also become adjectives by being turned into possessives (186); e.g. त्रिगुण tri-guṇa, n. 'the three qualities'; adj. 'possessing the three qualities.'

b. पूर्व pūrva, 'previous,' is put at the end, instead of adverbially at the beginning, in the sense of 'before,' after past participles; e.g. दृष्टपूर्व adj. 'seen before.'

c. At the beginning of a descriptive compound महत् mahat becomes महा mahā, while at the end राजन् rājan, अहन् ahan, सखि sakhi become राज, अह, सख respectively;

e.g. महाराजः 'great king'; पुण्याहम् puṇya-aham, 'auspicious day'; प्रियसखः 'dear friend.'

3. By an Adverb (inclusive of particles and prepositions);

e.g. सुजन su-jana, m. 'honest man'; अधिलोक adhi-loka, m. 'highest world'; अज्ञात a-jñāta, adj. 'unknown'; यथोक्त yathā-ukta, adj. 'as stated'; एवंगत evaṃ-gata, adj. 'thus faring.'

a. Compounds of this kind, when used in the acc. neuter as adverbs, are treated by the Hindu grammarians as a special class called Avyayī-bhāva ('indeclinable state'). Such are अनुरूपम् anu-rūpam, 'conformably'; यथाशक्ति yathā-śakti, 'according to ability'; सविनयम् sa-vinayam, 'politely'; यावज्जीवम् yāvaj-jīvam, 'for life.'

III. Possessive (Bahuvrīhi) Compounds.

186. These compounds are essentially adjectives agreeing with a noun expressed or understood. They are determinatives (generally of the adjectivally descriptive class) ending in nouns, which are made to agree in gender, number, and case with another noun. Thus बहुव्रीहि bahu-vrīhi, m. 'much rice,' becomes an adjective in the sense of 'having much rice' (an example used by the Hindu grammarians to designate the class).

Every kind of determinative can be turned into a possessive;

e.g. इन्द्रशत्रु indra-śatru, m. 'foe of Indra': adj. 'having Indra as a foe'; भीमपराक्रम bhīma-parākrama, m. 'terrible prowess': adj. 'of terrible prowess'; त्रिपद् tri-pád, adj. 'three-footed' (Gk. τρί-ποδ-, Lat. tri-ped-); अधोमुख adho-mukha, adj. 'down-cast'; अपुत्र a-putra, adj. 'sonless'; सभार्य sa-bhārya, adj. 'accompanied by his wife' (bhāryā); तथाविध tathā-vidha, adj. 'of such a kind' (vidhi, m.); दुर्मनास् dur-manās, adj. nom. m.f. (δυσ-μενής), 'ill-minded,' 'dejected.'

a. In the Vedic language possessives were distinguished from determinatives by accent; e.g. rāja-putrá, 'king's son'; rājá-putra, adj. 'having kings as sons.'

b. Possessives often come to be used as nouns or proper names;

e.g. सुहृद् su-hṛd, 'good-hearted,' becomes masc. 'friend'; सत्यश्रवास् satyá-śravās, adj. nom. m. 'of true fame,' becomes the name of a man (cp. Ἐτεοκλέης).

c. Possessives are often very intricate, containing several other compounds. Thus [(vīci-kṣobha)-stanita-(vihaga-śreṇi)]-(kāñcī-guṇā) is based on an appositional descriptive consisting of two main parts. The second, kāñcī-guṇa, m. 'girdle-string,' is a Tatpuruṣa. The first is an adjectival descriptive in which the Tatpuruṣa vihaga-śreṇi, 'row of birds,' is described by vīci-kṣobha-stanita, 'loquacious through wave-agitation.' The latter is a compound Tatpuruṣa, in which stanita is qualified by the simple Tatpuruṣa vīci-kṣobha, 'agitation of the waves.' शीतोष्णकिरणौ śītoṣṇa-kiraṇau, 'moon and sun,' is an example of a Bahuvrīhi which is used as a noun and contains a Dvandva. It is in reality a kind of contracted Dvandva ('the cool and the hot-rayed' for 'the cool-rayed and the hot-rayed').

e.g. चन्द्रानन candra-ānana, 'moon-faced'; पद्माक्ष padma-akṣa (f. ī), 'lotus-eyed.' Inversion of the natural order does not take place here as in descriptives (cp. 185, 1 b).

f. कल्प kalpa, m. 'manner,' and प्राय prāya, m. 'chief part,' are used at the end of Bahuvrīhis in the sense of 'like,' 'almost'; e. g. अमृतकल्प amṛta-kalpa, adj. 'ambrosia-like'; प्रभातप्राय prabhāta-prāya, adj. 'almost dawning.' In the same position पर para, an adjective meaning 'highest,' 'chief,' used as a noun, signifies 'engrossed in,' 'intent on' (lit. 'having as the chief thing'); e. g. चिन्तापर cintā-para, 'immersed in thought.'

g. मात्रा mātrā, f. 'measure,' is used at the end of Bahuvrīhis in the sense of 'only'; e. g. नाममात्रा नराः nāmamātrā narāḥ, 'men bearing the name only.'

At the end of past participles it means 'as soon as'; e. g. जातमात्रः शत्रुः jāta-mātraḥ śatruḥ, 'an enemy as soon as (he has) come into being.'

It is, however, generally employed as a neuter noun in this way; e. g. जलमात्रम् jala-mātram, 'water alone' (lit. 'that which has water for its measure').

h. आदि ādi, m. and प्रभृति prabhṛti, f. 'beginning,' आद्य ādya, 'first' (used as a noun), are employed at the end of Bahuvrīhis in the sense of 'and the rest,' 'and so forth,' 'etcetera,' primarily as adjectives and secondarily as nouns;

e. g. (देवा) इन्द्रादयः (devā) Indra-ādayaḥ, '(the gods) Indra and the rest' (lit. 'having Indra as their beginning'); इत्यादि iti-ādi, n. 'beginning thus' (i. e. with these words) = 'and so on.'

पुरोगम purogama, पूर्व pūrva, पुरःसर puraḥsara, 'preceding' = 'leader,' are similarly employed in the sense of 'preceded, led, or accompanied by'; e. g. देवा इन्द्रपुरोगमाः 'the gods led by Indra.'

i. Words meaning 'hand' are placed at the end of possessives; e. g. शस्त्रपाणि śastra-pāṇi, 'weapon-handed,' 'having a weapon in one's hand'; कुशहस्त kuśa-hasta, 'with kuśa-grass in (his) hand.'

j. The suffix इन् in is pleonastically added to धर्म dharma, 'duty,' शील śīla, 'character,' माला mālā, 'garland,' शाला śālā, 'house,' शोभा śobhā, 'beauty,' वर्ण varṇa, 'colour'; e. g. वरवर्णिन् vara-varṇ-in, 'of excellent colour.' The adjectival suffix क ka is similarly often added, especially to unusual finals, as to words in ऋ ṛ, to feminines in ई ī (like नदी nadī), and in the feminine to words in इन् in; e. g. मृतभर्तृका mṛta-bhartṛ-kā, 'whose husband is dead'; सपत्नीक sa-patnī-ka, 'accompanied by his wife.'

CHAPTER VII

OUTLINES OF SYNTAX

187. As the great bulk of the literature consists of poetry, the syntactical arrangement of the Sanskrit sentence is primitive and undeveloped, as compared with Latin and Greek. Its main characteristic is the predominance of co-ordination, long compounds and gerunds constantly taking the place of relative and other subordinate clauses, while the oratio obliqua is entirely absent. Another feature is the comparatively rare use of the finite verb (frequent enough in the Vedic language), for which past participles or verbal nouns are very often substituted. There is also a marked fondness for passive constructions. A special feature of Sanskrit syntax is the employment of the locative absolute.

The Order of Words.

188. The usual arrangement of words in a Sanskrit sentence is: first, the subject with its attributes (a genitive preceding its nominative); second, the object with its adjuncts (which precede it); and lastly, the verb.

Adverbs or extensions of the predicate are commonly placed near the beginning, and unemphatic connective particles follow the first word; e.g. जनकस्तु सत्वरं स्वीयं नगरं जगाम 'but Janaka went in haste to his own city.'

When there is a vocative, it generally comes first. Instead of the subject any other word requiring emphasis may be placed at the head of the sentence; e.g. रात्रौ त्वया मठमध्ये न प्रवेष्टव्यम् 'at night you must not enter the monastery.'

a. The subject, if a personal pronoun, is not expressed unless emphatic, being inherent in finite verbal forms. Even the general subject 'one' or 'they' is often indicated by the verb alone; e.g. ब्रूयात् 'one should say'; आहुः 'they say' = 'it is said.'

b. The copula अस्ति 'is,' unless the tense or mood has to be expressed, is generally omitted. In that case the predicate precedes its noun; e.g. शीतला रात्रिः 'the night (is) cold.' If the predicate bears any emphasis, भवति is used, not अस्ति; e.g. यो विद्यया तपसा जन्मना वा वृद्धः स पूज्यो भवति द्विजानाम् 'he who is distinguished by knowledge, penance, or birth, is (certainly) to be respected by the twice-born.'

c. Just as attributes precede their nouns and the qualifying word comes first in compounds, so a relative or other subordinate clause precedes the principal, which regularly begins with a correlative word; e.g. यस्य धनं तस्य बलम् lit. 'of whom wealth, of him power,' i.e. 'he who has wealth has power.' Similarly यदा—तदा, यावत्—तावत्, &c.

The Article.

189. There is properly neither an indefinite nor a definite article in Sanskrit. But एक 'one' and कश्चिद् 'some' (119), being frequently used to express 'a certain,' may sometimes be translated by 'a.' Similarly स 'that' (110) may, when referring to persons or things just mentioned, be rendered by 'the'; e.g. स राजा 'the king' (of whom we are speaking).

Number.

190. 1. Singular collective words are sometimes used at the end of compounds to form a plural; e.g. स्त्रीजन strī-jana, m. 'women-folk' = 'women.' Such collectives are sometimes themselves used in the plural; e.g. लोकः or लोकाः 'the world,' 'people.'

2. The dual number is in regular use and of strict application, the plural practically never referring to two objects. It is therefore invariably employed with the names of things occurring in pairs, such as parts of the body; e.g. हस्तौ पादौ च 'the hands and the feet.' A masc. dual is sometimes used to express a male and female of the same class; e.g. जगतः पितरौ 'the parents of the universe' (see 183 c, p. 158).

3. a. The plural is sometimes applied to others by the speaker or writer as a mark of great respect, यूयम् and भवन्तः taking the place of त्वम् and भवान्; e.g. श्रुतं भवद्भिः 'has your Majesty heard?' In this sense the plur. पादाः 'feet' is employed instead of the dual (cp. 190, 2); e.g. एष देवपादान् अधिक्षिपति 'he insults your Majesty('s feet).' Proper names are occasionally used in the same way; e.g. इति श्रीशंकराचार्याः 'thus (says) the revered teacher Śaṃkara.'

b: The 1. pers. pl. is sometimes used by the speaker referring to himself (like our editorial 'we') instead of the singular or dual

(cp. 190, 2); e.g. वयमपि किंचित्पृच्छामः 'we (=I) too ask something'; किं कुर्मः सांप्रतम् 'what shall we (=you and I) do now?'

c. The names of countries are plural, being really the names of the peoples (like 'Sweden' in English and 'Sachsen' in German); e.g. विदर्भेषु 'in Vidarbha' (Berar).

d. Some nouns are used in the plural only: आपः f. 'water' (96, 1); प्राणाः m. 'life'; वर्षाः f. 'the rains'='the rainy season'; दाराः m. 'wife.'

Concord.

191. The rules of concord in case, person, gender, and number are in general the same as in other inflexional languages, but the following special points may be noted:—

1. The nominative with इति may take the place of a predicative acc. governed by verbs of calling, considering, knowing, &c.; e.g. ब्राह्मण इति मां विद्धि 'know me to be a Brahman' (instead of ब्राह्मणं मां विद्धि).

2. When a dual or plural verb refers to two or more subjects the first person is preferred to the second or third, and the second person to the third; e.g. त्वमहं च गच्छावः 'you and I go.'

3. a. A dual or plural adjective agreeing with masc. and fem. nouns is put in the masc., but when neuters are associated with masculines and feminines, in the neuter (sometimes singular); e.g. मृगयाक्षास्तथा पानं गर्हितानि महीभुजाम् 'the chase, dice (akṣāḥ), and drinking are reprehensible in kings'; पक्षविकलश्च पक्षी शुष्कश्च तरुः सरश्च जलहीनं सर्पश्चोद्धृतदंष्ट्रस् तुल्यं लोके दरिद्रश्च 'a bird with clipped wings, a withered tree, a dried up pond, a toothless serpent and a poor man are of equal account (neut. sing.) in (the eyes of) the world.'

c. As in Latin, a demonstrative pronoun agrees with its predicate in gender; e.g. असौ परमो मन्त्रः 'this (masc.) is the best counsel' (masc.).

A participle used in place of a finite verb, which should agree with the subject, is attracted in gender by a noun predicate if in close proximity with it; e.g. त्वं मे मित्रं जातम् 'thou (masc.) hast become (neut.) my friend' (neut.).

4. A singular collective noun is necessarily followed by a singular verb. Two singular subjects require a predicate in the dual, three or more in the plural. Occasionally, however, the predicate agrees in number with the nearest subject, being mentally supplied with the rest; e.g. कान्तिमती राज्यमिदं मम च जीवितमपि त्वदधीनम् 'Kāntimatī, this kingdom, and my very life (are) at your mercy' (sing.).

a. Similarly, the verb which should agree with a single plural subject may be attracted in number by a noun predicate in its immediate proximity; e.g. सप्तप्रकृतयो ह्येताः समस्तं राज्यमुच्यते 'these seven constituent parts are said (sing.) to form the entire kingdom.'

Pronouns.

192. 1. Personal. a. Owing to its highly inflexional character Sanskrit uses the nominatives of personal pronouns far less frequently than modern European languages do (cp. 188 a).

b. The unaccented forms of अहम् and त्वम् (109 a) being enclitic, can be used neither at the beginning of a sentence or metrical line (Pāda), nor after vocatives, nor before the particles च, वा, एव, ह; e.g. मम मित्रम् 'my friend' (not मे); देवास्मान् पाहि 'O God, protect us' (अस्मान्, not नः); तस्य मम वा गृहम् 'his house or mine.'

c. भवान् 'your Honour' (f. भवती), the polite form of त्वम् 'thou' (with which it often alternates even in the same sentence), takes the verb in the 3. person; e.g. किमाह भवान् 'what does your Honour say?' The plural भवन्तः (f. भवत्यः) is construed in the same way; it frequently has a singular sense (190, 3 a). Two compounds of भवान् are often used in the drama: अत्रभवान् atra-bhavān refers to some one present, either the person addressed or some third person = 'your Honour here' or 'his Honour here'; तत्रभवान् tatra-bhavān, 'his Honour there,' referring to some one off the stage, can only be used of a third person. Both take the verb in the 3. sing.

2. Demonstrative. a. एष and अयम् refer to what is near or present = 'this.' The former is the more emphatic of the two. Both are often employed agreeing with a subject in the 1. or 3. pers. sing. in the sense of 'here'; e.g. एष तपस्वी तिष्ठति 'here a devotee stands'; अयमस्मि 'here am I'; अयम् आगतस्तव पुत्रः 'here comes your son.' अयं जनः 'this person' is frequently used as an equivalent of 'I.'

b. स and असौ refer to what is absent or remote = 'that.' स is the more definitely demonstrative of the two, being, for instance, the regular correlative to an antecedent relative. It has the following special uses. It has often (like Lat. ille) the sense of 'well-known,' 'celebrated'; e.g. सा रम्या नगरी 'that well-known charming city.' It is frequently also the equivalent of 'the aforesaid'; e.g. सोऽहम् 'I (being) such' (as just described). In this sense it may often be translated simply by the definite article 'the' (cp. 189). When unaccompanied by a noun स supplies the place of a personal pronoun of the third person = 'he, she, it, they,' but with a certain amount of emphasis when used in the nominative (अयम् and असौ are employed in the same way as personal pronouns of the third person). Finally स when repeated means 'various,' 'several,' 'all sorts of'; e.g. तानि तानि शास्त्राण्यध्यैत 'he read various treatises.'

3. Possessive. These pronouns (116) are comparatively little used, as the genitive of the personal pronouns is generally employed. In accordance with the sense of भवत् (192, 1 c), its derivatives भवदीय bhavad-īya and भावत्क bhāvat-ka are used as possessive pronouns of the second person in respectful address.

THE CASES.

Nominative.

193. The nominative is far less frequently used in Sanskrit as the subject of a sentence than in the other Aryan languages. Its place is very commonly supplied by the instrumental of the agent with a passive verb; e.g. केनापि सस्यरक्षकेणैकान्ते स्थितम् 'a certain field-watcher was standing aside' (lit. 'by a certain field-watcher it was stood aside').

a. The nominative is used predicatively with verbs meaning 'to be, become, seem, appear,' as well as with the passive of verbs of calling, considering, sending, appointing, making, &c.; e.g. तेन मुनिना कुक्कुरो व्याघ्रः कृतः 'the dog was turned into a tiger by the sage.'

b. The nominative followed by इति may in certain circumstances take the place of the accusative (see 191, 1).

Accusative.

194. Besides its ordinary use of denoting the object of transitive verbs, the accusative is employed to express—

1. The goal with verbs of motion; e.g. स विदर्भान् अगमत् 'he went to Vidarbha.'

a. Verbs of going, like गम् and या, are very commonly joined with an abstract noun where either the corresponding adjective with 'to become,' or merely an intransitive verb would be used in English; e.g. स कीर्तिं याति 'he becomes famous' (lit. 'goes to fame'); पञ्चत्वं गच्छति 'he dies' (lit. 'goes to death').

2. Duration of time and extension of space; e.g. मासमधीते 'he learns for a month'; योजनं गच्छति 'he goes (the distance of) a Yojana' (nine miles).

3. The object of desiderative adjectives in सु (cp. 169) and of some compound adjectives beginning with prepositions; e.g. तितीर्षुर् अस्मि सागरम् 'I am desirous of crossing the ocean'; दमयन्तीम् अनुव्रतः 'devoted to Damayantī.'

4. The cognate object of intransitive verbs in the case of nouns and the analogous adverbial sense in the case of adjectives; e.g. कामान् सर्वान् वर्षतु 'may he rain (i.e. grant) all desires'; शीघ्रं गच्छाम 'let us go quickly' (originally, 'go a quick gait').

Double Accusative.

195. Two accusatives are governed by—

1. Verbs of calling, considering, knowing, making, appointing, choosing; e.g. जानामि त्वां प्रकृतिपुरुषम् 'I know thee (to be) the chief person.'

2. Verbs of speaking (ब्रू, वच्, अह्), asking (प्रच्छ्), begging (याच्, प्रार्थय), instructing (अनु-शास्), fining (दण्डय), winning (जि), milking (दुह्); e.g. अन्तरिक्षगो वाचं व्याजहार नलम् 'the bird addressed a speech to Nala'; साक्ष्यं पृच्छेदृतं द्विजान् 'he should ask true evidence from the twice-born'; बलिं याचते वसुधाम् 'he asks Bali for the earth'; यदनुशास्ति माम् 'what she commands me'; तान् सहस्रं दण्डयेत् 'he should fine them a thousand paṇas'; जित्वा राज्यं नलम् 'having won the kingdom from Nala'; रत्नानि दुदुहुर्धरित्रीम् 'they milked (i.e. extracted) gems from the earth.'

a. कथय 'tell,' वेदय 'make known,' and आ-दिश् 'enjoin,' never take the accusative of the person addressed, but the dative (or gen.).

3. Verbs of bringing, conveying, leading, dispatching; e.g. ग्रामम् अजां नयति 'he brings the goat to the village'; शकुन्तलां पतिकुलं विसृज्य 'having sent Śakuntalā away to her husband's house.'

4. Causative verbs; e.g. रामं वेदमध्यापयति 'he causes Rāma to learn the Veda'; if stress is laid on the agent (the direct acc.), it may be put in the instrumental: तां श्वभिः खादयेत् 'he should cause her to be devoured by dogs.'

a. When the causative meaning has faded, the dat. or gen. of the person is used instead of the acc.; this is generally the case with दर्शय 'show' ('cause to see'), and श्रावय 'tell' ('cause to hear'), and always with वेदय 'make known,' 'tell' ('cause to know').

b. In the passive construction the direct acc. (the person or agent) becomes the nom., the indirect acc. (the object or thing) remains; e.g. रामो वेदम् अध्याप्यते 'Rāma is caused to learn the Veda'; तां श्वानः खाद्यन्ते 'dogs are caused to devour her'; बलिर्याच्यते वसुधाम् 'Bali is asked for the earth.'

Instrumental.

196. The fundamental notion of the instrumental, which may be rendered by 'by' or 'with,' expresses the agent, the instrument (means), or concomitant by or with which an action is performed; e.g. तेनोक्तम् 'it was said by him' = 'he said'; स खड्गेन व्यापादितः 'he was killed with a sword'; यस्य मित्रेण संलापस् ततो नास्तीह पुण्यवान् 'there is no one happier in this world than he who has converse with a friend.'

1. The following are modifications of the instrumental sense, expressing—a. The reason: 'by,' 'through,' 'by reason of,' 'because of,' 'on account of'; e.g. भवतोऽनुग्रहेण 'through your favour'; तेनापराधेन त्वां दण्डयामि 'I punish you for that fault'; व्याघ्रबुद्ध्या 'by the thought of a tiger'='because he thought it was a tiger' (cp. p. 159, 5); सुखभ्रान्त्या 'under the delusion of (the existence of) pleasure.'

b. Accordance: 'by,' 'in conformity with'; e. g. प्रकृत्या 'by nature'; जात्या 'by birth'; स मम मतेन वर्तते 'he goes by (acts in accordance with) my opinion.'

c. The price: ('with,' 'by means of'=) 'for,' 'at the price of'; e. g. रूपकशतेन विक्रीयमाणं पुस्तकम् 'a book sold for a hundred rupees'; आत्मानं सततं रक्षेद् दारैरपि धनैरपि 'a man should always save himself even at the cost of his wife or of his wealth.'

d. Time within which anything is done: ('by the lapse of'=) 'in': द्वादशैर् वर्षैर् व्याकरणं श्रूयते 'grammar is learnt in twelve years.'

e. The way, vehicle or part of the body by which motion is effected; e. g. कतमेन मार्गेण प्रनष्टाः काकाः 'in what direction have the crows disappeared?' वाजिना चरति 'he goes on horse-back' (lit. 'by means of a horse'); स श्वानं स्कन्धेनोवाह 'he carried (uvāha) the dog on his shoulder.'

f. 'In respect of': with words implying superiority, inferiority or defectiveness; एताभ्यां शौर्येण हीनः 'inferior to these two (abl.) in valour'; पूर्वान् महाभाग तयातिशेषे 'O fortunate man, you excel your ancestors in that (devotion)'; अक्ष्णा काणः 'blind of an eye.'

g. 'Of,' 'with': with words meaning need or use, अर्थः प्रयोजनम् (used interrogatively or with a negative), or किम् 'what?' (with or without कृ 'do'); e. g. देवपादानां सेवकैर्न प्रयोजनम्

'your Majesty's feet have no need of servants'; किं तया क्रियते धेन्वा 'what is to be done with that cow?' किं न एतेन 'what have we (to do) with this?' Similar is the use of कृतम् 'done with'='away with' and अलम् 'enough of' (see pp. 144, 146): कृतमभ्युत्थानेन 'away with rising'='pray do not rise.'

h. 'With,' 'at': with verbs of rejoicing, laughing, being pleased, satisfied, astonished, ashamed, disgusted; e.g. कापुरुषः स्वल्पेनापि तुष्यति 'a low person is satisfied even with very little'; जहास तेन 'he laughed at it.'

j. The object (victim) with यज् 'sacrifice'; e.g. पशुना रुद्रं यजते 'he sacrifices a bull to Rudra.' Here we have the real inst. sense surviving from the time when यज् meant 'worship' a god (acc.) with (inst.).

2. The concomitant or sociative sense is generally supplemented by the prepositional adverbs सह, साकम्, सार्धम् and समम् 'with,' which are used (like 'with' in English) even when separation or antagonism is implied; e.g. पुत्रेण सह पिता गतः 'the father went with his son'; मित्रेण सह चित्तविश्लेषः 'disagreement with a friend'; स तेन विदधे समं युद्धम् 'he engaged in a fight with him.' This sense is also applied—

a. To express the accompanying circumstances or the manner in which an action is performed; e.g. तौ दंपती महता स्नेहेन वसतः 'that pair lives in great affection'; महता सुखेन 'with great pleasure.'

b. With the passive of verbs which have the sense of accompanying, joining, endowing, possessing, and the opposite; e.g. त्वया सहितः 'accompanied by you'; धनेन संपन्नो विहीनो वा 'possessed or destitute of wealth'; प्राणैर् वियुक्तः 'bereft of life.'

c. With adjectives expressive of identity, equality, or likeness: सम, समान, सदृश, तुल्य; e.g. शक्रेण समः 'equal to Indra'; अनेन सदृशः 'like him'; अयं न मे पादरजसापि तुल्यः 'he is not even equal to the dust of my feet.' The genitive is also used with these adjectives (cp. 199, 2 d).

Dative.

197. The dative case expresses either the indirect object, generally a person, or the purpose of an action.

A. The dative of the indirect object is used—

1. With transitive verbs, with or without a direct object:

a. Of giving (दा, अर्पय), telling (चक्ष्, शंस्, कथय, ख्यापय, निवेदय), promising (प्रति° or आ-श्रु, प्रति-ज्ञा), showing (दर्शय); e.g. विप्राय गां ददाति 'he gives a cow to the Brahman'; कथयामि ते भूतार्थम् 'I tell you the truth.'

b. Of sending, casting; e.g. भोजेन दूतो रघवे विसृष्टः 'a messenger was sent by Bhoja to Raghu'; शूलांश्चिक्षिपू रामाय 'they cast (47) darts at Rāma.'

2. With intransitive verbs meaning to please (रुच्), desire (लुभ्, स्पृह्), be angry with (असूय, कुप्, क्रुध्), injure (द्रुह्); e.g. रोचते मह्यम् 'it pleases me'; न राज्याय स्पृहये 'I do not long for the kingdom'; किंकराय कुप्यति 'he is angry with his servant.' (क्रुध् and द्रुह् when compounded with prepositions govern the acc.)

3. With words of salutation; e.g. गणेशाय नमः 'salutation to Gaṇeśa'; कुशलं ते 'health to thee'; रामाय स्वस्ति 'hail to Rāma'; स्वागतं देव्यै 'welcome to her Majesty.'

B. The dative of purpose expresses the end for which an action is done, and is very often equivalent to an infinitive;

e.g. मुक्तये हरिं भजति 'he worships Hari for (= to obtain) salvation'; फलेभ्यो याति 'he goes for (=to obtain) fruit'; अस्मत्पुत्राणां नीतिशास्त्रोपदेशाय भवन्तः प्रमाणम् 'your Honour (has) full authority for the instruction of (=to instruct) my sons in the principles of morality'; युद्धाय प्रस्थितः 'he started for a fight' (='to fight'); पुनर्दर्शनाय 'au revoir.'

This dative is specially taken by verbs meaning—

1. 'Be fit for,' 'tend or conduce to' (कृप्, सं-पद्, प्र-भू); e.g. भक्तिर्ज्ञानाय कल्पते 'piety conduces to knowledge.'

a. अस् and भू are used in the same way, but are often omitted; e.g. लघूनामपि संश्रयो रक्षायै भवति 'the cohesion even of the weak leads to safety'; आर्तत्राणाय वः शस्त्रम् 'your weapon (serves) for the protection of (=to protect) the distressed.'

2. 'Be able,' 'begin,' 'strive,' 'resolve,' 'order,' 'appoint'; e.g. इयं कथा क्षत्रियस्याकर्षणायाशकत् 'this story was able to win over (ākarṣaṇāya) the warrior'; प्रावर्तत शपथाय 'he began to (take) an oath'; तदन्वेषणाय यतिष्ये 'I will try to find her'; तेन जीवोत्सर्गाय व्यवसितम् 'he has resolved on abandoning his life'; दुहितरम् अतिथिसत्कारायादिश्य 'having charged (ā-diśya) his daughter with the reception of the guests'; रावणोच्छित्तये देवैर्नियोजितः 'he was appointed by the gods for the destruction of (=to destroy) Rāvaṇa.'

a. The adverb अलम् 'sufficient' is used in the sense of 'be able to cope with,' 'be a match for'; e.g. दैत्येभ्यो हरिरलम् 'Hari (is) a match for the demons.'

Ablative.

198. The ablative primarily expresses the starting-point or source from which anything proceeds. It thus answers to the question 'whence?' and may in general be translated by 'from.'

a. The source of apprehension is put in the ablative with verbs of fearing (भी, उद्विज् ud-vij); e.g. लुब्धकाद् बिभेषि 'you are afraid of the hunter'; संमानाद् ब्राह्मणो नित्यमुद्विजेत 'a Brahman should always shrink from marks of honour.'

b. Verbs expressing separation 'from' naturally take the ablative; e.g. भवद्भो वियोजितः 'parted from you'; सा पतिलोकाच्च हीयते 'and she is deprived of her husband's place' (such words also take the instr.: cp. 196, 2 b). Allied to this use is that of वञ्चय 'to cheat of' (='so as to separate from'); e.g. वञ्चयितुं ब्राह्मणं छागलात् 'to cheat a Brahman of his he-goat.'

c. As the abl. expresses the terminus a quo, it is employed with all words meaning 'far,' and with the names of the cardinal points; e.g. दूरं ग्रामात् 'far from the village'; ग्रामात् पूर्वो गिरिः 'the mountain (is) to the east of the village.'

d. Similarly the abl. also expresses the time after which anything takes place; e.g. बहोर्दृष्टं कालात् 'seen after a long time'; सप्ताहात् 'after a week.'

The abl. also expresses the following senses connected with its original meaning:—

1. The cause, reason, or motive = 'on account of,' 'because of,' 'through,' 'from'; e.g. लौल्याद् मांसं भक्षयति 'he eats the flesh through greed.' This use of the abl. is especially common in commentaries with abstract nouns in त्व tva; e.g. पर्वतोऽग्निमान् धूमत्वात् 'the mountain is fiery because of its smokiness.' (The instr. is also employed in this sense: 196, 1 a.)

a. With comparatives (= 'than') or words with a comparative meaning; e.g. गोविन्दाद् रामो विद्वत्तरः 'Rāma is more learned than Govinda'; कर्मणो ज्ञानम् अतिरिच्यते 'knowledge is superior to action.' In this sense it is used even with positives (= 'in comparison with'); e.g. भार्या सर्वलोकादपि वल्लभा भवति 'a wife is dear even in comparison with (i.e. dearer than) the whole world.'

b. With words meaning 'other' or 'different' (अन्य, इतर, अपर, भिन्न); e.g. कृष्णादन्यो गोविन्दः 'Govinda is different from Kṛṣṇa.'

c. Allied to the comparative abl. is that used with multiplicative words like 'double,' 'treble,' &c.; e.g. मूल्यात् पञ्चगुणो दण्डः 'a fine five times (in comparison with) the value.'

Genitive.

199. The primary sense of the genitive is quasi-adjectival, as its qualification of another noun means 'belonging to' or 'connected with.' It may generally be expressed in English by the preposition 'of.' With nouns the gen. is used in a possessive, subjective, objective, or partitive sense; e.g. राज्ञः पुरुषः 'the king's man'; राक्षसकलत्रप्रच्छादनं भवतः 'your concealment of Rākṣasa's wife' (i.e. 'by you'); शङ्कया तस्याः 'by the supposition of her' (i.e. 'supposing it was she'); धुर्यो धनवताम् 'the foremost of the wealthy.'

1. The gen. is used with a number of verbs :—

a. In the possessive sense with प्र-भू 'be master of,' 'have power over,' and with अस्, भू 'be,' विद्यते 'exists'; e.g. आत्मनः प्रभविष्यामि 'I shall be master of myself'; मम पुस्तकं विद्यते 'I have a book.'

b. In the objective sense (concurrently with the acc.) with दय् 'have mercy,' स्मृ 'remember,' अनु-कृ 'imitate'; e.g. एते तव दयन्ताम् 'may these men have mercy on you'; स्मरति ते प्रसादानाम् 'he remembers your favours'; भीमस्यानुकरिष्यामि 'I will imitate Bhīma.'

c. In the objective sense (concurrently with the loc.) with verbs meaning 'do good or harm to' (उप-कृ, प्र-सद्, अप-कृ, अप-राध्), 'trust in' (वि-श्वस्), 'forbear with' (क्षम्); e.g. मित्राणाम् उपकुर्वाणः 'benefiting his friends'; किं मया तस्या अपकृतम् 'how have I done her an injury?' क्षमस्व मे 'forbear with me.'

d. With verbs meaning 'speak of' or 'expect of'; e.g. ममादोषस्याप्येवं वदति 'he speaks thus of me though I am guiltless'; सर्वमस्य मूर्खस्य संभाव्यते 'anything may be expected of that fool.'

e. Frequently (instead of the dat. of the indirect object) with verbs of giving, telling, promising, showing, sending, bowing, pleasing, being angry; e.g. मया तस्याभयं प्रदत्तम् 'I have granted safety to him' (tasya); किं तव रोचत एषः 'does he please you?' ममानतिक्रुद्धो मुनिः 'the sage (is) not very angry with me' (mama).

f. Sometimes (instead of the instr.) with verbs meaning 'be filled or satisfied'; e.g. नाग्निस्तृप्यति काष्ठानाम् 'fire is not satiated with logs.' So also the past part. पूर्ण 'full of' (gen.), or 'filled with' (instr.).

2. The gen. is frequently used with adjectives:—

a. Such as are allied to transitive verbs; e.g. जरा विनाशिनी रूपस्य 'old age is destructive of beauty.'

b. Such as mean 'dependent on,' 'belonging or attached to,' 'dear to'; e.g. तवायत्तः स प्रतीकारः 'that remedy depends on you' (tava); यत् त्वयास्य सक्तं किंचिद् गृहीतमस्ति तत् समर्पय

'give up what you have taken belonging to him' (asya); को नाम राज्ञां प्रियः 'who, pray, is dear to kings?'

c. Such as mean 'acquainted with,' 'versed or skilled in,' 'accustomed to' (concurrently with the loc.: 200, 1 f); e.g. अभिज्ञः खल्वसि लोकव्यवहाराणाम् 'you are, indeed, conversant with the ways of the world'; संग्रामाणाम् अकोविदः 'unskilled in battle'; उचितो जनः क्लेशानाम् 'people accustomed to hardships.'

d. Such as mean 'like' or 'equal to' (concurrently with the instr.: p. 176); e.g. रामः कृष्णस्य तुल्यः 'Rāma is equal to Kṛṣṇa.'

3. The gen. expresses the agent with passive participles:—

a. Past participles having a pres. sense, formed from roots meaning 'think,' 'know,' 'worship'; e.g. राज्ञां मतः ('well thought of'=) 'approved of kings'; विदितो भवान् आश्रमसदाम् इहस्थः 'you are known to the hermits to be staying here.'

b. Future participles (which also take the instr.: 196); e.g. मम (मया) सेव्यो हरिः 'Hari should be worshipped by me.'

4. The gen. is used with adverbs of direction in °तस् -tas (cp. 177 d); e.g. ग्रामस्य दक्षिणतः 'to the south of the village'; sometimes also with those in °एन -ena (concurrently with the acc.); e.g. उत्तरेणास्य 'to the north of this (asya) sc. place.'

5. The gen. of time is used in the following ways:—

a. With multiplicatives (108) or other numerals similarly used to express how often anything is repeated within a stated period; e.g. श्राद्धं त्रिरब्दस्य निर्वपेत् 'he should offer the funeral sacrifice three times a year'; संवत्सरस्यैकमपि चरेत् कृच्छ्रं द्विजोत्तमः 'a Brahman should perform at least one severe penance a year.'

b. Words denoting time are put in the gen. (like the abl.) in the sense of 'after'; e.g. कतिपयाहस्य (kati-paya-ahasya), 'after some days'; चिरस्य कालस्य 'after a long time.' चिरस्य is also used alone in this sense.

c. A noun and past part. in the gen., accompanying an expression of time, have the sense of 'since'; e.g. अद्य दशमो मासस् तातस्योपरतस्य 'to-day (is) the tenth month since our father died' (uparatasya). This construction is akin to the gen. absolute (201, 2).

6. Two genitives are employed to express an option or a difference between two things; e.g. व्यसनस्य च मृत्योश्च व्यसनं कष्टमुच्यते 'of vice and death, the former is called the worse'; एतावानेवायुष्मतः शतक्रतोश्च विशेषः 'this is the only difference between you (the long-lived) and Indra.'

Locative.

200. The locative denotes either the place where an action occurs, or, with verbs of motion, the place whither an action is directed. The former sense may variously be translated by 'in, at, on, among, by, with, near,' the latter by 'into, upon'; corresponding to Lat. in with abl. and acc. respectively.

1. The following are examples of the ordinary use of the loc. in the sense of 'where?' पक्षिणस्तस्मिन् वृक्षे निवसन्ति 'birds live in that tree'; विदर्भेषु 'in Vidarbha'; आत्मानं तव द्वारि व्यापादयिष्यामि 'I will kill myself at your door'; काश्याम् 'at Kāśi' (Benares); फलं दृष्टं द्रुमेषु 'fruit (is) seen on the trees': आसेदुर्गङ्गायाम् 'they encamped on (=close to) the Ganges'; न देवेषु न यक्षेषु तादृग्रूपवती क्वचिद् मानुषेष्वपि चान्येषु दृष्टपूर्वा 'neither among gods, nor Yakṣas, or among men either, had such a beauty anywhere been seen before'; मम पार्श्वे 'by my side.'

a. When the loc. means 'among' it is often equivalent to a partitive gen. (199); e.g. सर्वेषु पुत्रेषु रामो मम प्रियतमः 'among (=of) all the sons Rāma is dearest to me.'

c. The loc. with the verbs तिष्ठति 'stands' and वर्तते 'goes on' (= Lat. versatur) expresses 'abides by,' 'complies with'; e.g. न मे शासने तिष्ठसि 'you do not (stand by=) obey my command'; मातुर्मते वर्तस्व 'comply with your mother's desire.'

d. The loc. is used to express the effect 'of' a cause; e.g. दैवमेव नृणां वृद्धौ क्षये कारणम् 'fate alone (is) the cause of the decline or prosperity of men.'

e. The loc. expresses contact with verbs of seizing by (ग्रह्) fastening to (बन्ध्), clinging or adhering to (लग्, श्लिष्, सञ्ज्), leaning on, and (figuratively) relying on or trusting to; e.g. केशेषु गृहीत्वा 'seizing by the hair'; पाणौ संगृह्य 'taking by the hand'; वृक्षे पाशं बबन्ध 'he fastened a noose to the tree'; व्यसनेष्वसक्तः शूरः 'a hero not addicted to vices'; वृक्षमूलेषु संश्रिताः 'reclining on the roots of trees'; विश्वसिति शत्रुषु 'he trusts in his enemies'; आशंसन्ते सुरा अस्याधिज्ये धनुषि विजयम् 'the gods fix their hopes of victory on his bent bow.'

f. The loc. is used (concurrently with the gen.: 199, 2 c) with adjectives meaning 'acquainted with,' 'versed or skilled in'; e.g. रामोऽक्षद्यूते निपुणः 'Rāma (is) skilled in the game of dice'; नाट्ये दक्षा वयम् 'we (are) expert in acting.'

g. The loc. is used figuratively to express the person or thing in which some quality or state is to be found; e.g. सर्वं संभावयाम्यस्मिन् 'I look for everything in him' (cp. 199, 1 d); दृष्टदोषा मृगया स्वामिनि 'hunting (is) recognized as sinful in a prince'; आर्तानामुपदेशे न दोषः 'there is no harm in (giving) advice to the afflicted.' Similarly, when the meaning of a word is explained, the loc. expresses 'in the sense of'; e.g. कलापो बर्हे 'kalāpa (is used) in the sense of peacock's tail.'

h. The circumstances in which an action takes place are expressed by the loc.; e.g. आपदि 'in case of distress'; भाग्येषु

'in fortune'; छिद्रेष्वनर्था बहुलीभवन्ति ('in the presence of'=) 'there being openings, my misfortunes multiply.' In the last example the loc. expresses the reason; if it were accompanied by a predicative participle, it would be a loc. absolute (cp. 201, 1 a).

i. The loc. of time, expressing when an action takes place, is only a special application of the preceding sense; e.g. वर्षासु 'in the rainy season'; निशायाम् 'at night'; दिने दिने 'every day.'

j. The loc. expresses the distance at which anything takes place; e.g. इतो वसति ... अध्यर्धयोजने महर्षिः 'the great sage lives at (a distance of) a yojana and a half from here.'

2. The loc. answering to the question 'whither' is always used with verbs of falling, throwing, placing, and, concurrently with the acc., with those of going, entering, ascending, striking, bringing, sending; e.g. भूमौ पपात 'he fell on the ground'; अरौ बाणान् क्षिपति 'he darts arrows at his enemy'; तत्रैव भिक्षापात्रे निधाय 'having put (it) in that same begging bowl'; हस्तमुरसि कृत्वा 'placing his hand on his breast' (कृ 'do,' is frequently used in the sense of putting); मत्स्यो नद्यां प्रविवेश 'the fish entered the river'; तं शिरस्यताडयत् 'he struck him on the head'; समीपवर्तिनि नगरे प्रस्थितः 'he set out for a neighbouring town.'

Secondary applications of this loc. are the following:—

a. It expresses the person or object towards which an action is directed or to which it refers = 'towards,' 'about,' 'with regard to'; e.g. प्राणिषु दयां कुर्वन्ति साधवः 'the good show compassion towards animate beings'; भव दक्षिणा परिजने 'be courteous to your attendants'; क्षेत्रे विवदन्ते 'they are disputing about a field.'

b. Concurrently with the dat. (and gen.), it expresses the indirect object with verbs of giving, telling, promising, buying, selling; e.g. सहस्राक्षे प्रतिज्ञाय 'having promised (it) to Indra';

c. Concurrently with the dat. (197, B 1, 2), it may express the aim of an action with words expressive of striving after, resolving on, wishing for, of appointing, choosing, enjoining, permitting, of being able or fit for; e. g. सर्वस्वहरणे युक्तः शत्रुः 'an enemy prepared for the appropriation of everything'; कर्मणि न्ययुङ्क 'he appointed to a task'; पतित्वे वरयामास तम् 'she chose him for her husband'; असमर्थोऽयमुदरपूरणेऽस्माकम् 'he is incapable of supplying food for us.' त्रैलोक्यस्यापि प्रभुत्वं तस्मिन् युज्यते 'the sovereignty even of the three worlds is fitting for him.' A predicative loc. alone is capable of expressing fitness; e. g. नयत्यागशौर्यसंपन्ने पुरुषे राज्यम् 'sovereignty befits a man who is endowed with worldly wisdom, liberality, and heroism.'

d. Nouns expressive of desire, devotion, regard, friendship, confidence, compassion, contempt, neglect, are often connected with the loc. (as is also the gen.) of the object to which those sentiments are directed; e. g. न खलु शकुन्तलायां ममाभिलाषः 'my love is, indeed, not towards Śakuntalā'; न मे त्वयि विश्वासः 'I have no faith in you'; न लघुष्वपि कर्तव्येष्वनादरः कार्यः 'neglect of duties, however small, should not be indulged in.'

e. The loc. is similarly used with adjectives or past participles meaning 'fond of,' 'devoted to,' 'intent on,' and their opposites; e. g. नार्यः केवलं स्वसुखे रताः 'women (are) intent on their own pleasure only.'

Locative and Genitive Absolute.

201. 1. The locative is the usual absolute case in Sanskrit, and has much the same general application as the Greek genitive and the Lat. ablative absolute;

e.g. गच्छत्सु दिनेषु 'as the days went by'; गोषु दुग्धासु स गतः 'the cows having been milked, he departed'; कर्णं ददाति मयि भाषमाणे 'she gives ear when I speak.'

a. The predicate of the absolute loc. is practically always a participle; the only exception being that the part. सत् 'being,' is frequently omitted; e.g. कथं धर्मक्रियाविघ्नः सतां रक्षितरि त्वयि 'how (can there be any) interference with the good in the performance of their duties, when you (are) their protector?'

b. The part. सत् 'being' (or its equivalents वर्तमान and स्थित) is often pleonastically added to another absolute part.; e.g. सूर्योदयेऽन्धतां प्राप्तेषूलूकेषु सत्सु 'at sunrise, when the owls had become blind.'

c. The subject is of course always omitted when a past pass. part. is used impersonally; it is also omitted when the part. is accompanied by indeclinable words like एवम्, तथा, इत्थम्, इति; e.g. तेनाभ्युपगते 'when consent had been given by him'; एवं गते 'this being the case' (lit. 'it having gone thus'); तथा कृते सति or तथानुष्ठिते 'this being done.'

d. The particle एव and the noun मात्र (as latter member of a compound) may be used after an absolute participle to express 'no sooner—than,' 'scarcely—when'; e.g. प्रभातायामेव रजन्याम् 'scarcely had it dawned, when'; प्रविष्टमात्र एव तत्रभवति 'no sooner had his Honour entered, than.'

2. The gen. absolute is much less common than the loc. and more limited in its application. It is restricted to contemporaneous actions, the subject being a person and the predicate a present participle in form or sense. Its meaning may be rendered by 'while,' 'as,' or 'though.'

E.g. पश्यतो मे परिभ्रमन् 'wandering about, though I was looking on'; एवं वदतस्तस्य स लुब्धको निभृतः स्थितः 'while he was speaking thus, the hunter remained concealed'; इति चिन्तयतस्तस्य तत्र तोयार्थमाययुः स्त्रियः 'while he was thus reflecting women came there to fetch water.'

Participles.

202. Participles are constantly used in Sanskrit to qualify the main action, supplying the place of subordinate clauses. They may, as in Latin and Greek, express a relative, temporal, causal, concessive, or hypothetical sense. A final sense is also expressed by the future participle. All these meanings are inherent in the participle, without the aid of particles, except that अपि is usually added when the sense is concessive.

E.g. शृगालः कोपाविष्टस् तम् उवाच 'the jackal, being filled with anger, said to him'; निषिद्धस्त्वं मयानेकशो न शृणोषि 'though you have been frequently dissuaded by me, you do not listen to me'; अजल्पतो जानतस्ते शिरो यास्यति खण्डशः 'if you do not tell, though knowing it, your head will be shattered to pieces'; ताडयिष्यन् भीमं पुनरभ्यद्रवत् 'he ran again at Bhīma in order to strike him.'

a. Bahuvrīhi compounds are very frequently employed in a participial sense, the part. सत् being omitted; e.g. अथ शङ्कितमना व्यचिन्तयत् 'then being anxious he reflected.'

1. Present Participle. This participle (as well as a past with a present sense) is used with अस्ति or भवति 'is,' आस्ते 'sits,' तिष्ठति 'stands,' वर्तते 'goes on,' to express continuous action, like the English 'is doing'; e.g. एतदेव वनं यस्मिन्नभूम चिरमेव पुरा वसन्तः 'this is the very forest in which we formerly dwelt for a long time'; भक्षयन्नास्ते 'he keeps eating'; सा यत्नेन रक्ष्यमाणा तिष्ठति 'she is being carefully guarded'; परिपूर्णोऽयं घटः सक्तुभिर्वर्तते 'this pot is filled with porridge.'

a. The negative of verbs meaning 'to cease' are similarly construed with a present participle; e.g. सिंहो मृगान् व्यापादयन्नोपरराम 'the lion did not cease (=kept) slaying the animals.'

b. Verbs expressing an emotion such as 'to be ashamed,' 'to endure,' may be accompanied by a pres. part. indicating the cause of the emotion; e.g. किं न लज्जस एवं ब्रुवाणः 'are you not ashamed of speaking thus?'

c. A predicative present part. accompanies the acc., or the nom. in the passive construction, with verbs of seeing, hearing, knowing, thinking, wishing (cp. 195, 1); e.g. प्रविशन्तं न मां कश्चिदपश्यत् 'no one saw me entering'; स भूपतिरेकदा केनापि पठ्यमानं श्लोकद्वयं शुश्राव 'the king one day heard some one repeating a couple of ślokas'; गान्धर्वेण विवाहेन बह्व्यो राजर्षिकन्यकाः श्रूयन्ते परिणीताः 'many daughters of royal sages are recorded to have been wedded according to the marriage of the Gandharvas.'

2. Past Participles. The passive part. in त and its active form in वत् (sometimes even the perf. act. part. in वस्: 89) are very frequently used as finite verbs (the copula being omitted); e.g. तेनेदम् उक्तम् 'this was said by him'; स इदमुक्तवान् 'he said this.'

a. The passive of intransitive verbs is used impersonally; otherwise it has an active sense; e.g. मयात्र चिरं स्थितम् 'I stood there for a long time'; स गङ्गां गतः 'he went to the Ganges'; स पथि मृतः 'he died on the way.'

b. Some past participles in त have both a passive and a transitive active sense; e.g. प्राप्त 'obtained' and 'having reached'; प्रविष्ट 'entered (by)' and 'having entered'; पीत 'imbibed' and 'having drunk'; विस्मृत 'forgotten' and 'having forgotten'; विभक्त 'divided' and 'having divided'; प्रसूत 'begotten' and 'having borne' (f.); आरूढ 'ridden,' &c., and 'riding,' &c.

c. The past participles in न never seem to occur with a transitive active meaning.

3. Future Participles Passive. These (162) express necessity, obligation, fitness, probability. The construction is the same as with the past pass. part.; e.g. मयावश्यं देशान्तरं गन्तव्यम् 'I must needs go to another country'; हन्तव्योऽस्मि न ते राजन् 'you must not (=do not) kill me, O king'; ततस्तेनापि शब्दः कर्तव्यः 'then he too will surely make a noise.'

a. Occasionally the fut. pass. part. has a purely future sense; e.g. युवयोः पक्षबलेन मयापि सुखेन गन्तव्यम् 'I too shall go at ease by the strength of your wings.'

b. भवितव्यम् and भाव्यम् (from भू 'be') are used impersonally to express necessity or high probability. The adjective or noun of the predicate agrees with the subject in the instr.; e.g. तया संनिहितया भवितव्यम् 'she must be (=is most probably) near'; तस्य प्राणिनो बलेन सुमहता भवितव्यम् 'the strength of that animal must be very great.'

4. Indeclinable Participle (Gerund). It nearly always expresses that an action is completed before another begins (rarely that it is simultaneous). Referring to the grammatical or the virtual subject of the main action, it generally agrees with the nom., or, in the passive construction, with the instr., but occasionally with other cases also; e.g. तं प्रणम्य स गतः 'having bowed down to him, he departed'; अथ तेनात्मानं तस्योपरि प्रक्षिप्य प्राणाः परित्यक्ताः 'then he throwing himself upon him lost his life' (प्रक्षिप्य agrees with तेन); तस्य दृष्ट्वैव ववृधे कामस्तां चारुहासिनीम् 'his love increased as soon as he had seen the sweetly smiling maiden' (दृष्ट्वा agrees with तस्य).

a. It may frequently be translated by 'in' or 'by' with a verbal noun; e.g. मां निर्धनं हत्वा किं लभेध्वम् 'what would you gain by killing a poor man like me?'

b. Having the full value of an inflected participle, it may express the various logical relations of the latter, and may even be accompanied, like them, by आस्ते, तिष्ठति, वर्तते to express continuous action; e.g. सर्वपौरान् अतीत्य वर्तते 'he is the foremost of all the townsmen.'

c. A number of gerunds are equivalent in sense to prepositions (179).

d. The original instr. nature of the gerund is preserved in its employment with किम् or अलम् and with a general subject expressed by the impersonal passive construction; e.g. किं तव गोपायित्वा 'what (gain accrues) to you by concealing?' अलं ते वनं गत्वा 'have done with going to the forest'; पशून् हत्वा यदि स्वर्गं गम्यते 'if one goes to heaven by killing animals.'

Infinitive.

203. This frequent form expresses the aim of an action and may in general be used wherever the dative of purpose is employed (197 B). It differs from the dative of an ordinary verbal noun solely in governing its object in the acc. instead of the gen.; e.g. तं जेतुं यतते 'he strives to conquer him' = तस्य जयाय यतते 'he strives for the conquering of him.' It preserves its original acc. sense inasmuch as it is used as the direct object of verbs (e.g. स्नातुं लभते 'he gets a bath'), and cannot be employed as the subject of a sentence. Verbal nouns usually supply its place as the subject; e.g. वरं दानं न तु प्रतिग्रहः 'giving (=to give) is better than receiving' (=to receive). The construction of the acc. with the infinitive is unknown to Sanskrit, its place being supplied, with verbs of saying, &c., by oratio recta with इति (p. 144), or otherwise by the use of a predicative acc. (195, 1, and 202, 1 c).

The infinitive may be used with nouns (e.g. 'time,' 'opportunity'), adjectives ('fit,' 'capable'), as well as verbs (e.g. 'be able,' 'wish,' 'begin'); e.g. नायं कालो विलम्बितुम् 'this is not the time to delay'; अवसरोऽयम् आत्मानं प्रकाशयितुम् 'this is an opportunity to show yourself'; लिखितमपि ललाटे प्रोञ्छितुं कः समर्थः 'who (is) able to escape from what is written on his forehead (by fate)?' अहं त्वां प्रष्टुम् आगतः 'I have come (in order) to ask you'; कथयितुं शक्नोति 'he is able to tell'; दृश्येष सा कर्तुम् 'she wished to make.'

b. The infinitive, after dropping its final म्, may be formed into a Bahuvrīhi compound (186) with काम 'desire,' or मनस् 'mind,' in the sense of wishing or having a mind to do what the verb expresses; e.g. द्रष्टुकामः 'desirous of seeing'; किं वक्तुमना भवान् 'what do you intend to say?'

c. There being no passive form of the infinitive in Sanskrit, verbs governing the infin. are put in the passive in order to give it a passive meaning; e.g. कर्तुं न युज्यते 'it is not fit to be done'; मया नीतिं ग्राहयितुं शक्यन्ते 'they can be taught morality by me'; तेन मण्डपः कारयितुम् आरब्धः 'a hut (was) begun to be erected by him.'

d. The fut. part. pass. शक्य śak-ya may either agree with the subject or be put in the neut. sing.; e.g. न शक्यास्ते (दोषाः) समाधातुम् 'those (mischiefs) cannot be repaired'; सा न शक्यम् उपेक्षितुं कुपिता 'she cannot be ignored (lit. 'is not a possible thing to ignore') when angry.' युक्त 'fitting' and न्याय्य 'suitable' may be construed in the same way; e.g. सेयं न्याय्या मया मोचयितुं भवत्तः 'she should rightly be released by me from you.'

TENSES AND MOODS.

Present.

204. The use of this tense is much the same as in English. But the following differences should be noted:—

1. In narration the historical present is more commonly used than in English, especially to express the durative sense (which the Sanskrit imperfect lacks); e.g. दमनकः पृच्छति कथमेतत् 'Damanaka asked, "How was it?"' हिरण्यको भोजनं कृत्वा बिले स्वपिति 'Hiraṇyaka, having taken his food, used to sleep in his hole.'

a. पुरा 'formerly,' is sometimes added to this present; e.g. कस्मिंश्चिद् वृक्षे पुराहं वसामि 'I formerly used to live in a certain tree.' The particle स्म (which in the older language frequently accompanied पुरा, and thus acquired its meaning when alone) is much more frequently used thus; e.g. कस्मिंश्चिद् अधिष्ठाने सोमिलको नाम कौलिको वसति स्म 'in a certain place a weaver named Somilaka used to live.'

b. The present is used to express the immediate past; e.g. अयम् आगच्छामि 'here I come,' i. e. 'I have just come.'

2. The present also expresses the near future, पुरा 'soon' and यावत् 'just' (p. 151) being sometimes added; e.g. तर्हि मुक्त्वा धनुर्गच्छामि 'then leaving the bow, I am off'; तद् यावच्छत्रुघ्नं प्रेषयामि 'therefore I will just send Śatrughna.'

a. With interrogatives it implies a doubt as to future action; e.g. किं करोमि 'what shall I do?'

b. It may express an exhortation to perform an action at once; e.g. तर्हि गृहमेव प्रविशामः 'then we (will) enter (=let us enter) the house.'

Past Tenses.

205. All the three past tenses, imperfect, perfect, and aorist, besides the past participles in त ta and तवत् ta-vat (and the historical present), are used promiscuously to express the historical or remote past, applying equally to facts which happened only once, or were repeated or continuous.

a. The perfect is properly restricted to the statement of facts of the remote past, not coming within the experience of the speaker. The 1. and 2. sing. are therefore very rare.

b. The imperfect, in addition to describing the historical past, states past facts of which the speaker himself has been a witness.

c. The aorist has (along with the participles in त and तवत्) the special sense of the present perfect, being therefore appropriate in dialogues; e.g. अभूत्संपादितस्वादुफलो मे मनोरथः 'my desire has obtained sweet fulfilment'; तुभ्यं मया राज्यम् अदायि 'I have bestowed the sovereignty on you'; तं दृष्टवानस्मि 'I have seen him.'

d. The aorist (very rarely the imperfect) without the augment is used imperatively with मा (207 e, and p. 150).

e. As there is no pluperfect in Sanskrit, its sense (to be inferred from the context) has to be expressed by the other past tenses or the gerund.

Future.

206. The simple future is a general tense, referring to any future action, while the periphrastic, which is much less frequently employed, is restricted to the remote future. Both can therefore often be employed in describing the same action, and they frequently interchange.

a. The future is sometimes used in an imperative sense, when accompanying an imperative; e.g. भद्रे यास्यसि मम तावद् अर्थित्वं श्रूयताम् 'go, my dear, but first hear my request.'

Imperative.

207. Besides the ordinary injunctive or exhortative sense, this mood has some special uses.

a. The first persons, which are survivals of old subjunctive forms, may be translated by 'will' or 'let'; e.g. दीव्यावेत्यब्रवीद् भ्राता 'his brother said, "Let us play"'; अहं करवाणि 'I will make.'

b. The 3. sing. pass. is commonly used as a polite imperative instead of the 2. pers. act.; देव श्रूयताम् 'Sire, pray listen!' (cp. 203 a).

c. The imperative may be used, instead of an optative or benedictive, to express a wish or blessing; e.g. चिरं जीव 'may you live long'; शिवास् ते पन्थानः सन्तु 'may your paths be auspicious' = 'Godspeed.'

d. It may express possibility or doubt, especially with interrogatives; e.g. विषं भवतु मा वास्तु फटाटोपो भयंकरः 'whether there be poison or not, the swelling of a serpent's hood is terrifying'; प्रत्येतु कस्तद् भुवि 'who on earth would believe it?' किमधुना करवाम 'what should we do now?'

e. The imperative with the prohibitive particle मा is comparatively rare, its place being commonly supplied by the unaugmented aorist (205 d), or अलम् and क्षतम् with the instr. (pp. 144, 146).

Optative or Potential.

208. Besides its proper function this mood also expresses the various shades of meaning appropriate to the subjunctive (which has become obsolete in Sanskrit).

1. In principal sentences it expresses the following meanings:—

a. A wish (often with the particle अपि added); e.g. अपि पश्येयमिह राघवम् 'O that I could see Rāma here!'

b. Possibility or doubt; e.g. कदाचिद् गोशब्देन बुध्येत 'perhaps he may be awakened by the lowing of the cows'; पश्येयुः क्षितिपतयश्च् चारदृष्ट्या 'kings can see through the eye of their spies'; एकं हन्यान्न वा हन्यादिषुर् मुक्तो धनुष्मता 'the arrow shot by an archer may hit an individual, or may not hit him.'

c. Probability, being often equivalent to a future; e.g. इयं कन्या नात्र तिष्ठेत् 'this girl (is not likely to =) will not stay here.'

d. Exhortation or precept; e.g. त्वमेवं कुर्याः 'do you act thus'; आपदर्थं धनं रक्षेत् 'one should save wealth against calamity.'

2. The optative is used in the following kinds of subordinate clauses:—

a. In general relative clauses; e.g. कालातिक्रमणं वृत्तेर् यो न कुर्वीत भूपतिः 'the king who (=every king who) does not neglect the time for the payment of salaries.'

b. In final clauses ('in order that'); e.g. आदिश मे देशं यत्र वसेयम् 'indicate to me the place where I am to live' (=that I may live there).

c. In consequential clauses ('so that'); e.g. स भारो भर्तव्यो यो नरं नावसादयेत् '(only) such a burden should be borne as may not weigh a man down.'

d. In the protasis (as well as the apodosis) of hypothetical clauses, with the sense of the Lat. present (possible condition) or imperfect (impossible condition) subjunctive (cp. 210); e.g. यदि न स्यान् नरपतिर् विप्लवेत नौरिव प्रजा 'if there were not a king, the state would founder like a ship.'

Benedictive or Precative.

209. This rare form (150), a kind of aorist optative, is properly restricted to the expression of blessings, or, in the first person, of the speaker's wish; e.g. वीरप्रसवा भूयाः 'mayst thou give birth to a warrior'; कृतार्थो भूयासम् 'may I become successful.' The imperative is also employed in this sense (207 c). In a few rare cases the benedictive is indistinguishable in meaning from an imperative or an ordinary optative; e.g. इदं वचो ब्रूयास्त 'do ye proclaim this speech'; ममैष कामो भूतानां यद् भूयासुर् विभूतयः 'it is my desire that beings should enjoy welfare.'

Conditional.

210. The conditional, as its form (an indicative past of the future) well indicates, is properly used to express a past condition, the unreality of which is implied, and is equivalent to the pluperfect (conditional) subjunctive in Latin or English, or the aorist indicative, used conditionally, in Greek. It is employed in both protasis and apodosis; e.g. सुवृष्टिश्चेदभविष्यद् दुर्भिक्षं नाभविष्यत् 'if there had been abundant rain, there would have been no famine.' If a potential is used in the protasis, a conditional in the apodosis may acquire the sense of a hypothetical present (=imperf. subjunctive); e.g. यदि न प्रणयेद्राजा दण्डं शूले मत्स्यानिवापक्ष्यन् दुर्बलान् बलवत्तराः 'if the king did not inflict punishment, the strong would roast the weak like fish on a spit.' The potential properly expresses a hypothetical present, but it also occurs in the past sense instead of the conditional (cp. 208, 2 d).

METRE IN CLASSICAL SANSKRIT

The versification of classical Sanskrit differs considerably from that of the Vedic hymns, being more artificial, more subject to strict rules, and showing a far greater number of varieties of metre.

Classical Sanskrit metres are divided into—

I. Those measured by the number of syllables;

II. Those measured by the number of morae they contain.

Nearly all Sanskrit poetry is written in stanzas consisting of four metrical lines or quarter-verses (called pāda, 'foot' = quarter). These stanzas are regularly divided into half-verses.

Quantity is measured as in Latin and Greek. Vowels are long by nature or by position. Two consonants make a preceding short vowel long by position, Anusvāra and Visarga counting as full consonants. A short vowel counts as one mora (mātrā), a long vowel (by nature or position) as two.

I. Metres measured by Syllables (Akṣara-cchandaḥ).

These consist of—

A. Two half-verses identical in structure, while the quarter-verses 1 and 3 differ from 2 and 4.

B. Four quarter-verses all identical in structure.

A. The Śloka.

The śloka ('song,' from śru, 'hear'), developed from the Vedic Anuṣṭubh, is the Epic verse, and may be considered the Indian verse par excellence, occurring, as it does, far more frequently than any other metre in classical Sanskrit poetry. It consists of two half-verses of sixteen syllables or of four pādas of eight syllables.

Dividing the half-verse into four feet of four syllables, we find that only the second and the fourth foot are determined as to quantity. The fourth is necessarily iambic (⏑ – ⏑ ⏒), while the second may assume four different forms. The first and the third foot are undetermined, except that ⏒ ⏑ ⏑ ⏒ is always excluded from them. By far the commonest form of the second foot is ⏑ – – ⏒ (in Nala 1442 out of 1732 half-verses).

• • • • | ⏑ – – ⏒ | • • • • | ⏑ – ⏑ – ||

Ex. āsīd rājā Nălō nāmă | Vīrăsēnăsŭtō bălī |
ŭpăpannō gŭṇair iṣṭaī | rūpăvān aśvăkōvĭdăḥ ||

It is only when the second foot has ⏑ – – ⏒ that the first foot may assume all its admissible forms. When the second foot has any of the other three forms, the first foot is limited, as shown in the following table:—

| | I. | II. | III. | IV. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1. | • • • • | ⏑ – – • \|\| | | |
| 2. | • – ⏑ – / • ⏑ – – | ⏑ ⏑ ⏑ • \|\| | • • • • | ⏑ – ⏑ • \|\| |
| 4. | • – ⏑ – | –, – – • \|\| | | |

The first (typical) form is called Pathyā; the remaining three, called Vipulā, are in the above table arranged in order of frequency of occurrence. Out of 2579 half-verses taken from Kālidāsa (Raghu-vaṃśa and Kumāra-sambhava), Māgha, Bhāravi, and Bilhaṇa, each of the four admissible forms of the śloka in the above order claims the following share: 2289, 116, 89, 85.

In the table a dot indicates an undetermined syllable: a comma marks the caesura.

The end of a pāda coincides with the end of a word (sometimes only with the end of a word in a compound), and the whole śloka contains a complete sentence. The construction does not run on into the next line. Occasionally three half-verses are found combined into a triplet.

B. All Four Pādas identical in Form.

1. Of the numerous varieties developed from the Vedic Triṣṭubh (11 syllables to the pāda), the commonest are—

a. Indravajrā: – – ⏑ | – – ⏑ | ⏑ – ⏑ | – – ||

c. Upajāti (a mixture of the above two):

⏒ – ⏑ | – – ⏑ | ⏑ – ⏑ | – ⏒ ||

e. Rathoddhatā: – ⏑ – | ⏑ ⏑ ⏑ | – ⏑ – | ⏑ – ||

2. The commonest forms of Jagatī (12 syllables to the pāda) are—a. Vaṃśasthā: ⏑ – ⏑ | – – ⏑ | ⏑ – ⏑ | – ⏑ – ||

b. Drutavilambita: ⏑ ⏑ ⏑ | – ⏑ ⏑ | – ⏑ ⏑ | – ⏑ – ||

3. The commonest variety of Śakvarī (14 syllables to the pāda) is—

Vasantatilakā: – – ⏑ | – ⏑ ⏑ | ⏑ – ⏑ | ⏑ – ⏑ | – ⏒ ||

4. The commonest form of Atiśakvarī (15 syllables to the pāda) is—

Mālinī: ⏑ ⏑ ⏑ | ⏑ ⏑ ⏑ | – –, – | ⏑ – – | ⏑ – ⏒ ||

5. The commonest variety of Atyaṣṭi (17 syllables to the pāda) is—

– – – | –, ⏑ ⏑ | ⏑ ⏑ ⏑ | –, – ⏑ | – – ⏑ | – ⏒ ||

6. The commonest form of Atidhṛti (19 syllables to the pāda) is—

Śārdūlavikrīḍita:

– – – | ∪ ∪ – | ∪ – ∪ | ∪ ∪ –, | – – ∪ | – – ∪ | ⏑ ‖

7. The commonest variety of Prakṛti (21 syllables to the pāda) is—

Sragdharā:

– – – | – ∪ – | –, ∪ ∪ | ∪ ∪ ∪ | ∪ –, – | ∪ – – | ∪ – – ‖

II. Metres measured by Morae.

A. Metres in which the sum total only of the morae is prescribed (Mātrā-chandaḥ).

The Vaitālīya contains 30 morae in the half-verse, 14 in the first pāda, 16 in the second. Each pāda may be divided into three feet, the second always consisting of a choriambus, and the third of two iambics; while the first foot in the first pāda consists of a pyrrhic, in the second pāda of an anapaest. The half-verse thus contains 21 syllables. The following is the scheme of the half-verse:—

∪ ∪ | – ∪ ∪ – | ∪ – ∪ ⏑ ‖ ∪ ∪ – | – ∪ ∪ – | ∪ – ∪ ⏑ ‖

B. Metres in which the number of morae in each foot (gaṇa) is specified (Gaṇa-cchandaḥ).

Āryā or Gāthā has $7\frac{1}{2}$ feet to the half-verse, each foot containing 4 morae (=30 morae altogether). The 4 morae may take the form ∪ ∪ ∪ ∪, – –, – ∪ ∪, or ∪ ∪ –; in the 2nd and 4th they may also become ∪ – ∪; in the 6th they appear as ∪ ∪ ∪ ∪ or ∪ – ∪. The 8th foot is always monosyllabic; the 6th of the second half-verse consists of a single short syllable. Hence the second half-verse contains only 27 morae.

APPENDIX III

CHIEF PECULIARITIES OF VEDIC GRAMMAR

1. As several stages can be distinguished in the development of the Vedic language, some of the following statements are strictly applicable only to the Rig-veda, the oldest and most important monument of Vedic literature.

The Alphabet.

2. The sounds are the same as in Sanskrit, with the exception of two additional letters. Cerebral ड़ ḍ and ढ़ ḍh between vowels regularly become cerebral ळ॒ l̤ and ळ्ह॒ l̤h; e.g. ईळे īl̤é = ईडे īḍé, 'I praise'; मीळ्हुषे mīl̤húṣe = मीढुषे mīḍhúṣe, 'to the bountiful.'

Sandhi.

3. A. Vowels. Hiatus is not avoided either within a word, or between the members of a compound, or between the words of a sentence; and, in particular, initial a after e and o (21 a) is only occasionally elided; e.g. sū́riasya, 'of the sun'; su-áśviam, 'wealth in horses'; Váruṇasya Agnéḥ, 'of Varuṇa (and) Agni'; abhí eti, 'he goes towards'; vípro akṣarat, 'the priest poured out.'

a. The e of the pronominal forms (dat., loc.) tvé, 'to or in thee,' asmé, 'to or in us,' yuṣmé, 'to or in you,' remains unchanged before vowels; as does the final o produced by the coalescence of a with the particle u, as in átho (átha u), mó (mā́ u), nó (nā́ u).

B. Consonants. The final syllables ān, īn, ūn, ṝn are treated as if they were āṃḥ, īṃḥ, ūṃḥ, ṝṃḥ (cp. 36, 2, and 45, 1);

i.e. ān becomes āṁ (except in the 3. pl. subjunctive, where it represents an original ānt), while īn, ūn, ṝn become īṁr, ūṁr, ṝṁr; e.g. mahā́ṁ asi, 'thou art great' (but ā́ gacchān úttarā yugā́ni, 'later ages will come'); raśī́ṁr iva, 'like reins.'

a. Sometimes rules which in Sanskrit apply internally only, are extended to the initials of words; e.g. sahó ṣú ṇaḥ (cp. 65, 66).

Declension.

4. A. Endings. Singular. a. Instr. ā is sometimes added to bases in a, less commonly to feminines in ā; e.g. yajñá, m. 'sacrifice,' instr. yajñéna and yajñā́; manīṣā́, f. 'wisdom,' instr. manīṣáyā and manīṣā́. The a of ena is also often lengthened.

Feminines in ī sometimes take ī; e.g. śámī, f. 'work,' instr. śámyā and śámī.

b. Loc. Bases in i take ā, though less commonly than au, while a few take ī; e.g. agní, m. 'fire,' loc. agnaú and agnā́; védi, f. 'altar,' loc. védī.

Bases in -an usually drop the i; e.g. bráhmaṇi and bráhman. These bases never drop the a of the suffix; e.g. rā́jani only (cp. 90 c).

c. Voc. Bases in -mat, -vat, -vas regularly form their vocative in -as; e.g. nom. bhānumā́n: voc. bhā́numas; hárivān: hárivas; cakṛvā́n: cákṛvas.

Dual. a. The nom. acc. voc. take ā more usually than au; e.g. aśvínā, 'the two Aśvins'; dvā́rā, f. 'the two doors'; nadíā, 'the two rivers.' Feminines in derivative ī remain unchanged; e.g. devī́, 'the two goddesses.'

b. The personal pronouns of the 1. and 2. pers. distinguish five cases; e.g. N. yuvám; A. yuvā́m; I. yuvā́bhyām or yuvábhyām; Ab. yuvát; L. yuvós.

Plural. Nom. a. Masculine bases in -a often (feminines in -ā rarely) take āsas beside ās; e.g. mártyāsaḥ, 'mortals.'

b. Feminine bases in derivative ī take s only; e.g. devíḥ, 'goddesses.'

c. Neuters take ā, ī, ū (sometimes shortened to ă, ĭ, ŭ) oftener than āni, īni, ūni; e.g. yugā́, 'yokes' (cp. Lat. juga, Gk. ζυγά).

Instr. Bases in -a take ebhis nearly as often as ais; e.g. devébhiḥ and devaíḥ.

B. Inflexional Type. The main difference in type of declension is in the polysyllabic bases (mostly feminines, with a few masculines) in ī and ū, a considerable number of which are inflected like the monosyllabic bases dhī and bhū (100), excepting the gen. pl., where they take nām. (Bases in derivative ī otherwise for the most part follow nadī and vadhū as in Sanskrit: 100.)

E.g. rathī́, m. 'charioteer'; nadī́, f. 'river'; tanū́, f. 'body.'

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Sing. | N. | rathī́-s | nadī́-s | tanū́-s |
| | A. | rathí-am | nadíam | tanúam |
| | I. | rathíā | nadíā | tanúā |
| | D. | rathíe | nadíe | tanúe |
| | Ab. G. | rathías | nadías | tanúas |
| | L. | — | — | tanúi |
| Du. | N.A.V. | rathíā | nadíā | tanúā |
| Pl. | N.A. | rathías | nadías | tanúas |
| | G. | rathī́-n-ām | nadī́-n-ām | tanū́-n-ām |

Conjugation.

5. Augment. a. This prefix is in some cases permanently long, in others metrically; e.g. á́-var, 3. sg. aorist of vṛ, 'he has covered'; á́-raik (or á-raik), 3. sg. aorist of ric, 'she has given up.'

b. The augment can always be dropped without changing the meaning. Unaugmented forms are, however, often used as injunctives: this use has survived in Sanskrit with the prohibitive particle má́ (128 a).

6. Verbal Prefixes. These generally precede, but sometimes follow the verb. They can be separated from it by particles and other words; e.g. á́ tvā viśantu, 'let them enter thee'; gámad vā́jebhir á́ sá naḥ, 'may he come to us with riches.'

7. Endings. a. The primary termination of the 1. pers. pl. active, -masi, is much commoner than -mas; e.g. i-másі and i-más, 'we go.'

c. The 2. sg. impv. has a not uncommon alternative ending in -tāt (added to the weak base), which expresses an injunction to be carried out in the future; rákṣa-tāt, 'protect'; brū-tāt, 'say'; dhat-tā́t, 'place' (cp. Gk. φερέ-τω, Lat. lege-tōd). It is sometimes used for the 2. du. and pl., or 1. and 3. sg.

8. Reduplication. Many roots reduplicate with a long vowel in the perfect; e.g. dhṛ, 'support': dādhā́r-a; vas, 'shine': vā-vas-e; tu, 'thrive': tū-tā́v-a.

9. Tenses. a. There is a pluperfect, which does not, however, occur often. It is formed from the perfect base (strong in the sg. act., weak elsewhere) by prefixing the augment, and adding the secondary terminations; e.g. from cit, 'appear,' 1. sg. á-ciket-am, 3. á-ciket; 3. pl. á-cikit-us.

b. The periphrastic future does not exist.

10. Moods. a. There is a subjunctive, which is much commoner than the optative. Its meaning is imperative or final; it is also often equivalent to a future indicative. Its base is formed by adding -a to the tense base. In the a-conjugation it therefore ends in ā; e.g. bhávā. In the second conjugation -a is added to the strong base, which remains throughout; e. g. from kṛ, 'do':

kṛṇáv-a. The endings are partly primary, partly secondary. Thus the subjunctive of bhū, 'be,' and su, 'distil,' are formed as follows :—

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Par. | 1. | bhávā-ni | bhávā-va | bhávā-ma |
| | 2. | bhávā-si, bhávā-s | bhávā-thas | bhávā-tha |
| | 3. | bhávā-ti, bhávā-t | bhávā-tas | bhávā-n |
| Ātm. | 1. | bháv-ai | bhávā-vahai | bhávā-mahai |
| | 2. | bhávā-se | bháv-aithe | bhávā-dhvai |
| | 3. | bhávā-te | bháv-aite | bháv-anta |
| Par. | 1. | sunáv-ā-ni | sunáv-ā-va | sunáv-ā-ma |
| | 2. | sunáv-a-s | sunáv-a-thas | sunáv-a-tha |
| | 3. | sunáv-a-t | sunáv-a-tas | sunáv-a-n |
| Ātm. | 1. | sunáv-ai | sunáv-ā-vahai | sunáv-ā-mahai |
| | 2. | sunáv-a-se | sunáv-aithe | sunáv-a-dhvai |
| | 3. | sunáv-a-te | sunáv-aite | sunáv-anta |

b. Not only the present, but the perfect and aorist as well, have all the three moods, subjunctive, optative, and imperative.

E.g. pf. subj. of tud, 'strike': tu-tód-a-t; opt. of vṛt, 'turn': va-vṛt-yā́t; impv. of muc, 'release': mu-mug-dhí; of bhū, 'be': ba-bhū-tu; Ātm. 2. sg. of vṛt: va-vṛt-sva.

Aor. subj. nī, 'lead': 3. sg. néṣ-a-ti or néṣ-a-t; budh, 'wake': bódhiṣ-a-t; vid, 'find': vid-ā́-t; kṛ, 'do': kár-a-ti or kár-a-t. Opt. of vid: vid-ét; aś, 'reach': aś-yā́t; bhaj, 'share': bhakṣīṣṭá. Impv. of av, 'favour': 2. sg. aviḍ-ḍhí, du. aviṣ-ṭám, pl. aviṣ-ṭána; 3. sg. aviṣ-ṭu; sad, 'sit down': 3. sg. sada-tu, du. sada-tām, pl. sadantu; śru, 'hear': 2. śru-dhí, śru-tám, śru-tá; 3. śró-tu, śru-tām, śruv-antu.

11. Participles. In addition to those surviving in Sanskrit the Veda has an aorist participle, both active and middle; e.g. Par., from kṛ, 'do': kr-ánt; gam, 'go': gm-ánt; sthā, 'stand': sthā́nt; Ātm., kṛ: kr-āṇá; budh: budh-āná.

a. The part. in ta-vat is not known to the Rig-veda.

12. Gerunds. In addition to the gerund in -tvā́, there is a commoner one in -tvī́, and a very rare one in -tvā́ya. The vowel of the forms used with prefixes, -ya and -tya, is generally lengthened.

13. Infinitives. About a dozen kinds of infinitives can be distinguished, having the form of an acc., dat., abl., gen., or loc. The last three cases are rare. The vast majority are dat. infinitives, these being about twelve times as common as the acc.

a. The acc. inf. is formed either from the root or from a verbal noun in -tu (the latter being very rare in the Rig-veda); e.g. sam-ídh-am, 'to kindle'; prati-dhā́-m, 'to place upon'; pratíram, 'to lengthen out'; kár-tu-m, 'to make'; bhét-tum, 'to cleave.'

b. The dat. inf. is formed from the root or from verbal nouns in -as, -man, -van, -tu, or -dhi; e.g. dṛ́ś-é, 'to see'; śrád-dhé, 'to believe' (cp. Gk. εἴδεσ-θαι); jīv-ás-e, 'to live'; vid-mán-e (Gk. ἴδ-μεν-αι); dā-ván-e (δοῦναι from δοϝεναι), dā́-tav-e, 'to give'; kár-tav-aí (with double accent), 'to do'; gamá-dhyai, 'to go.'

c. Examples of the other cases are: ava-pád-as, 'to fall down'; nétos, 'to take away'; neṣ-án-i, 'to lead'; dhartári, 'to bestow.'

Prepositions.

14. The genuine prepositions are used only with the acc., loc., and abl. (apart from a few isolated instances of the instr.).

a. With acc. áti, 'beyond'; ádhi, 'on to'; ánu, 'after'; antár, 'between'; abhí, ā́, úpa, práti, 'towards'; pári, 'round'; purás, 'before.'

Accent.

15. The accent is marked in all the texts of the four Vedas, as well as in two Brāhmaṇas. Of the four different systems of marking it, that of the Rig-veda is the most important. Here the chief accent, the acute (udātta, 'raised'), or rising tone, is not marked at all, probably because it comes midway between the grave or low tone (an-udātta) which precedes, and the svarita, or falling tone, which follows it and marks the transition from an accented to a toneless syllable. The anudātta preceding the acute is marked with a horizontal stroke below, and the svarita following it, with a vertical stroke above; e.g. अ॒ग्निना॑ ag-ní-nā̀. The independent svarita (originally also preceded by an acute, which was lost by removal of hiatus) is marked like the enclitic one; e.g. क्वा॑ kvà (= kúà); the anudātta being also indicated under the preceding syllable; e.g. वी॒र्यम् vīryàm. If an independent svarita precedes an udātta it is marked with the numeral १ (1) when the syllable is short, with ३ (3) when it is long, the figure bearing both the svarita sign and the anudātta which precedes the udātta; अ॒प्स्व१॒न्तर् apsv àntár; रा॒यो३॒वनिः rāyò 'váṇiḥ. An accented syllable at the beginning of a line remains unmarked; all grave syllables at the beginning of a sentence preceding an acute must be marked; and all graves following a svarita are left unmarked till the one preceding an acute or svarita; e.g. नमो॑ युजा॒नम् námò yujānám; क॒रि॒ष्यसि॑ kariṣyási.

16. Enclitics. a. The particles iva, u, cid, sma, svid, ha, gha, ca, vā. b. Certain monosyllabic pers. pronouns, me, te, &c. (109 a). c. The demonstrative pron. ena, and īm, sīm. d. The indefinite pronouns tva, 'such'; sama, 'any.'

17. Unaccented Forms. a. The demonstrative pron. a, when unemphatic as replacing a noun; e.g. asya jánimāni, 'his (Agni's) bírths'; but asyā́ uṣásaḥ, 'of thát Dawn.'

b. The vocative loses its accent, unless it begins the sentence, whatever the length of the vocative expression; e.g. ā́ rājānā maha ṛtasya gopā, 'hither, O sovereign guardians of great order.'

18. The employment of the accent in declension and conjugation may be gathered from the paradigms given in the preceding grammar; but the following peculiarities of its use in the sentence should be noted.

a. The vocative is invariably emphasized on the first syllable only, all the other syllables of a complex expression losing their accents; e.g. hótar yaviṣṭha sukrato, 'O most youthful wise sacrificer'; ū́rjo napāt sahasvaḥ (nom. ūrjó nápāt sáhasvān).

b. The finite verb of a principal clause is unaccented, unless it begins the sentence; e.g. Agním īḷe, 'I praise Agni.' As a voc. does not count as a sentence, a verb following it is accented; e.g. áśrut-karṇa, śrudhí́ hávam, 'O thou of listening ears, hear our call.' Since a sentence is regarded as capable of having only one verb, all verbs syntactically relating to the same subject as the first, are accented as beginning new sentences; e.g. taráṇir íj jayati, kṣéti, púṣyati, 'successful he conquers, rules, thrives.'

c. In subordinate clauses (introduced by the relative or its derivatives, and the particles hí, 'for,' ca and ced, 'if,' néd, 'lest') the verb is always accented; e.g. yáṃ yajñáṃ paribhū́r ási, 'what offering thou protectest.' When two principal clauses are in a relation of antithesis, the first is often treated as subordinate, and its verb accented.

d. In principal clauses the verbal prefix is separated from the verb and accented; in subordinate clauses it is compounded with the verb and loses its accent; e.g. ā́ gacchati, 'he comes,' but yá āgácchati, 'he who comes.'

SANSKRIT INDEX

This index contains all Sanskrit words and affixes occurring in the grammar, except the numerals (104–108), unless declined, and the verbs in Appendix I. The former can be found at once owing to their numerical, the latter owing to their alphabetical order. Indifferent words occurring in examples of Sandhi or of Syntax, as well as the metrical terms and the Vedic forms contained in Appendices II and III, are excluded.

The figures refer to paragraphs unless otherwise marked.
